

WELLES' REPORT IS GIVEN TO PRESIDENT IN EXTRAORDINARY SECRET CONFERENCE

Grand Jury Will Examine Records of East Point Klan

IMPERIAL WIZARD ORDERED TO BRING RECORDS TO GROUP

Belief Information Was Destroyed Led Flog Probe Witnesses to Deny Membership.

By WILLARD COPE.

Complete records of membership and activities of the East Point unit of the Ku Klux Klan—heretofore believed destroyed—actually exist and will be presented to the Fulton grand jury today by Imperial Wizard J. A. Colescott in response to a subpoena duces tecum which lists 25 members about whom "all written information" is demanded in connection with the probe of barbarous floggings.

Possession of the records was admitted yesterday by Colescott, but he was unaware as he spoke that a number of known members of the East Point Klan, having been misled by word that proof of their membership no longer existed, had appeared before the grand jury and denied any connection with the group or with floggings.

Thus, an almost certain consequence of the wizard's act was expected to be lodging of perjury charges, in addition to other accusations, against these mistaken witnesses.

The Klan's chief, sitting at the desk of his luxurious office in the "palace," the old regalia factory at 3155 Roswell road, admitted he wasn't taking any chances with possibly jittery followers.

"Until yesterday I had all of the documents right here in my office files," he said. "But I got them out and took them to a safe place. I wouldn't want to have to go down to the grand jury and say, 'I can't produce them because somebody has stolen them.'"

Names Revealed.
First formal revelation of some of the identities with which the grand jury has been concerned was given in the subpoena to Colescott. It specifically referred to "the following persons who are members of the East Point post of the Ku Klux Klan" and listed these names:

Floyd Lee, Raymond Bryan, Wylie Brooks, Richard Quinn, W. W. Scarborough, J. H. Cawthon, H. J. Cawthon, Asa Elliott, Dan Eidson, W. T. Walton, W. C. Bishop, George Cameron, Ed Matthews, Albert McBrayer, Reid Mimms, William J. (Bill) Conger, Bo Yarbrough, Herb Eidson, Edward Burdette, Eddie Lee Bingham, Herchel Holcombe, Charlie Watts, W. C. Amerson, Clifford Golden and Frank A. Burdette.

Cards Surrendered.
Several of the persons listed have given their membership cards voluntarily to authorities and offered help in baring the floggings, of which they strongly disapproved. Their names were included on the subpoena, it was explained, for tactical reasons.

Watts, Amerson, Golden, Bryan and Claud Campbell already are under indictment. Scarborough, Herd Eidson and Edward Burdette are deputy sheriffs who sought and were given indefinite leaves of absence after the flogging scandal broke. Names of various others in the list have been mentioned frequently since the determined inquiry into large-scale outrages was launched after Ike Gaston was found beaten to death March 7 in a lonely field near Ben Hill.

(Additional news about the flogging investigation will be found on Page 14)

BANKER INDICTED ON FUND CHARGE

Herbert Fleishhacker
Also Accused of Causing False Bank Entry.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(P)—Herbert Fleishhacker, west coast financial power, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of misapplication of funds and the causing of a false bank entry.

The indictment charged that Fleishhacker, 68, on October 22, 1937, caused $55,100 to be withdrawn from the account of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in the Anglo California National Bank, and that he put to his own use 10 cashier's checks into which he was alleged to have converted the money.

Fleishhacker was president of the Anglo Bank from 1911 until late in 1938 when he resigned. He and an associate acquired most of the assets of Pacific Mail in 1926. The company gradually was liquidated. The indictment charged Fleishhacker was not empowered to draw on Pacific Mail's account in October of 1937.

Two Men Killed In Truck Accident

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.
McRAE, Ga., March 28.—Two men were killed and two others injured in a two-truck accident this afternoon on U. S. Highway 280 a half-mile west of here, Troopers B. R. Farr and R. L. Crawford reported.

The dead are Bonnie Haralson, 18, of Rebecca, and Billy Powell, 21, of Abbeville, occupants of one of the trucks.

Ed Griffin, of Millen, driver of the other truck, was bruised and cut, and Gen. Williams, Negro, accompanying him, received a broken leg.

The troopers said the accident occurred when Haralson attempted to pass the Griffin truck, which they said was traveling in the center of the highway. The truck bodies brushed each other and both vehicles overturned.

HOUSE REBUKES NLRB AS IT VOTES BILLION-PLUS BILL

Economy Forces Beaten in Approval of Legislation Raising Funds of the CCC and NYA.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(UP)—House economy forces lost the control they exercised throughout the session today when the chamber passed a $1,021,639,700 labor-social security appropriation bill which was $55,651,058 above President Roosevelt's budget estimates.

The increases were in funds for 1941 operations of two relief agencies, the Civilian Conservation Corps and the National Youth Administration. CCC funds were upped $50,000,000 above Mr. Roosevelt's $230,000,000 budget figures, while the NYA was given $17,450,000 more than the $85,000,000 requested.

Rebuke to NLRB.

Passage of the measure also involved an implied rebuke of the National Labor Relations Board and the wage-hour division. The house approved the appropriations committee's action in slicing $337,000 from the $3,100,000 budgeted for the labor board and $1,080,000 from the $6,185,000 budget estimate for wage-hour operations.

A proposal by Representative Abe Murdock, Democrat, Utah, pro-NLRB member of the Smith investigating committee, to restore $248,000 of the NLRB slash was rejected 160 to 90. Many observers interpreted the vote as a good indication that the chamber will approve sweeping amendments to the Wagner act.

Debate over Murdock's proposal developed hot exchanges. Particularly heated was a denunciation of Representative Eugene E. Cox, Democrat, Georgia, a leader of the drive for drastic amendment of the Wagner Act, by Chairman Mary T. Norton, Democrat, New Jersey, of the labor committee.

Accused of "Strike."

Asserting that she was tired of criticism of her group, Mrs. Norton recalled that Cox had accused the committee of staging a "sit-down strike" against amendment of the Wagner Act, and she charged that the rules committee, of which Cox is a member, conducted a "year-long sit-down strike" against enactment of the wage-hour bill.

"We had to resort to a petition to bring his sit-down strike to an end," she added, referring to the refusal of the rules group to permit the then-pending wage-hour bill to come to the house floor for consideration.

Battle of Forest Park High Fought Out at Public Meeting

The battle of Forest Park High school, which began Wednesday with a "strike" in protest against the suspension of three girl students, was fought out at a public meeting of the board of trustees in the school auditorium last night and ended up more or less where it began.

The suspension of Beatrice Sumner, 16; Willie Mae Dockery, 17, and Berna Daniel, 18, remains in effect—at least temporarily—but the trustees agreed that there might be some justification for many parental complaints about the situation in general and promised "closer co-operation" for the future.

Superintendent R. H. Panter suspended the three students for eight days for failure to return on the school bus after a trip to Atlanta. Two others, it later was charged, also failed to return but escaped punishment. This led to Wednesday's "walkout."

RAIL EMPLOYEES, MOTHER OF EIGHT PROTEST PIPE LINE

Highway Board Told
Florida-Chatanooga
Project Would Cause
2,000 To Be Laid Off.

Representatives of railroads, labor organizations and a mother with three of her eight children appeared before the State Highway Board yesterday to protest the construction of a gasoline pipe line from Port St. Joe, Fla., through Georgia to Chattanooga.

It was the second day of the hearing before the board, which is being asked to grant the Southeastern Pipe Line Company permission to lay its pipes beneath state highways. Last Thursday members of the board heard from proponents of the plan.

The hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

Citizens from many parts of the state, both for and against the project, filled the house of representatives, including the gallery, to listen to testimony which was confined to the opposition. Many were unable to find seats.

Tears in Eyes.

With the tearful eyes and a trembling voice, Mrs. F. F. Barlow, of Macon, wife of a railway machinist, gathered her three children around her and appealed to the emotions of the throng by explaining what would happen if her husband were forced out of his job by the construction of the pipe line.

"I have brought three of my eight children along with me," she said. "I want them to have an education, and whether they get it depends upon my husband keeping his job. He has been out of work before, and we had a hard time. He has been a railroad man all his life, and knows nothing else. I can't believe anyone would be so inhuman as to take the bread out of children's mouths."

A bit awed by what was going on, Tracy, 5; Elsie, 8, and Raymond, 10, tugged at their mother's skirt as she told her story. When she had finished, they marched soldier-like back to their seats.

2,000 Jobs Cited.

W. A. Crawford, of Savannah, was another witness, who said he was testifying only as a railway employee who wanted to protect his job.

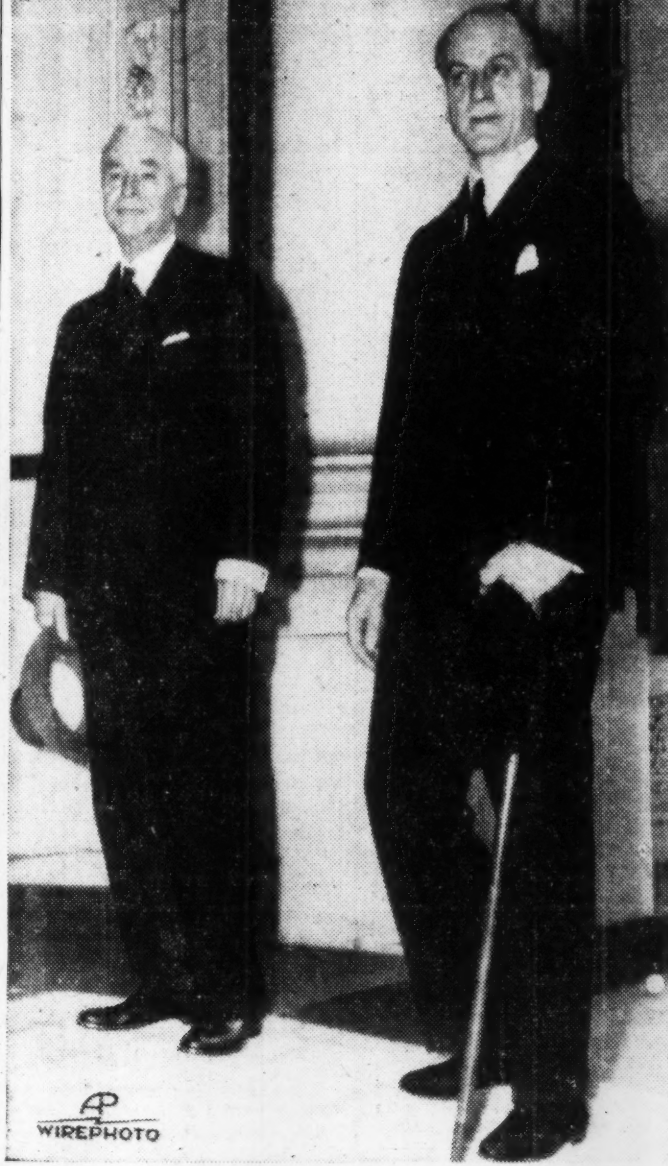

He estimated that if the pipe line were put in competition with the railroads of Georgia, revenue of the railroad would be reduced approximately 10 per cent, resulting in the laying off of approximately 2,000 railway employees.

He emphasized that the pipe line would injure seriously the business of the Southwestern railroad between Albany and Macon and the state-owned Western & Atlantic railroad from Atlanta to Chattanooga, since it would parallel these roads.

Mayor J. Hunter Hopkins, of Brunswick, told the board that the port of Brunswick would lose approximately 42 per cent of its water-borne traffic, or traffic which consists of oil and similar products.

He said the hearing reminded him of a "smart lawyer appearing before a country jury."

(Additional news of the pipe line hearing will be found on Page 14)

EVEN THE CLOSEST OF WHITE HOUSE AIDES ARE BARRED

Information Obtained on Tour Apparently Was Regarded as Too Delicate to Entrust to Code.

By ANDRUE BERDING.

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—In an historic, hour-and-a-half conference, President Roosevelt today received the results of Sumner Welles' fact-finding mission to Europe—and the general opinion here tonight was that the talk could have raised no hopes for an early peace.

Extraordinary secrecy was observed as the President, Secretary of State Hull and Undersecretary Welles put their heads together in the President's second-floor, White House study. All others—even the closest of White House aides—were excluded.

"Nothing to Say."

The only interruption was when Stephen Early, presidential secretary, looked in a moment to obtain the President's approval of a statement drawn up for reporters. This statement said:

"Neither the President, the secretary of state nor the undersecretary of state will have any word to say, following their conference, to the press or to any of their friends or to anyone anywhere."

The information that Welles brought apparently was considered too delicate to entrust even to coded cables. Hull had indicated that Welles had sent none of it ahead of him, but brought it back personally, in his small, brown dispatch case, or in his hand.

"Glad To Be Back."

The undersecretary, looking much better than when he left the capital six weeks ago still suffering from the effects of an attack of bronchitis, told reporters "I am very glad to be back again" and then turned aside all queries.

Welles reached the capital accompanied by Mrs. Welles and by Jay Pierrepont Moffat, chief of the division of European affairs, and Hartwell Johnson, foreign service officer, who went with him on the European tour.

Welles' aides indicated they saw no importance in the fact that Axel Wenner-Gren, prominent Swedish industrialist and reported to be a friend of Hermann Goering, Hitler's right-hand man, was on the same boat with Welles going to Europe, was in Zurich at the same time as Welles and came back to the United States on the same boat.

Praise From Hull.
They said they did not know any reason for the apparent coincidence and did not believe Welles saw Wenner-Gren.

Earlier today Secretary Hull said at the press conference that he thought Welles had carried out his instructions pretty well, and that he would not know what had been accomplished until Welles brought out the physical volumes of it.

Hull said he could not explain the frequent nearness of the Swedish industrialist to Welles. He thought he recalled having met Wenner-Gren two or three times himself.

U. S. WILL DELAY PLANE INCREASE

War Department Decides to Watch Developments, Avoid 'Obsolete' Ships.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(P)—Postponement for two or three years of the army's goal of 5,500 fighting planes by June 30, 1941, was revealed tonight shortly after the senate military affairs committee added its approval to the administration policy of selling newly developed United States warplanes to the Allies.

Abandonment of the 1941 deadline for the army's expansion program was disclosed by General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, who told reporters the War Department had decided to watch new aerial developments in the European war in an effort to avoid stocking up with planes which may become obsolete in a short time.

He pointed out that the deadline was predicated on pre-war conditions, and that subsequent developments—mainly huge aircraft sales to belligerent nations—have so expanded United States airplane production capacity that the army now does not feel it is necessary to have large reserves of aircraft on hand. The government, he pointed out, could take over all of the greatly expanded aircraft production in an emergency.

In this connection, it was learned that President Roosevelt's interdepartmental aircraft co-ordinating committee will meet tomorrow with spokesmen for the aircraft engine and accessory industries.

REPORT NAZI NAVY TO BATTLE BRITISH

Rome Broadcaster Says Fleet Headed for Sea To Meet Enemy.

LONDON, (Friday), March 29. (UP)—London morning newspapers today gave prominent display to reports attributed to a Rome radio broadcast stating that the German fleet was steaming out of Wilhelmshafen to meet British warships massed off the Skagerrak—entrance to the Baltic sea between northern Denmark and southern Norway.

British naval authorities had no comment on the reports other than to say: "We would like very much to know the movements of the German fleet."

(In Berlin an authorized source was "extremely skeptical" of the report and said no information "even faintly resembling" the alleged Rome broadcast had been received.)

The London press reports said the Rome radio announcement quoted unconfirmed reports as asserting that "a strong force of German warships" was preparing to battle the British blockade fleet off the Skagerrak. The German admiralty had ordered all German freighters in these waters to seek shelter in the nearest ports, according to the story.

It has been known for days that a number of British warships are operating off the Skagerrak as part of Britain's effort to halt German shipments of ore from Sweden through Norwegian coastal waters.

German attacks on the blockading British vessels, it was believed, would be confined to air and submarine operations.

Restraint of Trade Charged to Groups

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—A federal grand jury today indicted 18 individuals, five associations of electrical employers, and Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers on charges of 10 conspiracies to restrain trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

SLOT MACHINES SEIZED.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Continuing a drive against gambling, Augusta police seized 69 pinball and slot machines in one Ninth street establishment.

FATHER EXECUTED IN DEATH OF GIRL

New Jersey Polish Clergyman Convicted of Insurance Murder Plot.

TRENTON, N. J., March 28.—(P)—The Rev. Walter Dworecki, 43, Polish Baptist clergyman, died tonight in New Jersey's electric chair for plotting the murder of his 18-year-old daughter, Wanda, for her insurance.

Mumbling "Holy Father, save my soul" and "I give unto His name my soul," Dworecki walked to the chair unassisted. He grimaced several times as electrodes were attached and mumbled prayers.

Dworecki was convicted last October, 5 of hising Peter Shewchuk, 31-year-old circus roustabout and former boarder in the Dworecki home, to kill the girl.

Her body was found early on the morning of August 8, 1939, in a rain-soaked patch of weeds.

CCC CLOSING DELAYED.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Proposed closing of the Conservation Corps Camp at Fort Pulaski, originally set for April 1, has been postponed until April 15. The CCC boys there played an important part in restoring the historic old fort and making it a mecca for coastal tourists.

Papy Cites Youth's Duty at Annual Banquet of Alumni.

The duty of Atlanta's youth to build for the future of a bigger and better city last night was pointed out by E. S. Papy, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, speaking at the fourth annual alumni dinner of Commercial High school.

Declaring the present high status of Atlanta is the result of the individual efforts of men and women, he urged that the tradition of growth be followed by this generation.

Other speakers were E. L. Floyd, principal of the school; Mary Ginn and James Grice, copresidents of the student body, and I. J. Bailey, president of the alumni association. A community sing led by "Nabor" Faber Bollinger and Forest Traylor was a feature of the entertainment, which also included music by the Commercial High band.

The banquet, held at a hotel, was followed by a dance.

MRS. FIERMONTE, 47, DIES IN PALM BEACH

Widow of John Jacob Astor Took Italian Boxer for Third Husband.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 28.—(P)—Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, 47, wealthy socialite and widow of Colonel John Jacob Astor, died last night at her Palm Beach winter home.

She had a spectacular marital career. At the age of 18, just out of finishing school, she married the elderly Colonel Astor in September, 1911, at Newport, R. I. A year later, they were in the Titanic disaster when the great luxury liner struck an iceberg in mid-Atlantic with the loss of 1,517 lives.

Colonel Astor went down with the ship. His widow, rescued, gave birth a few months later to their child, John Jacob Astor. Her health was seriously affected.

In 1916 she was married to William K. Dick, wealthy New York banker. She had two children, William and John Henry, by this marriage, which ended in a Reno divorce after 17 years.

Her third marriage, in 1933, was to Enzo Fiermonte, an Italian pugilist who was 26, 14 years her junior. After a tempestuous five years, she divorced him in June, 1938.

TO DREDGE HARBOR.

Miss Ruth M. McClelland, president of the National Women's Overseas Service League, was honored by the Atlanta branch of the organization at a dinner held last night.

Miss McClelland, who served in France with the Y. M. C. A. during the World War, reported on the work done by the league in aiding refugees in Europe and in helping impoverished women "veterans." The national group now has approximately 2,500 members, she said.

Head of the history department at Fairmont Junior College, Washington, she is making a tour of league branches in the southeastern states.

Diary of Doctor Who Followed Sherman's March Is Sent Here

Atlanta Destruction Saddened Yankee Surgeon.

By DEEZY SCOTT.

A Yankee surgeon's day-by-day account of his experiences in the hospital corps of Sherman's army during the general's march to the sea was received yesterday by Mrs. J. E. Hays, state historian, for the State Department of Archives. It is the first and only Yankee diary to be placed in Rhodes Memorial Hall.

The book is a copy of three notebooks kept by Dr. E. P. Burton, surgeon seventh regiment, third Illinois brigade. The notebooks are now owned by the physician's daughter, and the copy was sent to Georgia by the Des Moines, Iowa, Historical Record Survey.

After spending some time in Tennessee and Alabama, Dr. Burton described the exodus from Rome, Ga., November 7, 1864, thus:

"The country is light with the burning of Rome... it seemed melancholy to see the property being destroyed, it is against orders, but the soldiers want to see it burn..."

Goes to Acworth.

He then follows Sherman, with the hospital corps, to "the smoking ruins of Acworth," and to Big Shanty, which he also found burned. On arrival at Kennesaw, Dr. Burton writes that he could not lose the opportunity to visit the mountain made "not only historical, but sacred by so many valorous and patriotic deaths."

Then, still in the path burned by Sherman, he found smoldering Marietta and writes: "Within a few miles of the river we came to extensive fortifications. For nearly two miles was a continuous line of breastworks on the summit of a ridge—they were earthworks crowned by heavy stakes. Our boys knew too much to charge 't'ose, but they flanked them."

And here is the entry in Dr. Burton's diary of November 15, 1864, the day he reached Atlanta:

"... marched seven miles to Atlanta. At this place I beheld a sight—one of the most remarkable I ever saw. Three miles from A. we commenced to come among the rifle pits of the Federals. Half that distance was dug up by the Federals and the other half was dug up by the Rebels and near town in the N. West side (where we entered) were miles of strong breastworks with palings of sharpened posts, some of the way sharp stakes set slanting and brush tangled in with great care.

"It would have been almost impossible to have taken them from the front. Stayed in town all day loading trains. Many houses had been burned and all day long the kept increasing in number. The sight was magnificent and melancholy in the extreme, I think by dark all the public buildings and stores, with many of the residences, had been destroyed."

At Court House.
"Visited the top of the court house and had a fine view. Clouds of smoke, however, obscured the whole northern view. Left town about sundown. As we left town the quartermasters were throwing the clothing into the streets for the boys, rather than have them burned up as the flames rapidly approached..."

Dr. Burton's account of the war tells of his hunger, which was vanquished with "3000 veal and sweet potatoes foraged on the road near Jonesboro. And he tells of a rustic church, where a handful of men, boys, girls and "two or three seedy-looking pharisees" worshipped. One entry relates the arrival of a barrel of whisky, which brought forth the usual amount of drinking, drunkenness and fighting, and "also silly officers laying around." He calls these drunks "men in liquor."

A good part of the 92-page diary is devoted to the contraband camps, with Negroes "laying around on their goods, some asleep and some nodding." And one of the highest tributes he pays the south is the mention of the beauty of the country as he saw it, following the deep scar burned by Sherman.

EDITOR'S WIFE IS HURT WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
MADISON, Ga., March 28.—Mrs. W. T. Bacon, wife of the editor of the Madisonian, was painfully injured here tonight when struck by an automobile as she left the First Methodist church, where she had attended a wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Bacon did not require hospital treatment. Assistant Police Chief C. B. Patrick arrested Foster Kimbrough, 19, filling station employee, on a charge of reckless driving.

TARDY TAXPAYERS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Tomorrow Last Day to Claim Homestead, Personal Exemptions.

Fulton and DeKalb county taxpayers who desire to claim homestead and personal property exemptions on their 1940 tax returns must do so by tomorrow, Guy Moore, Fulton county tax receiver, and Homer H. Howard, DeKalb county tax commissioner, warned yesterday.

They pointed out that while returns may be made up until May 1 without penalty, the law setting up the exemptions fixed the last day of March as the deadline for claiming the exemptions.

Closing Hours.
The Fulton county tax receiver's office will close at noon tomorrow, while the DeKalb county office will remain open until 2 o'clock.

Tomorrow also is the final day for paying special state occupational and professional taxes without penalty. The penalty is 10 per cent.

Commissioner Howard also warned that poll taxes for 1939 and all prior years must be paid by May 4, which is the last day of registration in DeKalb county. Commissioner Howard made clear that 1940 poll taxes need not be paid at that time in order to register, but that all prior years were due.

Increase Shown.
Mrs. M. B. Walker, county registrar for the past 15 years, said she expected more than 15,000 registrations this year, which would increase the rolls by 2,000 voters.

Residents are coming in at the rate of 100 each week, she said, the biggest rush since she has served in the county. She attributed the large registration to the influx of residents from other states and an interest in the 1940 presidential elections.

BOND ISSUE SOUGHT AT STONE MOUNTAIN

Funds Would Provide Improvements for Two School Buildings.

A petition seeking a $30,000 bond issue election for elementary and high school building improvements is being circulated in Stone Mountain, it was announced yesterday by William Rainey, superintendent of DeKalb county schools.

The bond issue, if adopted, will be matched by $45,000 in federal funds and will be used for the purchase of six acres of land adjoining the Stone Mountain high school building, the complete renovation of the building, the addition of four classrooms and the erection of an auditorium.

Funds also would be spent to erect an auditorium adjacent to the elementary school building and to add four classrooms to that structure, Rainey said. The auditoriums would seat about 400 persons each.

Members of the Stone Mountain school district trustees, who ordered the petition circulated upon the request of local citizens, are A. G. Spain, chairman; Tom Rollins, C. D. Moore and L. L. Langford.

Red Cross Drive Nears Climax; Booths Open for Public's Gifts

Culbwomen Will Aid Campaign Forces Downtown.

The annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross is on the home stretch with just six days left to reach its goal. When you see a Red Cross booth—JOIN.

Miss Byrd Blankenship, chairman of the booths division, reported that more than 100 prominent Fulton and DeKalb clubwomen will take their position today in the front lines of the drive. Booths located in banks, hotels and department stores will be open for the next four days in order that every citizen of the two counties will be given the opportunity to step up and enlist in the great humanitarian institution.

Miss Blankenship urged everyone to "join when you see a booth." Dollar memberships will insure everyone in Fulton and DeKalb counties against disaster, disease and distress for the next year.

At the close of business yesterday, reports credited the various divisions as follows:

BRITISH ENVOY SEES HARMONY IN JAPAN

Constructive Statesmanship Can Solve Problem, Says Ambassador.

TOKYO, March 28.—(P)—Britain's ambassador told an audience of highly-placed Japanese today that "it is not beyond the powers of constructive statesmanship to bring the aims" of British and Japanese policy into "full harmony."

Delivered against the background of months of bitter British-Japanese hostility, especially in China, the speech of the ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, aroused comment by its tone, considered unusually conciliatory. He said there had been serious differences of purpose and outlook between the two great maritime empires, "but what has struck me most is the extent to which the real differences have been overlaid by a mass of misunderstanding, misrepresentation and all too often fostered by the unwelcome attentions of interested third parties."

The ambassador's speech, the most notable British effort in recent months to placate the Japanese, was interpreted in diplomatic circles as an extension into the Far Eastern field of the diplomatic phase of the European war.

White and Yolk Are Separated By Two-Egg Hen

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
COVINGTON, Ga., March 28.—This might get H. S. Dobbs, of route 4, Covington, in Dutch with the government for overproduction, but anyway it is a good news story.

Mr. Dobbs has a hen on his farm which lays two eggs each day during the spring season and, at the same time, separates the yellows from the whites.

The hen started this new-style laying last spring and apparently liked it so well she's doing it again. The new "yellow egg" or "white egg" is just perfect for cake baking, Dobbs says. The hen, however, falls down on part of the job—all the eggs are softshell.

“Man who get 2 trousers always have ace up sleeve”

That reminds us of a story. About Egbert Millionbucks. Egbert was a collector—of Chinese pottery, gilt-edge bonds, and odd coats-and-vests. Show him a vase of the Ming dynasty, and he'd rush to clip a fistful of coupons. Egbert really enjoyed life—until he opened his wardrobe door. Then he'd see red. That collection of perfectly good coats-and-vests—without trousers—burned him plenty. ★ Well, one day Egbert decided to end it all. Being bond-minded (as we said before), he exposed himself to a couple of Bond suits. Gone was Egbert's headache. Gone the "skeletons" in his closet. Gone the waste of half-worn suits with all-worn trousers. You're right, Bond's extra trousers did it. Now Egbert has more money for his Chinese bric-a-brac, too. ★ Moral, do like Egbert. Play safe with an ace up your sleeve! Go to Bond's—where every suit has 2 trousers. Get double wear. Cut pressing bills in half. You'll pay no more—but you'll get a heap of extra mileage for your money, always!

RIVERS WILL TAKE FEW DAYS' REST

Governor Goes to Alabama on Doctor's Advice.

By The Associated Press.

Upon advice of his physician that he relax for a few days, Governor Rivers left Atlanta late yesterday for a brief rest at a mineral springs resort near Cottonwood, Ala.

The chief executive has been in good health since a serious attack of a kidney ailment while he was in California three years ago to speak at a national meeting of the Woodmen of the World. On that occasion, Senate President John P. Spivey, who flew to the coast to see Rivers, said upon his return "we almost did not have a governor."

Rivers expects to return to his office Monday or Tuesday.

$500,000 PROJECT FOR STREET WORK IS SOUGHT BY CITY

Application Filed With WPA; Designation of Specific Improvements To Be Made Later.

Plans for a new $500,000 street repair and improvement program for downtown Atlanta were announced yesterday by Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction for the city. He told members of the public works committee that he already has filed another application with WPA in an effort to expedite approval. Designations of definite projects will be made later, he said.

At the same time, Councilman George B. Lyle, committee chairman, and Donaldson agreed to ask city council Monday to provide $10,000 immediately for the proposed widening of Fair street from Whitehall street to Capitol avenue.

The decision to seek a wide program of street repairs came as Councilman John A. White, chairman of a special council committee, announced Robert L. MacDougall, Georgia WPA administrator, has agreed that the federal government is prepared to expend $2,000,000 on Atlanta improvements within from three to five years if the municipality co-operates fully.

Mentioned specifically as preferential projects in the conversations between White and MacDougall were widening, paving, and extension of streets, construction of bridges and underpasses, libraries, school construction, park developments, auditorium improvements, hospital additions, and improvements to firehouses.

Mayor Hartsfield pointed out that, within the next two weeks, the city should have a newly purchased asphalt plant in operation for the first time in the past several years, and that a break in consistently inclement weather would enable the construction department to begin an extensive street repair program.

The city already is engaged in replacing wooden paving blocks with modern pavement on 11 central street stretches at a cost of about $100,000, including WPA contributions.

EMERGENCY AIRPORTS PICKED NEAR CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(P) Army precautions for defense of the national capital, congressional sources said today, include acquisition of a series of emergency landing fields for American planes.

Scattered within a radius of about 50 miles of the city, the fields could be made ready for use in about a day if an emergency arose. Selection of the fields was described as purely a preparedness measure.

Dr. Max Cutler, world renowned cancer authority and one of Georgia's most famous sons, is shown on arrival here last night. Dr. Cutler immigrated to Georgia from Russia as a boy of eight and graduated from the University of Georgia at 18.

Larynx Cancers May Be Cured, Voices Saved, Dr. Cutler Says

Former Georgian, Now Noted Specialist, Visits Atlanta.

Dr. Max Cutler, the Russian immigrant's son who emerged from the American melting pot as one of the world's foremost cancer authorities, has tidings of life for those thousands whose neglected "throat tickling and hoarseness" develops suddenly into incurable cancer of the larynx.

Natally dressed, and in physical trimness inviting the confidence of the ailing, Dr. Cutler spoke briefly but enthusiastically about his latest research on arrival here by train from Cleveland last night.

Under the youthful Dr. Cutler's direction and supervision, a combination X-ray and radium technique has been developed which will cure cancer of the vocal box without destroying the vocal cords. That is, provided the treatments are begun in time.

Voices Were Lost.
The adopted Georgian explained that cancer of the larynx had been arrested before with the aid of surgery, but not without loss of the voice.

Perfection of the treatment is the result of joint collaboration of the Chicago Tumor Institute and the Hines Veterans' hospital. Dr. Cutler heads both institutions. The Hines hospital is the largest cancer institution in the world, with a 500-bed capacity.

Thousands unknowingly have cancer of the larynx, dismissing the telling symptom, hoarseness, as a slight cold, Dr. Cutler said. By the time they awaken to the fact they have cancer it is too late.

"If a person has a hoarseness for more than three weeks he should be examined by a physician. Every time we have found a case within the first two or three months' stage we have completely effected a cure," the surgeon declared.

Dr. Cutler will present the results of 300 such treatments before the American Medical Association in New York in June.

Early Treatment.
"Cancer increases proportionately with old age," Dr. Cutler explained. "Science has saved people from infectious disease deaths, only to see them die with cancer. If we can get to cancer early enough, we can cure it. After it enters the advanced stages, the cure is in the hands of the Divine Authority."

He laughingly declared death is a race between heart diseases, kidney ailments, cancer and auto accidents for the privilege of killing humans, with cancer gaining every year.

"This is due to the fact that old people are more susceptible to cancer, and if something else hasn't killed them, cancer does," Dr. Cutler added.

The surgeon and his wife will be the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cutler, 97 Atlanta avenue, S. E., over the week end.

The youthful scientist came to this country as a lad of eight, and after a year spent in New York his family moved to Athens, Ga., where the boy raced through the prescribed high school studies and completed his degree requirements at the University of Georgia by the time he was 18.

Later he studied at Johns Hopkins University and with Curie Institute in Paris. Since then, he has risen rapidly in surgical fields and has specialized in cancer work. His home now is in Chicago, where he is head of the Chicago Tumor Institute and a professor at Northwestern University.

NAZIS DROP BOMBS ON BRITISH CONVOY

Several Ships Reported Hit; French Destroyer Attacked in Channel.

BERLIN, March 29.—(Friday) (P)—D. N. B., the German news agency, announced early today that the German air force last night had "successfully" attacked a British convoy near the Shetland islands and a French destroyer in the English channel.

The convoy split up after the attack, D. N. B. said, but a number of the ships were hit by the bombs.

Earlier in the day, the announcement continued, German planes carried out "extensive reconnaissance flights" over the North sea, Great Britain and France, ranging as far as the Orkneys and the Shetland islands. Two planes failed to return.

DUTCH ATTACK PLANE, BRITISH FLYER KILLED.

THE HAGUE, March 28.—(UP) Dutch pursuit planes shot down a British bomber in flames today, killing one of the crew, and anti-aircraft batteries at Amsterdam were believed to have hit another foreign plane.

The bomber was brought down four miles west of Rotterdam, after Netherlands fighting planes had attempted to force it down for violation of Dutch neutrality.

One of the five occupants jumped from the bomber in a parachute, but landed dead of a machine gun bullet wound. Another Britisher was wounded slightly and was interned with his three comrades.

BROTHERS' BAIL PLEA WEIGHED BY JUDGE

ABBEVILLE, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Judge O. T. Gower, of Cordele circuit court, took under advisement today arguments for bail in the case of Howard and Jack Roberson, brothers, charged with the slaying of Policeman S. J. Rhodes the night of Sunday, February 25.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Cobb at the time of the slaying said Rhodes was shot at a filling station as the result of an old quarrel over the killing of a dog, plus recent election bitterness.

Trial has been set for the regular term of Wilcox county court starting May 7.

New Allied Sternness to Reds Held Sign of Readiness for War

Mackenzie Says Fear of Soviet Actions Has Lessened.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Britain's detention of Russian ships in the Pacific for search, over Soviet protest, combines with the French demand for the recall of Muscovite Ambassador Surits to form a pattern of increasing Allied firmness towards the Bolsheviks.

In fact these evidences of a hardening policy are such strong mustard that it is justifiable to interpret them in the nature of a warning—almost one of those knock-that-chip-off-my-shoulder affairs.

Further confirmation that England and France are turning the searchlight on the Bolsheviks comes from London this morning in the news that the Allies are arranging immediate consultations which will pay much attention to Russia's position.

While the present purpose of the Anglo-French brotherhood would seem to be to push Russia back into a greater degree of neutrality, I believe we can at least assume that they have passed the point where they are experiencing real anxiety to keep the Reds out of the war.

That is to say, the Allies are prepared to accept with equanimity what fate brings—Russia in the conflict, or Russia out.

If Russia would withdraw to absolute neutrality it might well suit the Allied program. But as between a Russia which is serving Germany and a Russia actually in the war there are arguments in favor of the latter position.

Were Russia actually in the conflict she not only would be unable to provide Nazidom with supplies, but would be burning up her own resources. The Allies also would have an excuse to try to capture the rich Soviet oil wells in the Baku region—petroleum upon which Hitler is banking much for war purposes.

Moreover, there is considerable support in both England and France for the idea that the Anglo-French brotherhood will have to throw up a dyke against the Communist wave anyway, and that the sooner they get about the business the better.

WPA GIVES FULTON FUNDS FOR GRADY

$154,844 Medical Social Service Allotment To Supplement Clinics.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS, Staff Correspondent.

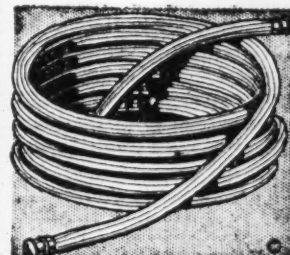

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Works Progress Administration today announced presidential approval of an allotment of $154,844 to Fulton county for operation of a medical social service in conjunction with Grady hospital.

In a letter to Representative Robert Ramspeck, of Georgia, announcing the allotment, WPA officials here said the fund would be used in demonstrating the need for a department of the kind at Grady hospital in following up obstetrical, pediatric, cardiac and venereal cases treated in the Atlanta clinics, supplementing existing services in white and Negro clinics.

Another allotment of $28,463 was made to Fulton county to "salvage, clean, sort, arrange, refile and preserve federal CWA, ERA and WPA records pertaining to the operation of these agencies in Georgia." The national archives was listed as sponsor.

U. S. CLIPPER MAIL SEIZED BY BRITISH AT BERMUDA AGAIN

Plane Searched When Unscheduled Stop Is Made for Refueling; Captain Makes Protest.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—Pan-American Airways said today that some mail was taken by British authorities from the west-bound Atlantic Clipper when it made an unscheduled landing at Bermuda this morning to refuel.

Private informants said the mail seized amounted to 1,600 pounds—more than half of the Clipper's total consignment.

Returning passengers said on their arrival here late in the day that their luggage was not searched. They added that the plane's captain made a formal protest in submitting to the seizure.

Pan-American said no force was employed.

It was the first mail-carrying Clipper to land in Bermuda since Pan-American omitted that island as a port of call on March 15. This omission followed by a few days disclosures that a consignment of United States mail was seized by British marines on January 18.

When the Atlantic Clipper landed at Bermuda, its fuel was exhausted, but headwinds on the flight from the Azores had used up more than normal.

Members of the Battlefield Parks committee of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the county planning commission for aid in developing metropolitan Atlanta's battlefield. The commission agreed to recommend a $300 appropriation for employment of Wilbur Kurtz to make a thorough study of the sites. Members of the delegation are, left to right, B. M. DuBose, Franklin Garrett, Judge Walter C. Hendrix, F. H. Roberts and W. R. Ulrich, executive secretary, Chamber of Commerce. Seated at the table are, left to right, Walter McNeal, Frank Neely, Courtland Gilbert and Robert L. MacDougall, all members of the commission.

At the STATE CAPITOL

Maxwell Halsey, associate director of the Yale University bureau for traffic and street research, will address highway department heads and engineers at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Henry Grady hotel. W. B. Brantley, highway engineer, will preside.

M. C. Bishop, director of the division of traffic and safety of the Highway Department, also will speak.

Dean Paul W. Chapman, of the University of Georgia College of Agriculture, will be guest of honor at the annual livestock show sponsored by the Saddle and Siroin Club of Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College Friday, April 12, at the S. V. Sanford announced yesterday.

Representatives Alton Harvey, of Thomaston, and Allen Chappell, of Americus, were visitors to the Governor's office yesterday.

Jerome Clements, of Calhoun, led a delegation which conferred yesterday with Governor Rivers.

John B. Spivey, president of the senate, and Roy V. Harris, speaker of the house of representatives, were seen in the capitol yesterday.

Sheriff Fort Tarver, of Albany, also called at the executives offices during the day.

Will Riley and "Papa" George, of the division of traffic and safety of the State Highway Department, yesterday spoke at a meeting of the Austell-Clarkdale Rotary Club.

Governor Rivers yesterday proclaimed April 6 "Army Day," and requested that schools, other public institutions and patriotic organizations display the United States flag and sponsor appropriate exercises.

H. B. Merriam, state supervisor of CCC selection, announced yesterday that congressional action in adding $50,000,000 to CCC appropriations would probably result in all Georgia CCC camps remaining open.

TO PREACH FOR NEGROES. CORNELIA, Ga., March 28.—A white minister, the Rev. George W. Davis, will preach Sunday afternoon at the Shady Grove (Negro) Baptist church, the Rev. G. H. Hubert announced today. A chorus representing six churches will furnish music.

Century-Old Ferrell Gardens Will Be Opened by Callaways

Two-Day Public Inspection To Help Girl Scout Program.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION. LAGRANGE, Ga., March 28.—The century-old Ferrell gardens, part of Hills and Dales, estate of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller E. Callaway Jr., will be open to the public Saturday and Sunday, April 6 and 7, under the sponsorship of the junior section of the LaGrange Woman's Club, and visitors from all over the state are expected to visit the historically famous gardens. Originated more than 100 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Mickleberry.

Ferrell, enlarged by the late Sarah Coleman and Blount Ferrell and more recently by the late Mr. and Mrs. Fuller E. Callaway Sr., the gardens, whose formal lines are examples of Italian renaissance design, form an ideal setting for the Italian villa that is the Callaway home.

The chief interest in the garden is its age and its rare collection of boxwood, hollyhocks, beeches and shrubs. A "lovers' lane" bordered with giant boxwood leads to the west garden, where dwarf hedge boxwood fashions the Ferrell motif. "God is Love," and "Flat Jitsu," and the Callaway coat of arms motto "Ora Pro M." and "St. Callaway." Planted in boxwood are found such designs as a butterfly, a cross, a clover leaf, a bunch of grapes. An unusual planting of boxwood in the southwest corner of the garden represents a cathedral whose pipe-organ, pulpit, benches and harp contribute to the atmosphere of a beautiful sanctuary.

The most spectacular sight is the wisteria in full bloom at this season. Giant vines of white and lavender blossoms grow high in the trees to form a colorful bower over the entire garden.

Countries Represented. Rare trees and shrubs from distant countries add interest to the gardens. Among them are to be found the shittim wood from the Holy Land, a giant Australian Cunninghamia whose foliage is renewed every 12 years, a gingko tree from Japan, a linden from Germany, weeping cherry trees from the East, tea bushes from China, European larches, cryptomerias, aged cedars and magnolias, hawthorns, tea olives, banana shrubs, dogwood and a host of others.

Lending color to the gardens are the hedges of camellia japonica and spirea and the beds of tulips and azaleas.

The gardens will be open between the hours of 10 and 6 o'clock Saturday and from 2 until 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Proceeds will be used to carry forth the recently organized Girl Scout activities being sponsored in LaGrange by the junior section of the Woman's Club.

WITH THE CONSTITUTION STAFF

George H. Broadnax, agent in charge of the Atlanta office of the United States secret service, will address a luncheon meeting of Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at 1071 Piedmont avenue. His subject will be "Counterfeit Money."

Ruth Valentine Tedrick will speak on "Do We Receive Messages From Hell?" in the dedication service of the Spiritualist Science church at the Henry Grady hotel at 7:45 o'clock Sunday Night. Aida Frances Brown, who assists her, said the name of the church has been changed from the First Spiritualist Church of Jesus Christ to the Spiritualist Science church.

Second Lieutenant Wego Chiang of the Chinese army will enroll as a student this April at the army air corps tactical school at Maxwell field, Alabama, fourth corps area headquarters announced yesterday.

First Lieutenant Francis McD. Oliver, of Savannah, now on duty at Fort Oglethorpe, will be assigned as a student to the cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kan., fourth corps area headquarters reported.

Cantor Aaron Hoffman, of Malden, Mass., will chant the Sabbath services Friday evening at 6 o'clock, March 29, at 8 o'clock, Saturday morning, according to Abe Auerbach, president of Congregation Shearith Israel, at 500 Washington street.

R. D. Powell, of Murphy Junior High school, is in Birmingham, Ala., attending the southern meeting of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which will adjourn tomorrow.

Sally Saver's weekly spring cooking class will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Lena H. Cox school in Grove Park. Mrs. R. C. Farr is in charge of arrangements. The classes are sponsored by The Constitution.

Dr. O. M. Seigler, pastor of First Baptist church, Canton, Ga., will conduct a revival at the Hapeville

First Baptist church beginning Sunday. Services will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 o'clock at night. Rev. Z. E. Barron is pastor of the church.

Citizenship meeting will be held by Ben Hill Lodge No. 674, F. & A. M., at the hall on Campbellton road at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Greenfield Masonic chorus will present a musical program, and Sam Cohen will be principal speaker.

Mrs. Annie Laura Greiner, an outstanding missionary from India, will speak Sunday morning at the Hapeville Methodist church. She will be presented by the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Wilson.

W. Eugene Harrington, insurance executive, will address the Atlanta Chapter, Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants, at the group's dinner meeting at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Robert Fulton hotel.

Governor Rivers is scheduled to speak at 3 o'clock services Sunday at the First Baptist church, 1071 Piedmont avenue, Peachtree and Linden streets.

April Fool's party will be given by the general continuation department for adults of the Atlanta Opportunity school at 8 o'clock Monday night in the school building.

Bank clearings yesterday totaled $9,000,000, a gain of $300,000 over the same day last year, the Atlanta Clearing House Association reported.

Mrs. Ruth Campbell, secretary of the Crippled Children's Society of Fulton County, will address the Atlanta Masonic Club at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon in Rich's ballroom.

John W. Mitchell, of 149 Peachtree circle, and Herbert W. Shingler Jr., of Ashburn, have been appointed captain and sergeant major of the flying cadet battalion at Randolph field, Texas.

Series of lectures at Gammon Theological Seminary and Clark University by A. K. Nyabongo, of Uganda, Africa, will begin today and continue through Sunday.

At the COURTHOUSE
Senator Everett Mitchell was a courthouse visitor yesterday, calling on Frank Fling, secretary to the county commission.

Miss Lora Paschal, a member of the solicitor general's staff, was back at work yesterday after a two-day illness.

Judge A. L. "Jack" Etheridge, of the Fulton superior court, is confined to his home with a throat infection.

Ben F. Prickett, justice of the peace and president of the Orchard Knob Community and Civic Club, called on friends at the courthouse yesterday.

Found guilty on two counts of bookmaking, Morris Friedman, 33, was sentenced to serve 24 months on the public works by Judge Jesse Wood in Fulton criminal court yesterday.

Sixty-four uncontested divorce cases are scheduled for hearing this morning in Fulton superior court's weekly divorce mill.

A "no man's land" atmosphere is developing around the third floor of the Fulton county courthouse as the result of the flogging investigation by the grand jury. Courthouse employees laughingly refer to it as that and then add: "I'm not going down there because somebody might identify me."

COMMUNITY FUND TALK OPENS TODAY

Miss Angela Cox, Earl Lippincott To Speak This Morning.

Miss Angela Cox, executive director of the Family Welfare Society, and Earl Lippincott, of the Atlanta Social Planning Council, will address the first annual Southern Conference of Community Chests and Councils at 10 o'clock this morning at the Biltmore hotel.

More than 75 persons, representing all southeastern states, will attend the conference. Tom Carroll, of Charlotte, N. C., will preside over the two-day session.

Lamb Kay, chairman of the Social Planning Council, will preside at a luncheon and business meeting at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

G. K. Selden, chairman of the Community Fund board of Trustees; Cherry Emmerson and the Rev. R. Wiley Scott, pastor of Central Congregational church, will speak at the panel discussion on the value of social planning tomorrow.

The point of view of the Community Fund with regard to social planning will be outlined by Selden. Emmerson will speak on the viewpoint of the taxpayer, while the Rev. Mr. Scott will discuss social planning from the outlook of the general public.

Oliver M. Healey will preside over a forum on the value of social service exchanges with special emphasis given the desirability of a state-wide exchange service at 10:45 o'clock tomorrow morning.

At the CITY HALL

Parks department equipment valued at from $10,000 to $12,000 will be purchased by the city purchasing committee Monday, according to announcement yesterday by Lloyd A. Walker, purchasing agent. Among items included are 18 lawn mowers and cutters, and fencing and top soil for the Joel Hurt Memorial Park, fronting the municipal auditorium.

Miss Collette Daniels, dental hygienist at the city hall, yesterday was boasting the second namesake in the past two months. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fuller, of East Point, have named their young daughter, Jenny Collette, in Miss Daniels' honor, and previously Miss Daniels' twin sister, Mrs. M. W. Oberg, of Minneapolis, named her daughter Judy Collette.

Mayor Hartsfield's check-signing work was nearer a solution yesterday. A machine for affixing the mayor's signature to checks arrived at the city hall, but the plate bearing the signature is still in transit. Several weeks ago the mayor complained about the time required to sign checks and asked that a signer be purchased.

Former Councilman Aubrey Milam, secretary to the Atlanta Personnel Board, yesterday developed pneumonia along with other complications at his home, 12 South Prado. He was too ill to be moved to a hospital, but attending physicians said his condition "is as well as we can expect at this time."

Only routine matters are slated for consideration at the semi-monthly meeting of city council's police at 7:30 o'clock tonight, it was announced by Lieutenant C. D. Hardeman, committee secretary.

Little Miss Dorothy White, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. John A. White, 301 McKenzie drive, N. E., is recuperating from an attack of measles. White told members of city council's public works committee yesterday.

Mayor Hartsfield, W. Zode Smith, general manager of waterworks, and Carl T. Sutherland, city personnel director, last night conducted the first in-service school held by city employees to learn all about the departments in which they work. Waterworks Chapter No. 3 of the City Employees' Local, an affiliate of AFL, sponsored the meeting.

Members of the Atlanta Club, organization of women employees at the city hall, will sponsor a dance beginning at 9:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Mrs. John Weil is the organization's president. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mrs. Etta Rhamstine, chairman; Mrs. Dick Respass, Mrs. Rufus Williams and Misses Peggy Brooks and Aileen Brown.

14-Year-Old Wife Is Divorced By 19-Year-Old Mate

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28.—

(P)—Russell Stinson, 19, won a divorce today after testifying his 14-year-old bride of 13 months "scratched other boys' names on the window pane," wanted to go to a movie every night, wouldn't get up to prepare his breakfast and "got mad" when he "tried to show her how to keep house."

PATROLMEN RELEASE FLEEING TAMPA GIRLS

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.

TIFTON, Ga., March 28.—Two girls who fled the detention home in Tampa last Saturday night, and who were taken into custody here by Georgia state highway patrolmen, were on their separate ways today—one back home in her mother's custody, and the other "somewhere beyond the county line."

Troopers listed the girls as Willie Olean Smith and Elsie Marie Roberts, both 15 and both from Tampa.

The Smith girl was turned over to her mother, Mrs. G. A. Smith, and the Roberts girl was placed on a bus and permitted to leave the county.

Little Boy Coughs and Toots, Whistle Is Taken From Lung

Atlanta may be a big town to most folks, but it's just a whistle stop to three-year-old Larry Barber, of Talladega, Ala.

The whistle, or whistling, began last Saturday when the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber grew too enthusiastic about a new toy—a tin whistle. Result, he swallowed the whistle.

The whistle, lodged in the child's right lung, brought about complications—a strange blending of coughs and whistle sounds.

So Larry was brought to an Atlanta hospital, where the whistle was removed by aid of the bronchoscope. Larry's condition last night was reported as satisfactory.

LIQUID DIET PATIENT MARKS 85TH BIRTHDAY

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 28.—

(P)—Today marked the 85th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Susanna Sherdon Pinkston, of "Thunderbolt," who for the last 24 years has not eaten solid food.

An operation performed to save her life almost a quarter of a century ago made it necessary that she take liquid foods only through an incision in her side. Despite her affliction she has lived happily.

Mrs. Pinkston resides with a daughter.

MACHINE SHOP BURNS.

TIFTON, Ga., March 28.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a foundry and machine shop owned by Ike Rowland Tuesday night. Firemen were successful in keeping the fire from spreading to the Gulf Refining Company tanks across the street from the burning structure. Three high tension wires were severed by the fire. The loss was estimated at about $5,000.

'UNFAIR' RATES TO BE DISCUSSED BY SENATOR HILL

Industrial Leaders Will Meet Here Tonight for Freight Bureau's 38th Anniversary.

Representatives of practically every important field of industrial activity in Atlanta and the southeast will meet tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club to hear a group of widely-known public figures discuss national and sectional transportation problems and the "inequalities" imposed upon the south under the nation's freight-rate structure. More than 200 persons will attend.

The meeting, which will be preceded by a banquet at 6:30 o'clock, will be held in celebration of the Atlanta Freight Bureau's 38th anniversary.

United States Senator Lister Hill, of Alabama, who will be the principal speaker, will arrive by train from Washington this morning and will be the guest at a business men's luncheon at the Athletic Club at noon.

Directed Legislation. Senator Hill was chairman of the subcommittee in charge of legislation introduced in the first session of the 76th congress pertaining to removal of rate discriminations against the south.

Mayor Hartsfield will welcome and introduce Senator Hill. Governor Rivers, who is chairman of the Southern Governors' Conference, will talk on the governors' recent commodities rate case victory before the Interstate Commerce Commission and relate plans for the forthcoming general class rate investigation involving rates on all classified traffic east of the Rocky mountains.

Graves to Speak. Former Governor Bibb Graves, of Alabama, one-time chairman of the Southern Governors' Conference and identified with earlier efforts for the elimination of "unfair" rates against southern industry, also will speak. Other speakers will be Walter McDonald, chairman of the Georgia Public Service Commission; John L. Rogers, Washington, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission; J. R. Bachman, president of the bureau; and E. L. Hart, secretary and traffic manager of the bureau.

SOUTH WILL FILE RATE PLEA TODAY

Petition To Ask Removal of 'Highest Livestock Freight Charges.'

Eight southern states will file a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission today "to remove against the south the highest livestock freight rates in the United States." Chairman Walter McDonald, of the Georgia Public Service Commission, announced last night.

Coincident with filing the petition, Georgia and seven other southern states prepared to ask the ICC to suspend a proposed livestock rate revision which railroads planned to put into effect April 20.

"The railroads contend that the rate revision carries reductions for the south," McDonald stated. "An examination of their proposed rates has shown that the reductions proposed are from points from which livestock does not move in any large quantity."

"Increases are proposed from those points moving the major portion of livestock in and from the south," McDonald stated.

McDonald continued that agricultural authorities for a number of years have said there can be no permanent improvement in southern farm conditions "unless we get away from the one-crop system of depending on cotton, and our lands are best adaptable to livestock production."

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace will be asked to intervene officially in the livestock petition, McDonald reported, "so that he can present the valuable information and economic data gathered by his department in the interest of soil conservation and pasture development in the south."

Declared Barrier. Technically, the petition to be filed today attacks present rates from the west to the south; from the south to "official" territory in the east; from the west through the south to "official" territory, and within the south.

McDonald said the present structure "forms a very definite territorial barrier." He related that Memphis and New Orleans never had been able to compete with other Mississippi river towns as packing house centers because St. Louis "is the stopping point for equitable rates," adding that from St. Louis northward "privileges are enjoyed which prohibit the south from developing livestock and packing house industries."

EARY TO BED. WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP) Senator Van Nuys, Democrat, Indiana, said today that he had adopted Vice President Garner's system of retiring at 9 o'clock. "As a result," he added, "I've gained 30 pounds in the last year."

PHILLIPS AWARD GIVEN DR. DUBOS

Highest Honor in Internal Medicine Bestowed.

CLEVELAND, March 28.—(AP)—Dr. Rene J. Dubos, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, was designated today by the American College of Physicians as the 1940 recipient of its John Phillips Memorial award. E. R. Loveland, executive secretary of the college, said this is North America's highest award in internal medicine. It was founded in 1932 in memory of Dr. John Phillips, who died in rescue work at the Cleveland clinic disaster. Dr. Dubos, a New Yorker, will receive the award at the college's annual session here next week for his work in finding the effect of agents extracted from soil microorganisms upon experimental bacterial infections.

CHICAGO, March 28.—(P.)

Nervous wheat price fluctuations continued today as the market absorbed grain moving from storage into commercial channels.

After swinging over a range of as much as 1-2 cents, wheat closed unchanged to 1-2 lower compared with yesterday's finish. Corn was unchanged to 1-4 up; oats 1-4 off to 1-8 higher; rye 1-4 to 3-8 lower and lard 5-8 higher.

At the time wheat showed new gains ranging up to 1-8 cents. Failure of moisture to spread in the southwestern hard winter wheat zone, where dust storms were reported, and pessimistic crop reports caused most of the buying, but this was offset by good precipitation in the spring and soft wheat areas, with prom-

TRADE SUSPENDED FOR NAVAL STORES

Dealings on Jacksonville Exchange Will Cease
Until May 1.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—Directors of the Jacksonville Naval Stores market decided yesterday to suspend active trading until May 1.

White, chairman of naval stores section of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, made the announcement and said "unsettled trade conditions" caused the decision. He emphasized that the exchange was not being closed, but merely "temporarily" suspending active trading.

The Savannah, Ga., Naval Stores Review recently said traders there felt the Jacksonville exchange should be closed or "suffered a complete and permanent efficient turpentine and rosin put Map shows path of annular eclipse across southern United States and the amounts of partial eclipse observable in other sections. Hours, in local time, shown when the eclipse reaches its mid-point at various cities; percentages indicate how much of the sun's diameter will be hidden.

88 Per Cent Eclipse of the Sun To Be Visible Here on April 7

Spectacle Will Be Total in Extreme South Georgia.

Atlantans will be treated to an 88 per cent eclipse of the sun Sunday, April 7, when the moon swings between the earth and the sun. Residents of extreme south Georgia will be in the path of the total eclipse.

Traveling at 1,500 miles an hour, the shadow will race from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts, and reach its midpoint in the Atlanta area at 5:04 o'clock that afternoon. For nearly all the country, it will be a partial eclipse, but for a 150-mile-wide strip from Del Rio, Texas, to Jacksonville, Fla., the spectacle will be a rare annular or ring-eclipse.

In the area of the annular eclipse, there will seem to be a narrow ring of fire around the moon. This will be a thin rim of the sun, visible there because the moon will be so far from the earth its face will not completely hide the sun.

The Negative Shadow.
The moon will blot out 93 per cent of the sun's diameter, which means it will cover all but 14 per cent of the sun's area. The shadow that passes over the earth will be real enough, but won't actually be the black cone of shadow that streams from the side of the moon opposite the sun. It will be the hour-glass extension of that black cone, known to astronomers as the negative shadow.

Under the ring-shaped central part the sun will give about twice the light of the full moon. The light will last five to six minutes. During that time smoked glasses may let the spectator look directly at vast tongues of flame shooting thousands of miles above the sun's edge. Screened cameras will be able to photograph the mile-high mountains on the edge of the moon.

Two Scientific Tests
Two great astronomical feats will be undertaken in Texas. One, in the Chisos mountains, 50 miles south of Alpine, Texas, will be to measure the strength of the infra-red rays of the sun's edge. This strength is still unknown. Their measurement may some day be useful in long-range weather forecasting. The other feat will bring into use a new instrument, the coronagraph, invented by Dr. A. M. Skiffet of the Bell Telephone laboratories. It uses the principle of television scanning to reveal what

What Does It Mean?

O. John Rogge, assistant attorney general of the United States, in charge of the Justice Department's criminal division, has announced that additional federal investigators will be sent to Georgia. They are to be men of the FBI, postal inspectors and men of the internal revenue intelligence unit.

Attorney General Lawrence Camp, of the United States district court for north Georgia, says he has not made direct request for such additional help, but did tell Rogge, when the latter was here recently, that if his office is to handle an investigation of any large scope additional assistants will be needed.

While in Atlanta in connection with the probe of charges against Representative B. Frank Whelchel, of Gainesville, Mr. Rogge issued a statement that he intended to return here to push those charges and also to study the report of the house economy committee, made last year, in connection with emulsified asphalt sales made to the State Highway Department through companies represented by Dr. Hiram W. Evans, former head of the Ku Klux Klan.

All of which adds up to the inescapable conclusion that Uncle Sam has a questioning eye turned in the direction of Georgia. But just what is the direct occasion for federal suspicion is not quite plain.

A federal grand jury has already indicted City Policeman W. F. Sutherland, charged with torturing a Negro boy prisoner to secure a burglary confession. It is possible the federal government intends to determine whether other cases of third degree cruelty which could constitute violation of the fundamental civil rights of the citizens have taken place here.

It is known that federal authorities are closely watching the Fulton grand jury probe into floggings, in this county, by gangs of masked night riders. In at least two instances threat letters, in connection with this investigation, have been sent through the mails. It is possible this angle might inject the federal authorities into the case.

Again, it was Mr. Rogge who directed the federal investigation into political graft and election law violations in Louisiana.

In any event, it is plain that, somewhere, there is strong indication federal law has been violated. Mr. Rogge would hardly have made the suggestive statements he has, if he had not had strong grounds for suspicion.

Whatever line the hinted investigations are to take, however, too much has now been said to permit it to drop. The people of Georgia will be the first to insist on complete investigation, either for full disclosure of any unsavory condition which may exist, or for exoneration of any individuals who may have come under suspicion.

As the matter now stands, the entire state is under a cloud and there can be no confidence in the handling of public affairs until the need for investigation is either backed by conclusive evidence, made fully public, or dispipated entirely.

A Finnish gunner is supposed to have accounted for 257 Russians, and we see where a battalion of Hollywood lawyers tried recently to take Sergeant Alvin C. York.

Verisimilitude in Detail

The story told by the British admiralty of the alleged mutiny on board the German battleship, the Graf Spee, is either true or else its author is a man practised in making fiction appear like truth.

There is too much wealth of detail about the whole thing. While the British quote only from an "authorized report," they tell exactly how the crew of the trapped vessel, in Montevideo harbor, refused to take her out to face the waiting British warships beyond the harbor, how many times they mustered upon the deck, how they acted, and how many, or few, responded to a call for volunteers.

Of course, Berlin describes the report as "complete nonsense." They could do nothing less than so belittle it. And it may be. But, if the British admiralty made the yarn out of whole cloth, somewhere in its personnel there is a romancer not only possessed of vivid imagination, but with a gift for detail that should carry him far.

In Salt Lake City a clock is stolen from a police station wall, to the embarrassment of the chief who will have to guess at the 24 hours within which an important arrest is expected.

A sparrow perched on a golf ball at a British seaside course just as the amateur haired off to drive. Sometimes a bird knows best.

Canadian Elections

The voters of Canada, in the general elections of Tuesday last, registered emphatic approval of the conduct of the part of the dominions in the European war by Premier Mackenzie King's government.

This was to have been expected. Every indication from our northern neighbor is that Canada, as a whole, is determinedly aligned with her mother country in the war to halt the aggressions of Hitlerism against weaker nations. Canada is determined to render all the help she can, in men and munitions and in finance. The Mackenzie King government has been devoting itself to this purpose and in so doing is correctly representative of the people.

In all predictions in this country regarding the probable outcome of the war between Germany and the Allies, too little consideration is given to the strength of the component nations which make up the British alliance. Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other dominions are as quietly determined as is England herself. There are, it is true, discordant groups, here and there. South Africa probably is less united than any of the others, due to the strong, though minority, Outlander party, descendants of the Boers.

But no one need doubt that neither Hitler nor Stalin nor any enemy dictatorship can expect to defeat Britain, until every resource and every effort of Canada and Australia and New Zealand has been fully expended.

Canada's vote of confidence, of Tuesday last, is merely reassurance of Canadian determination to see the war through.

Homeward bound with a bulging portfolio and perplexed expression is our Mr. Sumner Welles, who found no peace in Europe and very little war.

Council Responsibility

Discreet silence has settled like a mantle over city officials on the subject of masked men. In an election year politicians are inclined to keep silent on subjects which might compromise a few votes. But they cannot evade responsibility.

It was only by the grace of boundary lines the city of Atlanta has not been involved in the flogging cases of south Fulton and there is no guarantee that similar crimes will not take place within the city limits. These crimes are made possible only because men are permitted to walk the streets hiding their faces behind masks.

Atlanta experienced an outbreak of that type only last year and the police department never has determined whether it was merely an initiation involved, as claimed, or whether the seized men actually were victims of the kind of thing that has been going on in south Fulton. In last year's instance, it will be recalled, police officers stood by while the masked men "snatched" persons from the city streets.

The full responsibility for any repetition of this lawlessness rests squarely upon city council.

The Klan has refused to unmask. Council cannot avoid its responsibility to the decent citizens of Atlanta by silence. It must unmask the Klan, or any other masked band, when they seek to use the public streets.

One minute, Fiorello La Guardia talks like a man with an eye on the presidency, and the next he criticizes women's hats.

"Iolanthe"

Tonight, at Agnes Scott and tomorrow night, at Emory, Gilbert and Sullivan's delicious "Iolanthe" is again to offer its gentle satire and its irresistible music for the delectation of the wise among entertainment seekers.

Not, perhaps, so well known as some other Gilbert and Sullivan masterpieces, "Iolanthe" is, nevertheless, one of the finest of their light operas. In tunefulness it ranks with "Mikado," in gaiety with "Pinafore" and in satire with "Pirates of Penzance."

No man can ever measure the salutary effect that the operas of Gilbert and Sullivan have had upon the English-speaking world. They never hesitated to lampoon the most well-established of public customs and they never refrained from satire fun at the expense of stuffed-shirt officialdom.

It is quite possible the world today would be a better place if reincarnation of the Gilbert and Sullivan spirit could be achieved. In any event, more people might learn to laugh at themselves, the curative sense of humor might be more general and the world might learn that needed lesson, not to take itself so bloomin' seriously.

Way up north there is complaint that "there is no spring." Shucks, boys, you ought to see the jonquills and pussy-willow out our way.

Editorial of the Day

LITTLE AUTONOMISTS
(From the Boston Transcript.)

A French firing squad shot Karl Roos, the other day. He was accused of conveying French military secrets to the German high command. Probably he was guilty. But he wasn't a Frenchman turned venal spy.

Roos was only legally a French citizen; a French citizen by virtue, or vice, of the Versailles treaty. He didn't love France. He didn't love Germany. He loved his native Alsace and would make trouble, whichever of those two great powers controlled it. He sincerely believed that Alsace ought to be independent for its own sake, and that France and Germany would draw nearer each other spiritually if a buffer state along the Rhine kept them materially farther apart.

He was by no means alone in his opinions. Many Alsations have always wanted to be French. Many have always wanted to be German. However, a third have always agitated for an autonomous Alsace. These last consider the Alsations as, essentially, a separate nation; a racial and cultural minority, oppressed now by the republic, now by the reich. So the Roos school of thought wants Woodrow Wilson's doctrine of self-determination applied to Alsace. The execution of Dr. Roos merely underlines another doctrine: Big nationalist wars are difficult ordeals for the leaders of those big nations' racial minorities, real or imaginary.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

BOANERGES AT THE GOLDEN GATE

March 28.—Harold L. Ickes has lately added a new role to his extensive repertoire. Already the third-term movement's official boanerges, always eager to shout up the true faith or shout down its detractors, he has now become the third-termers' leading political manipulator. His first appearance in the new role was his recent invasion of California, to set up a Roosevelt slate there. Next he is expected to raid Texas, to see whether he can make a little trouble on the home range for Vice President John N. Garner.

Ickes has had to tackle these novel tasks for two simple reasons. In the first place, Thomas G. Corcoran, the previous political manager of the third-term movement, is away on a long honeymoon. In the second place, Corcoran's fellow third-termers believe that even when he gets back, it will be better for him to lie low most of the time.

There is a considerable significance in the transfer to Ickes of Corcoran's former duties. Close though he is to the President, Corcoran is a minor functionary. Ickes, on the other hand, is a member of the cabinet, and when one of the President's own cabinet members sets out in person to round up third-term delegates, the third-term movement takes on an undeniably official look. The Ickes invasion of California is a striking case in point. Before leaving for the Golden Gate, Ickes is known to have had a long talk with the President. It is reliably reported that he explained his plan to work for a California third-term slate, and that the President fully approved. Thus it can be said that he was formally acting in the President's behalf.

His job was difficult, for California politics are both moonstruck and chaotic. When Ickes arrived on the west coast, factionalism was tearing the Democratic organization to pieces. Although secure in the cushiony presidency of the government-subsidized Dollar Lines, old William Gibbs McAdoo was fighting at the head of one faction. Leading another was the liberal-opportunist Governor Olson, who had quarreled irreparably with his devious left-wing subordinate, Lieutenant Governor Ellis Patterson. Sick old George Creel had a finger in the pie; silver-tongued, salvationist Senator Sheridan Downey was flirting with the notion of a Burton K. Wheeler delegation. The ham-and-eggers and CIOers were both mad as hops with the President. And the Garner people were doing their well-financed best to profit by the general confusion.

No one on earth could have shaped this political hodge-podge into a united party. Ickes did, however, manage to unite the organization Democrats, McAdoo, Olson and Creel. After a long series of conferences, in which he blended threats and cooings in a nice, persuasive mixture, he obtained their consent to join in a "harmony" slate of delegates pledged to the third term.

This at least consolidated whatever political strength the third term enjoys on the west coast. McAdoo subsequently retired from the delegate race, announcing that he was through with everything political except his present large salary. But as he also emphatically declared his support for the Ickes slate, his retirement does not seem important.

The remaining troubles in California arise in the wider fringe. Lieutenant Governor Patterson was at first included among Ickes' harmonizers. Association with Olson proved too much for him, however. As soon as Ickes was no longer present, he bolted to form a slate of his own, which will be supported by the most anti-Patterson CIO. The ham-and-eggers, who still remember the President's denunciation of their profitable miracle business, also have a slate topped by one of the celebrated Allen brothers, chief ham-and-egg promoters. Senator Downey hates the President for the double reason that his patron, Dr. Townsend, is anti-Roosevelt, and that California patronage has gone to McAdoo. He will make more trouble if he can.

It is not surprising, then, that despite Ickes' harmony slate the Garner people have been able to get a California third-term slate. The point is that Ickes went out to California on third-term business, clothed with authority from the President himself. Furthermore, the President seems to have been satisfied with the way the business was done, for there can be little doubt that the Ickes raid on Texas has also been authorized at the White House.

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

Perfect Evening.

And so the Tired Business Man came home. Dufffully he kissed his wife and crumpled some of the response to her question. "What happened today?" Question with that rising inflection of the voice. You know.

While the cook placed the hotter dishes on the table, he drank a quart of stout from his hands and ran a pocket comb through his graying-but, thank the Lord—still plentiful hair.

Dinner was good, so good he had to guard against eating too much. At his age an overloaded stomach was apt to be awfully uncomfortable all evening, with probabilities of headache and sleeplessness for the night.

Then, lighting his after-dinner smoke, he sank into the big chair by the radio and pushed the button that would bring the program he desired.

All was peace in the comfortable home.

Friend Wife mentioned a current film attraction, with the mark she'd like to see it. T.B.M. grunted non-committally and hoped that settled the issue for the evening, at least.

There was, too, a fleeting reference to bridge but that was wisely averted with a casual, "Too tired, I'm afraid."

The particular radio program ended. The uncouth voice of the announcer began talking about spring and its freshness and beauty, about little birds in the nest and soft, fleecy clouds across the deep blue sky. About the tender green of little grass and the growing warmth of the air and the desire for the open road and the thirst for so-and-so's beer.

So the T.B.M. turned off the radio and, grunting comfortably, reached for a book. "The Corpse in the Ashbin." He opened it at the first page, softly and easily, and his eyes flicked over the opening line:

"Detective Inspector McKibbins eyed the man before him with speculative eye."

Silence descended, like a benison, upon the home of the T.B.M. Soon, his wife quietly got to her feet, sighed softly, and taking a book for herself, went into another room.

All was quiet, save for the soft whisper of a paper and the rustle of a book as it was turned and for a somnolent purr, now and again, from the lazy cat curled upon the radiator grid.

Hours Pass By.

The hands of the clock move around in their ordained orbit. The room becomes slightly cooler. Too much effort to go to the basement and attend to the furnace. Have to get one of those automatic stoker things, if can afford it, before next winter.

Ah, that was a suspicious remark made by the second assistant parlor maid in the house of murder. But, no, she can't be guilty. Not half way through the book yet. She must be just one of the many false leads. The story never points to the really guilty one until within 30 or 40 pages of the end.

Say, this detective isn't so dumb as you thought, at first, is he?

But that girl friend of his, she's sumpin'. Cheeky and some of her dialogue is kinder rough—

Wonder why you don't find girls like her in real life. Now a fellow could have him a time with this girl—

Oh, nothing really immoral, of course. But she sure can put away the highballs.

And that newspaper guy. Gosh, he drinks a quart of stout while discussing the evidence of an evening. And it never seems to affect his thinking apparatus, either.

Why is it that one jigger of ordinary liquor upsets my indignation for three days? Why can't I really enjoy my liquor, like these fellows in the stories?

Oh, ho. Here's the murderer. The nice, quiet old millionaire was guilty, all the time. Well, what do you know about that? Good story, though. Never guessed until just before the end.

Awgghh! Sleepy! Good gosh, it's after midnight. See if doors are locked. Cat and dog outside. Lights out. Undress quietly, not to disturb wife.

And so to bed.

A perfect evening.

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today.

From the news columns of Monday, March 29, 1915:

"Some mysterious person called up five union patrolmen, Fire Chief Cummings, police station and the Grady hospital, Sunday afternoon, and told different stories that brought five undertakers' hearses, three fire companies, Fire Chief Cummings, a police patrol and the Grady ambulance all rushing to Mrs. Cora L. Lee's residence at No. 388 Peachtree street. Everything was found in perfect order."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From the news columns of Saturday, March 29, 1890:

"West Point and Franklin are discussing the feasibility of opening the Chattahoochee between the two places, for steamboats."

Green Replies

By WILLIAM GREEN,
President, American Federation of Labor.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has asked the privilege of replying here to certain accusations against the AFL made by Westbrook Pegler, whose column usually occupies this space. The Constitution is glad to publish Mr. Green's reply. This is the fourth, and last, of a series of articles by Mr. Green. Mr. Pegler, who is on a vacation, will resume his regular column, "Fair Enough," about April 1.

Union

The American Federation of Labor is a union of trade unions. It is composed of the following groups of organizations:

One hundred and six national and international unions, which have 33,744 local unions.

Forty-nine State Federations of Labor (including Puerto Rico).

Eight hundred and six city central bodies.

One thousand, five hundred and sixty-eight directly affiliated local trade and Federal Labor Unions.

Four departments, which have 942 local councils.

The national and international unions, many of which antedate the American Federation of Labor itself, hold charters of affiliation with the American Federation of Labor which give them full autonomy and full authority to govern their own internal affairs.

The AFL is like that of the states to the federal government. Their elected officers are responsible to the members of the union, not to the AFL. The officers of the AFL have no legal or constitutional authority to supersede the officers of a national or international union or to give them orders. The AFL has no power of compulsion over these unions. Their association with the AFL is an entirely voluntary one.

Jealous Of Independence

That is as it should be. The underlying principle of the AFL is voluntarism. These unions are represented in the annual conventions of the AFL on the basis of their membership. They can, if they wish, vote to change the constitution of the AFL so as to give the central authority police powers over them. They have not done so and they probably will not do so because they are jealous of their independence. They fear dictatorship. They reason that in a democratic organization of labor, power should be vested in the membership rather than a small group of officers at the top.

Under these circumstances, if control of a national or international union passes into bad hands the American Federation of Labor must rely on the public authorities and the membership of the individual union to correct the situation. True, the other organizations in the AFL can vote to expel a union from the Federation, but that would punish the members of the union rather than the real culprit. That is not a cure, but amputation.

Experience has demonstrated that cases of this kind are extremely rare and that they are quickly remedied. Crooks cannot get away with it indefinitely in unions any more than in public life. The members of organized labor feel they are capable of governing their own unions. They do not consider it wise to sacrifice self-government to dictatorship for the sake of protection from the possible danger of racketeers.

Some Power To Regulate

The American Federation of Labor does have power to regulate to some extent the affairs of directly affiliated federal labor unions, state federations of labor and city central bodies. This power is effectively exerted whenever the necessity arises. I challenge Mr. Pegler or anyone else to point out a single case where the AFL failed to act against wrongdoing in any of these organizations over which it possesses regulatory powers.

Mr. Pegler further charges that the AFL demands: public prosecution of union offenders in one breath and then, in the next, opposes the current anti-trust campaign against unions conducted by Attorney General Thurman Arnold.

The AFL does oppose this campaign. It will never agree that organized labor comes within the scope of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act which was adopted to break up corporate and financial trusts.

When this law was applied against unions, the AFL secured the enactment of the Clayton Act which specifically exempted labor unions from the provisions of the Sherman Act.

The AFL and its affiliated unions condemn collusion, price-fixing and monopolistic combines between local unions and employers. We insist, however, that such manifestly illegal practices, if they exist, should be prosecuted under the properly applicable laws, not the anti-trust laws. We fear, with good reason, that the anti-trust laws can be used as an instrument to destroy organized labor and place it under the thumb of the federal government. No legal prestidigitator can ever convince us that workingmen and women associated in a union for self-protection against the entrenched power of industry and capital constitute a trust inimical to the welfare of the nation.

'Eat More Chicken.'

In Richmond, Va., G. T. Berry was ordered by police court to eat more chicken.

The ruling arose out of a complaint by a neighbor who said Berry's chickens made more noise than he could bear. Berry explained he had bought an entire coop of chickens before Christmas and was killing and eating them at the rate of one a week.

But the court said Berry would have to step up his consumption and tone down the squawks.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

MR. CAMP INVESTIGATES

It is beginning to look as if the summer will be quite warm. The political gangs will be booming and by summer it is expected Mr. John Rogge's boys will have made their report. The town is stirred by the report, from very good sources, that the proposed investigation of state affairs is little more than a smoke-screen.

Mr. Lawrence Camp, under whom Mr. Rogge's inquiring young men will work, is reported after bigger game than is to be found at the statehouse.

If he finds what he seeks, then the summer will indeed be a warm one. Those who make a habit of being in on the know seem to think the investigation will fail to uncover anything startling. But it seems, with extra men on the way, the boys at least think they have picked up a trail.

Meanwhile, the statement of the assistant to the attorney general of the United States, that he will help any district attorney ambitious to clean up his district, will meet with general commendation.

It is disturbing to note how often the federal government is called upon to take part in clean-ups because of the failure of local law enforcement.

In the meantime, the investigators go ahead with their job. It will be several weeks before they are ready to quit or announce their findings.

All of which contributes to the idea the summer will be exceedingly warm.

THE SUMMER CAMPAIGNS Almost any time now, certainly within the next few weeks, the Governor's ring.

Mr. John Wilson seems to be trembling on the verge. Now and then he reaches for his hat, but as yet he has not tossed it in.

Mr. Abit Nix remains out. The Athens attorney would be a formidable candidate, but is not expected to make the race.

Mr. Lint Miller, the ousted chairman of the highway board, has said he will take the issue to the people if he is not sustained by the courts.

Meanwhile, Mr. Hugh Howell is doing most of the running. Columbus Roberts, the second officially announced candidate, is working quietly getting some organization.

Mr. Howell, who has a tremendous amount of energy, constantly is on the move.

The Talmadge forces are seeking to keep their fences repaired. They are saying nothing but saving a fair amount of wood.

Those who believed Hugh Howell would withdraw before the time of the race, now have regretfully resigned themselves to the fact the two men will run. Howell resolutely has refused to consider withdrawing.

No matter how many enter the race the big noise will be made by Howell and Talmadge. They are much the same type campaigners, and those who obtain entertainment from a rough-and-tumble fight are looking forward to the day when the charges begin. There will be some new and picturesque adjectives exploding on the Georgia scene.

PROGRAM TROUBLE? While no candidate, official or probable, has said so, all will be troubled with "the program."

The Ed Rivers program makes them flinch and shudder for more than one reason. They heartily are sick of the word. It carries so many implications they fear it.

In the first place, the Rivers program was a good one. It is a good one now if there were money enough to finance it. The candidates know the people want their children to have a seven-month school. They know the old people want their old-age assistance checks. They know that public health is important.

They are going to have to talk about those things. Indeed, those very topics will be important parts of each speech. They cannot spend too much on charges of extravagance, because Ed Rivers will not be a candidate. They are going to be forced to talk about what they plan to do—not what Ed Rivers has done.

RIVERS WILL GIVE GEORGIA DOCTORS CITATIONS TODAY

Cancer War Pioneers To Be Honored; State Assembly on Control Will Convene Here.

Three distinguished Georgia medical men, all especially interested in fighting cancer, will be honored today at a luncheon meeting at the Henry Grady hotel, when Governor Rivers will bestow upon them "executive citations" for pioneering in control and cure of cancer.

They are Dr. J. L. Campbell, of Atlanta; Dr. C. C. Harrold, of Macon, and Dr. Max Cutler, of Chicago, formerly of Athens. The state assembly on cancer control and cure will meet at 10 o'clock today, with Dr. T. F. Abernethy, director of the State Department of Public Health, presiding. Dr. Cutler will speak on "Recent Advances in the Fight on Cancer," and Dr. Leonard Scheele, of the United States Public Health Bureau, will discuss "Cancer and Public Health."

Representatives of health departments from six southern states will attend the conference and luncheon.

The luncheon is sponsored by several organizations devoted to study and control of cancer, a malady which last year was second only to heart disease in the national fatality list.

Mrs. H. B. Ritchie, of Athens, state commander of the women's field army for cure of cancer, will preside at the luncheon.

The campaign of the fifth (Atlanta) district is directed by Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, who has opened headquarters at 738 Citizens & Southern National Bank building, and is organizing her forces.

4-H MEMBERS TO GET $1,000 FELLOWSHIPS

Special to THE CONSTITUTION. ATHENS, Ga., March 28.—Two $1,000 national 4-H fellowships which call for nine months' study at the United States Department of Agriculture in the nation's capital will be awarded again this year, G. V. Cunningham, state 4-H Club leader, announced here today. Cunningham said Georgia has the privilege of nominating one man and one woman, both under 25 years of age, who have shown outstanding ability in 4-H Club and college work. Candidates must show promise of future leadership in their respective fields of agriculture and home economics.

Massachusetts Voters Leaning Toward Republicans in Survey

As in Country as Whole, Large Majority Favors Roosevelt in Second Term, But Small One Opposes His Running Again.

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion. PRINCETON, N. J., March 28.—Political observers who are charting the November election should put Massachusetts on the Republican side of the ledger at the present time, according to political studies conducted in the state by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

In its preview of 1940 political sentiment the Institute put the following question to a cross-section of Massachusetts voters: "Which party would you like to see win the presidential election next year?"

The answers of those with a definite choice at this time are:
Favor Democrats ..... 46%
Favor Republicans ..... 54%

Massachusetts, with its large urban and labor groups, went Democratic in the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover election of 1928 and remained Democratic in 1932 and 1936. But Democrats were served a sharp warning two years ago when the Republicans elected blue-blooded, Bostonian Leverett Saltonstall to the governorship.

In Massachusetts, as in the country as a whole, a large majority of voters (62%) approves of Mr. Roosevelt as a second-term President, but a small majority opposes him for a third term. Asked: "If President Roosevelt runs for a third term, will you vote for him?" Massachusetts voters divide as follows:

For Third Term ..... 45%
Against Third Term ..... 55%

As previously reported, Pennsylvania and New York appear to be leaning to the Democratic side at the present time. New Jersey, and now Massachusetts, however, must be counted on the Republican side at this time. In other words, neither party can now be sure of anything like a "clean sweep" among these important eastern states with their heavy allotments of electoral votes.

STRIKE HAMPER BUSES TO BENNING

21 Operators Walk Out, But Few Return.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION. COLUMBUS, Ga., March 28.—Twenty-one operators of a bus line serving Fort Benning and the First Division suspended work yesterday, but later in the day six buses were reported in operation.

W. E. Whitt, international representative of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators, said those who walked out represented all but two of the operators. Whitt said the operators joined the union about six weeks ago and since then had endeavored to work out a wage agreement with the Howard Bus Line, "exhausting all means and efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement."

MEDICAL SOCIETY TO HEAR EXPERTS

Craver and Lambert Will Speak Tonight.

Dr. Lloyd Craver, head of the medical department of Memorial hospital, New York, will discuss "Lymphomas," and Dr. Adrian Lambert Jr., of the staff of Bellevue hospital, New York, will discuss "Surgery in Diseases of the Chest," at the meeting of the Fifth District Medical Society to be held tonight at the Academy of Medicine, 38 Prescott street. The program will begin after a buffet supper served at 6 o'clock that night by the Women's Auxiliary at St. Luke's tearoom. Other speakers are Dr. J. C. Patterson, president-elect of the association, and Dr. Charles E. Rushin, president of the Fulton County Medical Society.

EDUCATORS TO STUDY NEGRO OCCUPATIONS

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 28.—(AP)—The task of educating Georgia's Negro youth for gainful occupations was announced today as the theme of the annual convention of the Georgia Teachers and Educational Association here April 4-6. President J. L. Grant, of Darien, said several thousand Negro educators were expected to join in the meeting's effort. "The purpose of this year's assembly," he said, "is to bring forcibly to the attention of the teachers themselves and to those in positions of authority in our state government the great need of the Negro people of Georgia and enlist the finest possible co-operation in a program to make life for Negroes more nearly what it should be here in Georgia."

FORMER MOTORMAN BECOMES ARCHBISHOP

MILWAUKEE, March 28.—(AP)—Tall, stately Moses Elias Kiley, S. T. D., who in his youth labored as a carriage factory hand and as a Boston streetcar motorman, today was enthroned as sixth archbishop of the Milwaukee diocese. In pageantry as old as the Roman Catholic church, he succeeded Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, now of Chicago, as spiritual advisor over 455,000 Catholics in the 17 counties of the diocese.

SESSION PLANNED BY BIRD SOCIETY

Ornithologists To Meet at Statesboro, April 6-7, DeLoach Guests.

STATESBORO, Ga., March 28. Dr. R. J. DeLoach, president, will be host to the Georgia Ornithological Society's spring meeting at his "Beechwood" bird sanctuary here April 6 and 7.

Registration will begin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 6, at the home of Miss Malvina Trusell, and the business meeting will begin a half hour later at the Statesboro Woman's Club. The society will meet again at 7:30 o'clock that night for a program which will include reports on the backyard sanctuary program for conservation in schools, educational work in bird study, and the work of local clubs.

Dr. Eugene Murphy, of Augusta, will be toastmaster, and specific reports will be made by Earl Greene, of Key West; Dr. Murphy, Dr. T. M. Hall, of Milledgeville; Herbert Stoddard, of Thomasville, and Dr. Wallace Rogers, of Griffin.

The Sunday program will include a field trip at "Beechwood" and luncheon served by the college students at Teachers' College.

RUNNING IOWA CITY RUNS IN FAMILIES

WEST OKOBOJI, Iowa, March 28.—(AP)—City government here is a family affair, as witnessed by the results of the municipal election. Mark Wheeler is the new mayor, and his wife, Mrs. Sybil Wheeler, is town treasurer. W. H. Jones, retiring mayor, was elected to the city council—and so was his wife, Elizabeth. Zina Henderson also was made a councilman, and his sister, Miss Genevieve Henderson, is the town assessor.

Good Morning

By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

Monday morning, bright and early, we got away for our trip to Homosassa. Our first stop was Fort Valley, where Ashby McCord joined us. We had been through a wonderful section of peach orchards between Culloden and Fort Valley, and the orchards continued to Henderson. Ashby McCord explained that the peach blossoms are the most interesting in many seasons, first because there are more blossoms than usual, and second because all varieties are blooming at the same time, due to the continued cold weather. It is worth anybody's time to drive down through the peach section right now to see the gorgeous pagentry of varying hues of pink. The farmers are turning the corners. From Griffin south they are ready to plant. We saw many fine fields of oats. Numerous tobacco beds indicate a big planting of this increasing money crop in south Georgia. South of Cordele we saw them laying off the ground for watermelons. Sounds good, doesn't it?

All the south Georgia towns—Cordele, Tifton, Ashburn, Adel, Valdosta, seemed quite active in building and in other evidences of progress. Traffic was heavy, many northern cars en route home from winter vacations in Florida. We stopped for lunch at the Ulmer farm, just south of Valdosta. Mrs. McCord had provided a bountiful spread of fried chicken, ham, boiled eggs, biscuit, sandwiches and all the other things that men like for a picnic lunch. Mrs. Ulmer brought out all the milk we could drink. They have a wonderful dairy. They were killing hogs, and we saw a hog—that is, the main portion of a hog—some going into sausage, some into lard, some into the curing box—that weighed 712 pounds on the hoof and 543 pounds dressed. That is some hog.

We got into Florida a few minutes after lunch, and we greatly enjoyed the trip down through Jasper, Lake City, High Springs, Williston, Dunellon, Crystal River, and on to Homosassa, arriving in this beautiful little old village at 5 o'clock. It is quite cold down here, but that didn't chill our ardor to wet a hook before dark. The freeze in January was not without its blessing. For one thing it killed the millions of hyacinths that have choked the river. They tell us that there are enough left in the protected places to reproduce another plague of them. Perhaps I should not refer to anything as pretty as hyacinths as a plague, but all fishermen will agree with me. Although it is cold, and a wind is blowing out of the northeast, we expect to get out early Tuesday morning and find some fish. You can't lose when you come to Homosassa.

New Thermometer Measures Down to 259 Below Zero

Gadget Goes to Within Four Degrees of Cold's Absolute Bottom.

By THOMAS R. HENRY. For North American Newspaper Alliance. WASHINGTON, March 28.—A thermometer which measures cold down to 259 degrees centigrade below zero has just been perfected at the United States Bureau of Standards.

It goes to within four degrees of the absolute bottom of cold—the point where all molecular motion would stop and which is reached nowhere in the universe except possibly in the inconceivably vast gulfs of nothingness between the galaxies.

The thermometer depends on the fact that the resistance of a coil of platinum wire to the passage of an electric current varies with the heat of the wire. The colder it is the less the resistance. At 259 degrees below zero the resistance is less than a three-thousandth of that at zero. The planet Pluto, where comparable temperatures may be reached, would be an ideal location for electric power companies if there were anybody there to buy the current.

The platinum wire thermometer for some years has measured temperatures down to 193 degrees below zero centigrade, the point where air turns into a liquid. This now is accepted in all the major countries by an international agreement and it is hoped to have the newly perfected scale accepted in all countries as soon as the war is over. It now goes down to the temperature at which the highly explosive gas hydrogen turns to ice.

For the present, Dr. Brickwedde said, the "cold thermometer" has a limited practical application. Manufacture of liquid air is about as far as industry has gone into the depths of cold. The Bureau of Standards, however, must be prepared to measure anything that is measurable. Besides there may be a wide use for the thermometer in scientific laboratories where numerous researches now are under way regarding the properties of substances at extremely low temperatures.

The only rival of this thermometer as a measure of low temperature, he said, is the thermocouple which is used in taking the temperature of limited areas on the planets millions of miles away. This is based on the variation of an electric current with the degree of heat applied to the junction of two wires of different materials. Its advantage lies in the fact that only the junction, practically a geometric line, must be subjected to the temperature which is to be measured. Thus all but a small fraction of the disk of the planet Mars can be cut out and the thermocouple junction exposed to the remainder through a telescope. The heat of that particular part of the planet can be determined by the difference between this junction and one exposed only to room temperature. Another disadvantage of the platinum wire thermometer is that it never will reach zero, or within a few fractions of a degree of it. It would be ideal if the wire had no electrical resistance whatsoever at the ultimate thule of cold. Only one substance has yet been found where this is true. It is a combination of the rare element columbium and carbon. Although its resistance varies irregularly with different degrees of heat it would be possible to calibrate with it a thermometer which would take temperatures in the critical region between no heat at all and the freezing point of liquid hydrogen.

MURRAY WINS ALMONY. LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(AP)—Mae Murray, star of the silent screen, has won another round in her fight for the custody of her son, Koran David Mdivani. Superior Judge George A. ## LABOR MAY ASK U. S. AID IN FIGHT ON VOTE SYSTEM

Trades Federation Is Seeking To Abolish County Unit Plan in Georgia Elections.

Advisability of seeking federal aid in abolishing the county unit system in Georgia is being studied by the Atlanta Federation of Trades, Dewey L. Johnson, president of the body, announced yesterday.

Johnson reported the federation at its last meeting unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the system as undemocratic, and empowering the executive board to consult with attorneys as to whether a test case of the system's constitutionality can be brought before a federal court.

Pointing out that the system was condemned by the Georgia Federation of Labor at its convention in Augusta last April, Johnson said the Atlanta body had had the question under consideration for some time.

"We feel that now is the appropriate time to act," he declared "with the federal government taking so much interest in what is going on in the states."

"We would like to see a more democratic procedure in Georgia with the vote in the hands of the people instead of minority groups as we have it under our present political set-up."

The federation is composed of 78 affiliated labor bodies in the Atlanta area. Members of the executive board in addition to Johnson are Paul Chipman, Albert Gossett, W. A. Cetti, Walter Barber, Miss Ira Jarrell, William Van Houten and Charles Gramling.

LOW HIGHWAY BIDS TOTAL $165,901

Offers Made on Three Emergency Projects.

The Georgia Highway Board yesterday opened bids on three emergency projects on which the apparent low bids totaled $165,901.38. Highway department engineers had estimated the cost at $169,122.

The projects, each to be financed with state funds, and the apparent low bidders:

Chattahoochee County—Basing and surfacing 4.726 miles of the Rome-Summersville road; Ledbetter-Johnson, contractors, Rome, $32,466.22.

Early County—Stabilized roadbed with surface treatment on 8.06 miles of Blakely-Colquhoun road; Hardaway Contracting Company, Columbus, $89,516.86.

Gilmer County—Shaping and surface treatment of 2.24 miles of Ellijah-Jasper road; MacDougal Construction Company, Atlanta, $43,918.30.

BONDS ARE BURNED.

CARROLLTON, Ga., March 28.—(AP)—Mayor Stewart Martin, City Clerk J. L. Thomason and city council yesterday burned $85,000 in retired bonds, and the fired department across the hall paid no attention to the blaze. The bonds represented funds that had financed street, sewer and general improvements. It was Thomason's last official act as clerk. Monday he goes with the State Revenue Department, and Carl Stevens was sworn in as his successor late yesterday.

Port Cities Oppose Pipe Line As Harmful to Their Business

Savannah and Brunswick Say They Would Lose Oil Trade.

Citizens from Georgia's two most prominent ports told the State Highway Board yesterday that construction of a gasoline pipeline from Port St. Joe, Fla., to the Tennessee line would seriously injure the business of the seaport cities.

Appearing at a special hearing, Spence Grayson, Savannah, member of the general assembly, said the port of Savannah would lose its petroleum business if the pipeline is built. This business, he said, is about 32 per cent of the traffic handled through the port.

Mayor J. Hunter Hopkins, Brunswick, testified there would be a similar effect on his city.

A. Steve Clay, attorney for the Southeastern Pipe Line Company, fired a question at Mayor Hopkins asking him if he knew Glynn county received more revenue from a one-cent tax on gasoline than it received from the railroads.

When Hopkins said that he did not, attorneys for the railroads countered by bringing out that the one-cent tax came from the people, and that the taxes from the oil companies were not heavier than those of the railroads.

Judge L. F. Moseley, of Peach county, said he didn't think anything should be done to cripple the railroads any more. He pointed out that "the railroad employees are the kind of people that spend their money instead of hoarding it," and added, "We don't need a pipe line at this time."

J. T. Odum, representing the Truckers' Union, predicted the pipeline, if permitted, would throw hundreds of truck drivers out of jobs and asserted, "Any step which deprives men of the opportunity to work is a detriment to society."

Guy Holcombe, president of the Georgia Association of Petroleum Retailers, told the board he did not believe the operation of the pipeline within itself would mean lower prices to the average gasoline consumer.

He cited previous instances in which he said that despite reductions in freight rates from Savannah to Atlanta, the price of gasoline actually had gone up two cents per gallon.

Among others testifying were Bentley Chappell, Columbus; Mose Brinson, Summerville in Chatham county; John J. Bouhan, Chatham county attorney; H. H. Simms, Dothan, Ala., and J. B. Wilson, Fulton county.

Questioning for the railroads and labor groups was handled by Philip Alston, A. N. Durden, Albany, and Judge Arthur Powell.

FRESHMAN CO-ED ASSAULTED, KILLED

Quiet and Deeply Religious Girl Slain.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 28.—(AP)—A killer brutally assaulted a 17-year-old freshman co-ed of Pennsylvania State College and then beat her to death today a few hours after she had returned from a happy Easter vacation at her home in Wildwood, New Jersey.

The torn, bruised body of the brown-haired home economics student, Rachel Hutchinson Taylor, was found in the driveway of the Lemont consolidated school, about three miles east of the campus, by a school janitor reporting for work.

PATRIOTIC ESSAY OF ATLANTA WINS

V. F. W. Auxiliary Award Given Theo Vocals.

First place for Georgia in the annual essay contest sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, yesterday was awarded Theo Vocals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vocals, of 398 Fourth street, N. E.

A sophomore at Boys' High school, the youth's paper on "The Benefits of Democracy" will be sent to national V. F. W. headquarters for national competition. Second place went to Audrey Herod, of Rossville.

State judges were Dr. M. D. Collins, Georgia school superintendent; Miss Sila McCall, of the state board of education; former Adjutant General Lindley Camp and Mrs. W. T. Moore, of the state board of education.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION TO BE CONTINUED

Government Approves Project for Using Surplus.

Distribution of surplus products in the state by the Department of Public Welfare will continue without interruption through the ensuing year, the new project having been approved by Washington authorities, it was announced yesterday by Braswell Dean, director.

Early in March it was feared that there would be a cessation in the distribution for 15 or more days due to the fact that the new project had not been approved. Minor differences, however, were ironed out and the agreement was forwarded to Washington about two weeks ago by V. L. MacDougall, state WPA administrator.

Notice that the Washington office had approved the agreement was given Director Dean by R. G. Moore, assistant state WPA administrator.

PRIVATE CARS BRING SAVING FOR COUNTY

Six Months' Operation of Fulton Autos Cost $16,047 More.

Private ownership of automobiles engaged in county business as compared with county ownership has proved a money-saving proposition, it was disclosed yesterday by Al Martin, county oil inspector.

A six-month audit of the two plans shows that during county ownership car upkeep cost $45,907.53, while for a similar period of private ownership the cost was $37,266.32, representing a net saving of $8,641.21.

In addition, the audit sets out, there were other savings which raise the net saving total to $16,047.15. These include interest payments on money formerly invested in county-owned autos, elimination of five mechanics at the Bellwood camp and salaries of filling station attendants.

The county now is paying for the operation 108 cars, while during the period of county ownership there were 104 cars in the fleet.

Following is a tabulation by departments.

	6 Months County Owned	6 Months Personal Owned
Police Department	$21,063.09	$16,371.91

'SWEETER' MUSIC SEEN BY ATLANTAN

Orchestra Arranger Predicts 'Swing's' Decline.

Good news for the nervous—"sweet music" is coming back.

That was the prediction made yesterday by Gray Rains, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rains, of 2450 Peachtree road, who in his 26 years has played with some of the greatest dance orchestras in the business.

He is paying his parents a visit, in between changing jobs. He joins Paul Whiteman's band as first saxophonist and chief arranger in Hartford, Conn., April 7. Previously he was arranger for Ben Bernie.

"Sweet music is coming back, but the coming of spring had nothing to do with it," he laughed. "The constant blaring of the 'swing' rhythm is beginning to get on some people's nerves. However, the young jitterbugs need not get alarmed. Swing is holding its own, but the blaring is being toned down."

Rains will remain in Atlanta until Monday.

BRUNSWICK ASKS FOR CCC BUILDINGS

Wants to Use Them After Unit Leaves.

A Brunswick delegation asked the state forestry division yesterday to assist in retaining buildings used by a CCC camp on Blythe Island after the camp is moved.

The Brunswick officials said they wanted to use the buildings for Boy Scout and National Guard work. Any recommendation on disposition of the structures must go through the forestry division.

Assistant State Forester Russell Franklin told the delegation he would refer the matter to Forester W. C. Hammer, who was out of the city. Franklin said it was known the CCC camp would be moved because it had "worked out" the area allotted one camp, but that the camp might be located in some other section of Glynn county.

The delegation included County Commissioner Dick Gould and County Manager H. J. Friedman.

As a rebuttal to Crawford's testimony, A. Steve Clay, attorney for the Southeastern Pipe Line Company which is seeking permission to cross highways of the state, hands him some pictures showing railroad wrecks and tank car explosions. The hearing, which attracted citizens from all over the state, will be resumed this morning.

Grand Jury Expected To Indict Suspects of Flogging Today

Klan Will Act Against Members Only in Event of Conviction.

The whole picture of the flogging organization in Fulton county, and its widespread activities over many months, as pieced together in lengthy examination of more than 200 witnesses by the grand jury, is expected to be revealed today with return of indictments.

The jury is scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock, and it was considered certain true bills would be handed up to a superior court judge after a long session.

If any of his followers were indicted, Imperial Wizard J. A. Colecott, of the Ku Klux Klan, said yesterday he would not act against them until they were convicted in court.

"We believe in the principle that a man is innocent until proved guilty," he observed. "Mere indictment won't move us to believe our brothers have done wrong."

A short, stocky, pleasant Indian of 44, almost completely bald, the wizard has been an active Klan worker for 18 years. Four of them he spent as chief-of-staff to Dr. Hiram Wesley

Evans, former imperial wizard, and he assumed the top post last June. Before his Klan connection he served a year as a private in the veterinary corps of the army and two years as an officer. He was stationed at Camp Gordon in 1920, and joined the blue lodge of the Masonic order at Chamblee.

His impressive office, immediately on the left of the entrance to the three-story building, known locally as "the sheet factory" is guarded by an electric lock controlled by a button on the wizard's desk. Within the large pleasant room are an American flag, pictures of Washington, Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt, Nathan Bedford Forrest—founder of the original Klan, which he disbanded as having gotten out of hand—and ex-Wizard Evans, in comfortable leather-bottomed arm chairs and two bookcases.

Indicative of the chief's intellectual interests are such books as "Secret Sects of Syria," "High Twelve," "Signs and Symbols," "Signet of King Solomon or the Freemason's Daughter," numerous volumes of the "Harvard Classics" and various studies of lodges and secret societies.

Colecott denied that he had issued any permits for such parades and cross burnings as were described by Scarborough, exalted cyclops of the East Point Klan, to the coroner's jury investigating the death of Gaston, whose brutally beaten body was found near Ben Hill.

"The only things I ever authorized," said the wizard, "were parades of klansmen in regalia to various church services on Sunday nights."

He declared that any klans guilty of authorizing floggings would be disbanded—when proof had been established—and individual klansmen taking part would be banished. He told at length of action he took in Florida last night against anti-Semitic proposals of certain klansmen. The grand dragon of the state Klan, George J. Garcia, and 20 other officials, he said, were tossed out.

THREE MORE SEIZED AS 'BUG' SUSPECTS

Tickets Show 162 Writers Working; Four Receive Jail Terms.

The lottery business again felt the force of the recently revived police drive yesterday as three persons were arrested—one allegedly having a large quantity of tickets which indicated 162 writers had been working. Four Negroes were given straight jail sentences following lottery convictions.

Those arrested were R. A. Jenkins, white, of 744½ Marietta street; Frank Leitch, white, and George Grant, Negro.

Jenkins was arrested as a suspected pickup man by County Policemen Burton Carroll and C. E. Mitchell. The police said they found him with tickets indicating a very large play, as there were at least 162 different handwritings.

Leitch was apprehended in a Capitol avenue cafe by Carroll and Mitchell, who reported they found 12 lottery tickets, a book of unused tickets and $2 in change. Leitch is already under a 12-month sentence for lottery.

Grant was arrested by Patrolman Mitchell on Piedmont avenue near Decatur street, during what developed into a football contest with flying tackles and lateral passes.

Mitchell said he made a dive for the Negro, who was on a bicycle. As they fell to the ground the Negro was said to have lateraled to another Negro, who sped by on foot. City Policeman C. E. Nolan then joined the fracas and threw a "block" on the Negro runner. Both went to the pavement.

However, in the scramble the Negro got away but Nolan got the tickets.

Those sentenced in Fulton criminal court were Robert Bennett, Negro, six months; Henry Avery, Negro, three months; Bessie Craddock, Negro, three months, and Ida Alexander, Negro, three months.

S.S.S. Tonic must be good

So many people take it — to increase appetite — to boost energy

COUNTLESS thousands of men and women can testify to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought them.

The facts are simple because of all conditions affecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown... lack a keen appetite... have lost weight... don't give up until you restore those precious red-blood-cells back to normal.

S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.

In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways... first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy. Try S.S.S. which any drug store can supply and no ethical dealer will suggest a substitute. The big 20 oz. size is a two week's treatment and represents a saving in the purchase price $3.55 Co.

Dodd To Confer With 'Gators Today About Head Coach Job

Call in The Game

by Jack Troy

Same Old Mehre

"We have been hard at spring practice for about seven weeks and made our first touchdown last week," writes Harry Mehre from Oxford, Miss., where he is directing the pigskin activities of the Ole Miss Rebels.

"That was encouraging, though, because two years ago we did not make our first down until the seventh week. That is progress."

Same old Harry. It will be recalled how lightly Ole Miss was held two years ago, Harry's first year, and how friends of his felt so sorry the schedule called for L. S. U. at Baton Rouge in the opening game.

And how astonishing it was when the returns were in and it was found that Ole Miss had romped on the Bayou Bengals, three touchdowns to one.

Harry Mehre had an All-America back his first year. His name was, and is, Parker Hall. Mehre was selected as the coach having done the finest job after the '38 season. Vanderbilt had been very lucky to win, throwing a last-minute flurry of passes which beat the Rebels.

The Rebels really LOST only one game. Tennessee stomped 'em in a December engagement at Memphis.

Mehre had a good year at Ole Miss last season. And the word is that 1940 is to be a banner year.

And one of the most attractive of games for our section brings Ole Miss into action against the University of Georgia at Athens in early season.

Georgia's touted sophomores will be ushered into the big time in no uncertain manner. Because it is no secret that Mehre, 10 years head coach at Georgia, holds the Georgia game above all others.

Hey, Skinny!

It goes without saying that Skinny Graham, center fielder of the Baltimore Orioles, was delighted the Oriole-Cracker exhibition series ended yesterday.

A double-A player—in fact, no established player—likes to have a rookie keep on making a monkey out of him.

Skinny undoubtedly feels that he has all the qualifications for being a man—and a classy center fielder—and had much rather be excluded from the tree-swinging family.

But he couldn't be sure about his status, the former Little Rock outfielder couldn't, until the Cracker series was over and Alf Anderson was no longer running the bases.

Twice during the series Anderson singled to short center. Graham each time fumbled the ball briefly. Anderson pulled up at third base.

In other words, he went for three bases on a single twice at Skinny's expense.

If this had happened to some inexperienced outfielder, it might be different. But Skinny is one of the best in the minors. He has a great throwing arm.

And yet Skinny was just another ball player when Anderson was running the bases.

The first time it happened was at Millen. Andy hit a short single which Graham fumbled. It startled him to see Anderson flying to second and he threw hurriedly over the second baseman's head. Andy tore for third. The first baseman recovered the ball and, as he started to throw to third, Murray (Red) Howell, in left field, yelled:

"Hold it! If you throw that ball anywhere, shoot it home—and make the throw good!"

Dodd in Demand

A call came day before yesterday saying Bobby Dodd was in Valdosta, Ga., conferring with University of Florida athletic officials.

There was a check but nothing came of it and, since Dodd was traveling to Orlando with Coach Alex for a coaches' gathering, the matter was dropped.

But the news came through last night and Dodd, who is much in demand, as much as said he'll take the Florida job if a three-year contract is offered. Tech might lose its swell backfield coach after all.

Louis Makes Tenth Title Defense Against Paychek

15,000 EXPECTED FOR FIGHT; JOE IS BIG FAVORITE

Bomber, Pride Hurt by Godoy, Out for Quick Victory.

By SID FEDER.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—Funnier things have happened in the fight game than the possibility that Johnny Paychek will take the heavyweight title from Joe Louis in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

But, despite the Jim Braddocks and Max Schmeling who pulled in the 1 to 10 shots in recent years, there just doesn't seem any chance that "it can happen here" this time. Somehow, the brown bomber doesn't appear in any more danger for his tenth title defense than in pulling on his britches in the solitude of his own boudoir.

Not only has he the physical equipment, particularly in the cannon he wears at the end of his arms, to dispose of the fighting fiddler from the corn country, with an expected crowd of 15,000 looking on, but his pride is hurt as a result of his mediocre showing against Arturo Godoy last month.

Now, when Louis' pride is hurt, it pains him indeed. In fact, it hurt him much more than his opponent—although not in the same places. In the past, when these pains set in, sympathies invariably were directed toward the next guy he met. Just, for example, look at the record:

HE NEVER KNEW.

Max Schmeling knocked him out. Jack Sharkey came along next, cocky that he'd do the same thing. He never knew what hit him.

Joe couldn't catch bicycling Bob Pastor for 10 rounds. Natie Brown suffered—and how—for that one a month later.

Tommy Farr followed and made Louis look terrible for 15 rounds. Natie Mann turned up not long afterward and figured as how he could do everything Farr could—and punch besides. He woke up some time later, in severe pain.

On February 10, Louis was a baffled, bewildered young man against Godoy, so, under Joe's "feathers one day, chicken the next" program, you hardly need a crystal ball to figure out what Paychek can expect, despite his record and ring skill. In the words of Hymie Caplin, "it shouldn't happen to a dog," if Louis follows form.

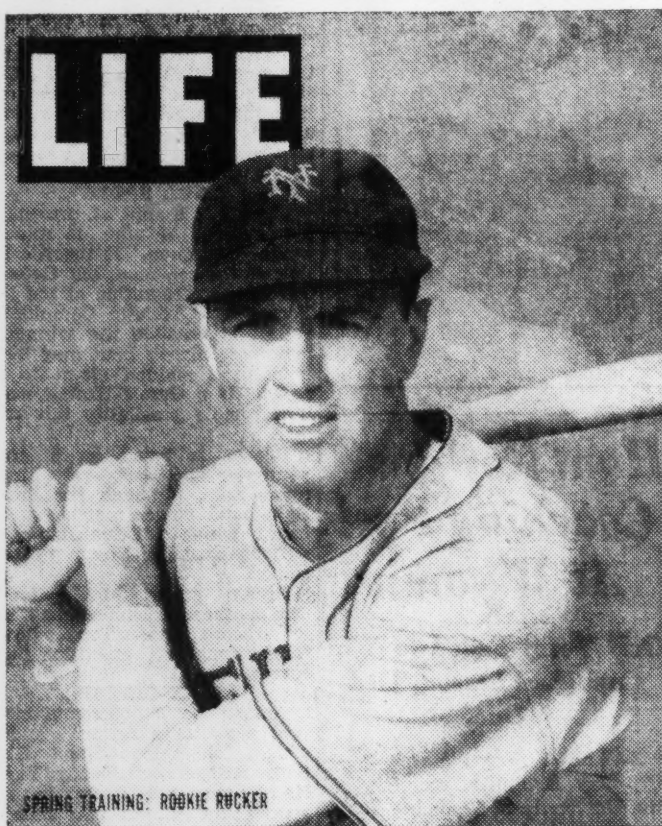

As usual, the odds-makers have tabbed Louis at 1 to 8 or better. This corner goes along with that belief, picking Louis to make his 11:45 p. m. train connection for Chicago with plenty to spare, after taking four rounds or less to dispose of the business on hand.

JACK TROY, Sports Editor

ROOKIE RUCKER—Here is a picture of this week's cover on Life Magazine which features a photographic series of Johnny Rucker, the Crabapple, Ga., boy who was sold to the Giants for $45,000 by the Crackers last August.

'Life's Sweet Song'

Cover and Three Inside Pages of Magazine Devoted to the Giants' John Rucker, Crabapple's Gift to the Majors.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY.

Johnny Rucker was as nervous as any rookie getting ready to report for his first major league tryout. His last few days in Crabapple, Ga., were spent in busy preparation prior to leaving for Winter Haven, Fla., and the New York Giants' training camp.

On the last day Life Photographer Ralph Morse showed up in Crabapple and started shooting a series of pictures. Excited and fidgety, Johnny was impatient to be on his way to camp and every picture he posed for seemed like three. After all, he, a rookie, didn't want to report late. Bill Terry might not like it.

But finally he and Morse climbed into Uncle Nap Rucker's new car and headed south. At camp, many more pictures were taken.

THE RESULTS.

"I never knew there were so many things you could pose for," Johnny remarked. The results of those photographic efforts are in the current issue of Life magazine.

The cover is a smash shot of the handsome ex-Georgia star who, after playing one season with the Crackers, was sold for $45,000—the highest price ever paid for a Southern league ball player.

The photographic history and a short biographical sketch of Rucker's baseball family and his own brief playing career take up three pages of the magazine.

The Life story was written by Bill Howland, Atlanta representative of Time magazine.

"There (at Crabapple), this spring," he writes, "as the peach buds grow big on the trees, the 60 inhabitants talk of a curly haired farm boy named John Joel Rucker. He is a baseball player, merely one of 224 rookies who this year are getting their first crack at the major leagues. But to Crabapple, John is different from all those other kids. He is the town's greatest man. He will bring fame to Crabapple."

BASEBALL RUCKERS. The story tells of the baseball Ruckers—how Uncle George took a mail-order course in pitching, how Uncle Nap became one of the greatest pitchers the game has ever seen while with Brooklyn, and how Uncle Joel played until he settled down to his cotton gin business.

It traces John's career from the time he played on vacation mornings in Crabapple through last year's season with Atlanta. Included are stops at Milton County High school, the University of Georgia, Crabapple's semi-pro team, Macon and finally the Crackers. The picture story brings out many interesting things about John's personality, and of early days in camp.

Howland concludes his story, "With all his heart, he yearned for the wonderful days when, like his Uncle Nap, he would be a big league hero, play centerfield at the Polo Grounds before 60,000 worshipping fans."

INTEREST GROWS.

MACON, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Ben Chatfield, who really gets around in middle Georgia sports circles for the Macon News, reports that interest in six-man football is mounting swiftly in the peach belt and next fall may find one or more leagues operating in this area.

I'M INTERESTED IF TERMS RIGHT,' BOBBY STATES

'Wouldn't Take Less Than Three-Year Contract,' Says Tech Coach.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 28.—(P) Bobby Dodd, assistant football coach at Georgia Tech, said tonight he will confer with University of Florida officials tomorrow about the head coaching job at Gainesville.

"I didn't know I had been tentatively recommended," he said when told of a statement by Dr. John J. Tigert, University of Florida president.

"Dr. Tigert asked me to come to Gainesville to confer with university officials and I plan to go tomorrow."

"I am interested very much in the job and would like to have it if we can get together on terms. It depends on how much salary there is in it, what kind of assistants I could have and what kind of arrangements can be made about scholarships."

Dodd said he was not familiar with the machinery for employing a coach at Florida and preferred not to comment on the tentative recommendation.

Asked what term contract he

BOBBY DODD.

would consider if the post is offered, Dodd said he would like to

CRACKERS LEAVE FOR HOME. RAIN CANCELS GAME

Workout Set at Ponce de Leon Today; Tribe Here Saturday.

AIKEN, S. C., March 28.—The final game between the Crackers and the Baltimore Orioles was called off here today because of rain. The Crackers got a split in two games here and took three straight from the Orioles in earlier contests this spring.

It was raining hard this morning in Augusta, where the Crackers stayed, but they came over to Aiken and found it raining even harder.

After about a month of spring training, the Crackers left for Atlanta this afternoon.

Manager Paul Richards said there would be a workout tomorrow morning at Ponce de Leon Park, home of the Crackers. The Crackers have an exhibition game Saturday with the Cleveland Indians. Richards said his hurlers probably would be Lewis Carpenter, Mack Stewart and Emil Lochbaum.

Brilliant Future

That's What Lies Before Paul Rapier Richards, Canny Young Pilot Who Brings His Third Edition of the Crackers Home Today.

By JACK TROY.

Paul Rapier Richards is bringing his third edition of the Atlanta Crackers home today.

They'll be on display for approval of the home folks for the first time on Saturday against the Cleveland Indians at old Ponce de Leon park.

And, not unlike last year, it is to be a fountain of youth park, what with the majority of the Crackers players being on the sunny side of 25.

HE HAS A WAY.

Paul Richards has a great way with youngsters. Just as he does with veterans.

He brings youngsters along quickly and smartly and he gets the best out of the older fellows who have been around.

One can always depend on one thing where Paul is concerned: Any team he handles will be interesting to watch. His current team may not prove as good as '38—but it should be improved over last year—but it will be an interesting team regardless of what happens.

Recently President Earl Mann said: "I'll stick Paul up against any other manager in the matter of handling players. I think he's the tops."

GREAT RECORD.

And Slug's record of getting the most out of players bears Mann out. Since he has been here Earl Mann, Jinx Pindexter, Clyde Smoll, Bill Beckman, Johnny Hill, John Rucker, Tom Sunkel, Stan Sperry and Jack Bolling, to name some, have moved on to leagues of higher classification.

Richards, only playing manager in the Southern league, is only 31 years old. A bright future in the managerial end of the game spreads before him.

Hunt Resigns Coaching Post At Wyoming

Grid Team Failed to Win Game Last Season, Tied One.

LARAMIE, Wyo., March 28.—(P)—Fay E. Smith, secretary of the University of Wyoming board of trustees, announced today that Joel Hunt, head football coach at the school, had resigned effective June 30.

Smith did not comment and Hunt could not be reached.

Hunt, formerly a star half-back at Texas A. & M., came here last season to succeed Willard A. (Dutch) Witte, who resigned early in 1938 to enter business at Fremont, Neb.

Hunt coached football at Georgia University in 1938, and was backfield coach at Louisiana State for five years.

His Wyoming team failed to win a game last season, tying one and losing five in the Big Seven conference and losing contests with New Mexico and St. Louis University.

by a late start in spring training.

"There is some good football material at Gainesville," he explained, "but it's not championship material. The team played a good game against us last year, particularly on the defense."

Dodd said he would use the wide-open, deceptive style of play Georgia Tech uses at any school where he might become head coach.

ATLANTAN GIVEN CHANCE TO BEAT INDIANA BOXER

Winner May Sneak in Claim for Middleweight Crown.

CHICAGO, March 28.—(P)—Tony Zale, Gary (Ind.) middleweight, conqueror of Al Hostak, recognized by the National Boxing Association as middleweight champion, is ready to face a top-notch contender in the Chicago stadium tomorrow night when he faces Ben Brown, of Atlanta, Ga., in a 10-round bout.

The match is one-half of a double wind-up. Davey Day, No. 1 lightweight contender, takes on Norment Quarles, North Carolina challenger, in the other feature of 10 rounds.

Zale and Brown are meeting at the required 162 pounds. This gives both a chance to point out that they are legitimate middleweights and their status as such may soon take an important bearing in the NBA ratings.

NBA SPLIT.

The NBA is split at present on the subject of who is middleweight champion. It regards Hostak as the top man, but Celerino Garcia has recognition of the New York State Athletic Commission, and it is possible the winner of tomorrow night's bout may sneak in with a sudden claim to the crown, as a Garcia-Hostak match is a remote possibility this summer.

Brown is rated as a crafty youngster and many rate him to upset Zale, although the latter's right-hand power punches to the heart, which distressed Hostak, will be hard for Brown to overcome.

Brown comes highly touted. The southern Irishman has a better record than Tony, having fought tougher competition in his career.

3 EX-CHAMPS.

Among Ben's opponents in the past are three former middleweight champions—Babe Risko, Solly Krieger and Teddy Yarosz. He belted out Risko in nine rounds and gained two decisions over Yarosz.

Gaining a pair of decisions over Yarosz proves that Brown is somewhat of a cagey battler himself.

Zale's last fight with Hostak moved him up into the charmed circle of the middleweights. He gave Hostak a good shellacking, scoring one of the biggest upsets in the history of boxing in Chicago since the return of the sport in 1926.

Both Zale and Brown are noted right-hand punchers, each having floored their sparring mates during their training seige. Zale will enter the ring at 6 to 5 odds.

JACKET NINE, PRESBYTERIAN CLASH TODAY

Hawk Cavette Faces Blue Stockings in Season's Opener.

By CHARLIE ROBERTS.

Coach Roy Mundorff's Georgia Tech baseball team will make its 1940 debut at Rose Bowl field here today against Chick Galloway's Presbyterian outfit, and Roy is a bit dubious about the ability of his charges to do much clouting against the South Carolinians.

Mundorff admits the weather has given the boys little chance to practice and get into play-in shape, but nevertheless says they just haven't shown a thing at the plate and he frankly is none too pleased with the outlook.

The weather has been uniformly bad throughout the south, however, so it is doubtful if other clubs are any further advanced than the Jackets.

Chick Galloway, shortstop on the 1939 Cracker Kid Wonder team and later one of the best in the major leagues with Connie Mack's Athletics in more balmy days, always puts out a fine nine at Presbyterian, and this year will hardly be an exception.

Presbyterian will play the Techs here both today and Saturday, with today's melee starting at 4 o'clock and the Saturday game at 3 o'clock. The following Friday and Saturday the Auburn nine will invade Rose Bowl field for a pair, and Tennessee moves in for two the next Monday and Tuesday (April 8-9).

TWO ACES.

Mundorff will throw his two best moundmen at the Presbyterian nine, opening today with Hawk Cavette, the great guard on the football eleven, and coming back Saturday with Red Oliver, who as a sophomore last year was the Jackets' only effective hurler during the early stages of the season.

The Tech lineup in their opener will be as follows:

Bosch, 2b.; McMenney, ss.; Stevens, c.; Wheby, cf.; Perkerson, lf.; Gilmer, rf.; Lewis, 3b.; Burpo, 1b.; Cavette, p.

Kennel Club Show Will Start Today

First Dog Will Be Called at 2 O'Clock; Greatest Show Predicted.

By RUTH STANTON COGILL.

The Atlanta Kennel Club Dog Show is on. They are piling into 489 Peachtree street in ones and twos and carloads, all ready for the show. It is a hard and fascinating life for dogs and handlers alike. Many important entries spent the early morning hours pushing through from the Chattanooga show where judging wound up late last night, but when the first dog is called at 2 o'clock this afternoon, all signs of weariness will have vanished, heads will be high, every hair in place, feet doing a little tattoo. It is something like circus life, they are veterans of the circuit and so the show goes on.

Benchers are ready, rings are set up, veterinarians are busy checking the health of contestants. Owners are hustling and bustling from Pekes to Danes, giving a last loving and hopeful flick of the brush or comb.

That this year's Atlanta Dog Show event will be even greater than usual is well assured.

We just received a telegram pertaining to the very versatile "Biscuit Eater," namely, cocker spaniel, movie actress and daughter of Ch. My Own Brucie. Here it is:

"The Biscuit Eater and I arrive Atlanta early Friday morning in a box car. Please call off motorcycle escort and brass bands. Time of arrival uncertain. Regards . . . George Barrett."

On the Brooklyn roster is a former Valley league player, Charlie Gilbert, who played outfield for Nashville last season.

All Anderson, the sensational Cracker shortstop, played for three seasons with the Lanett club. Bruce Hedrick, one of the Cracker rookies, has also played in the Valley loop.

setters; Grig Wire Kennels, of Bardonia, Ky., showing miniature pinschers and wires.

Ten of those fancy little Mexican numbers, Chihuahuas, are coming from the kennel of J. B. Tisdale, Birmingham, Ala.; Whippany, N. J., will be represented by Airedales and Welsh terriers from the kennel owned by Mrs. Elinor Loree. Cocker dogs are coming from Silver Grass Kennels in New York, and one of our finest handlers, Charlie Davis, will have the Myers Kennels' English setters here for competition. Entries are here from Canada and dogs imported from Europe will be on display. It all sums up to a worthwhile gathering of good ones.

HIGHEST PLANE.

CHICAGO, March 28.—(P)—Executive committee members of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, holding their annual spring session here, expressed the opinion today that college athletics had reached their highest plane in the 35-year history of the association.

Bob Jones Is First To Accept Invitation

ALBANY, Ga., March 28.—Bob Jones, of Atlanta, only official world's champion golfer in history, today went on record as being the first to accept his invitation to the great "civic pride and progress" demonstration to be held here April 11. Jones sent his acceptance to Y. Frank Freeman Jr., associate producer of the Paramount production, "The Biscuit Eater," which will be given a world premiere here as a part of the festivities.

sign for about three years.

"I would just as soon sign for three years as for five," he said. "Of course, I wouldn't want to take a contract for less than three years, because I don't think anybody could do a good job in less time."

THREE YEARS PREFERRED.

"But I'd sign for three years, if the terms are right. If I had not made good in that time I don't think they would have to ask me to leave. I would want to go myself."

Dodd said anyone taking the post would be handicapped now

Atlanta Happy Choice, Says Sporting News

(Editor's Note: The Sporting News, national baseball publication, editorially lauds the selection of Atlanta as the convention city for the 1940 minor league convention.)

Naming of Atlanta, Ga., as the convention city for the National Association next December was a happy choice and as much a personal tribute to two distinguished baseball men, residing there, as to the city itself, which has taken a front ranking in the game. The two are Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta club, and Major Trammell Scott, head of the Southern association.

Mann has been a tireless worker in the cause of baseball, both in his capacity as head of the Atlanta club and as a member of the minors' executive committee. Through his efforts, the Georgia metropolis reassumed its place as a power in the Southern association and has become known as one of the best baseball cities in the country. Scott is a comparative newcomer to organized ball, although he long has been known in sports in general and is one of the leading figures of the south. Under his leadership, the Southern association has kept well in the van and his counsel has been respectfully heeded.

Atlanta, itself, needs no introduction. While typically southern, it also is modern in every respect, with many skyscrapers and progressive citizens, who have given generous support to their ball club and made possible several pennant winners. This will be the first time that Atlanta has been host to the minor leagues. We know the delegates will like Atlanta, but what is even more important, its selection as the next convention site is merely giving the city some of its due, for the Georgia metropolis has contributed much to the game.

New Lipstick Expresses Youth, Exuberance

Give Up Hope And You Lose Your Sparkle

By Caroline Chatfield.

"I've given my life to taking care of my parents," writes a spinster, "and now that they have both passed away I am terribly lonely. Do you think a woman of 38 is too old to consider romance and marriage? Should she give up and resign herself to a solitary old age?"

No, indeed, sister. If you give up hope there will be no sparkle in your eye, no laughter on your lips, no spring in your step, no throb in your heart. However, you cannot sit still and realize your hopes. You must get out into the stream of life if you are to meet eligible men. And there's your first step: to get out.

A woman in her late thirties is in the prime of life. At this age she has more to offer a husband than she had in her teens. Her mind and judgment are mature. She hasn't let go the dreams of youth but she has learned to live in reality. She's less greedy for personal happiness than a young girl and more concerned with making others happy. She knows that money doesn't grow on trees and if, in addition to supporting herself, she has had to support parents, she appreciates the problems of the wage earner.

A woman of 38 shouldn't give up hope of romance and marriage. But she should put other irons in the fire—in case. Useful employment, selfish and unselfish, a place of her own, some sort of a home where a dependent creature waits for her. (Dog, cat, or canary will do in a pinch.)

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

All-Spring-and-Summer Red Gives New Life To Every Type

By Lillian Mae.

Youth and exuberance under the bright sun! Can you imagine anything more glowingly fresh and beautiful? Well, that's what one of the world's greatest cosmeticists strove to capture in a "complexion" color. Working with delicate, light-measuring instruments, exploring the entire range of the spectrum, matching lipstick shades to eyes, hair and skin coloring under bright sun, she has at last perfected this all-spring-and-summer red which, by test, will bring new life to every type of beauty—a throbbing spring-and-summer-red, a flashing color with a youthful lustre—that's the elusive color which the colorist supreme has caught and imprisoned in her new lipstick, life red.

I've had loads of fun experimenting with the lipstick which—I was told—would be all things to all women. I've found that it lends sudden vivid beauty to the pale, ash-blond; it brightens the dark sombre beauty of the brunette and accentuates the colorful loveliness of a redhead.

Then there's the demure, clinging-vine type. To her it lends a touch of mischief. It intensifies the allure of the exotic siren and gives a gleam of health and zest for living to the sun-tanned sports-woman.

Now don't you agree with me that a shade which is so equally at home on the golf links and in the brightly lighted, scintillating ballroom of your favorite club or hotel, is really all-to-all-women?

And another thing: While lending that youthful lustre, sheen and sparkle, I've found that it is protective—preventing chapped, lined lips.

Of course, the new shade is carried out in the entire line of cosmetics—matching rouge and eye shadow, powder and foundation, keyed to complement the new life red, as well as a matching nail enamel which is one of the most lasting I've ever worn.

It is also keyed to the brilliance of the new spring costume colors. It picks up the brightness of a richly-hued print or a gay flowered bonnet. It is a perfect complement to the new yellows—minims and wheat, lovely with deep coffee browns and clear liquid blues and greens, just right for classic black and white ensembles. It's a dashing splash of color with gray and navy blue.

Artists and designers recognizing in this new life red a color which will give a costume the same young spring feeling that it gives to Milady's lips, have been inspired to fashion bags, hats, gloves and even rustling taffeta petticoats and jewelry in this glorious new color. So your entire ensemble may carry out the new shade that lends youth and exuberance!

Phone me for the name of this new lipstick and accompanying cosmetics. If you do not live in Atlanta, write me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Every Youth Needs Correct Diet and Outdoor Exercise

By Ida Jean Kain.

Anyone who has ever suffered from acne knows that the trouble is deeper than skin deep. Its most damaging potentiality is to leave the boy or girl who suffers from it with an abiding inferiority complex.

But acne can be cleared up—not overnight but over a period of weeks. The cure is effected through a revision of health habits. We have it on the authority of a noted New York dermatologist that acne is not a skin infection but a functional disturbance, and that the main factors involved in its correction are diet, exercise and skin cleanliness.

As this specialist points out, it is generally understood that acne is caused by an interference with the normal secretion of oil from the oil glands. The general health, however, is the chief concern in its treatment.

Diet is extremely important.

And at an age when a chocolate soda is the motivation for those meeting at the corner drugstore, chocolate is the one food which is taboo in all acne cases. Chocolate and cocoa in any form must be avoided by the acne sufferer.

We are told that ham, pork and sausage must be deleted from the menu and that even such fats as cheese, cream and butter may need to be restricted. It may be advisable to omit all greasy foods, rich foods and those which are difficult to digest, such as boiled onions and cooked cabbage. Sometimes tea and coffee must be given up.

Our doctor suggests that a list be made of all the suspected foods and that the entire list be left out of the menu. This list should include any food which you may imagine to have a bad reaction on the skin. Then, one by one, the suspects may be returned to the menu and the one definitely established which ones contribute to the trouble. It takes about 24 hours to get a food reaction. When you find out which foods are to blame, they must be given up entirely.

Growing boys and girls need good diets, high in all the foods essential to health: milk, eggs, grains, vegetables, whole wheat bread, cereals. The energy foods, which are also needed, may be comprised of potatoes, rice, macaroni and easily digested desserts—except those containing chocolate.

The doctor advises the daily use of some form of cod liver oil for Vitamin A, the vitamin which promotes a healthy skin condition.

Outdoor exercise is considered imperative. If you have this skin trouble, get as much outdoor activity as possible. Join a hiking club, take up badminton, tennis, roller skating or buy or borrow a bike! Spend as many hours as you can manage out of doors.

Gymnasium exercise is the alternative for the working girl who cannot be out of doors during the day. The best exercise of this type is afforded by the organized games.

Since acne often begins with the scalp, special attention should be given to scalp cleanliness. Your own dermatologist may suggest a corrective scalp lotion or use-ment. Brushing the hair is very important. Make it a rule to brush for three minutes daily, and keep your brush meticulously clean.

Wash your face several times a day with a mild soap, low in fat.

And be sure to rinse off all the soap. Do not use a face cream that is heavy in fat. After careful cleansing, it is helpful to apply a healing lotion of some kind. And last, never, never use a soiled powder puff!

One of the best exercise leaf-

Jean Kain's "Posture Makes the

envelope to Miss Kain, in care of

The Atlanta Constitution, for the leaflet.

Today's Charm Tip.

Some of the most objection-ably rude people in the world are those who know the proper thing to do but fail to do it.

The new "complexion" color red gives new life to every type of woman. To a blonde, such as Carole Lombard, it lends sudden vivid beauty. Miss Lombard is currently starring in RKO-Radio's "Vigil in the Night."

Lawrence Olivier, Vivien Leigh Play 'Romeo and Juliet'

By Sheila Graham.

HOLLYWOOD, March 28.—Rehearsal.

"Oh by this count I shall be much in years."

"Ere I again behold my Romeo."

"That's fine, lovely," interrupts

Laurence Olivier.

"You really like it, Larry, darling?" inquires Vivien Leigh.

The couple are rehearsing on a stage in a local radio theater for their tour.

From the minute that Olivier finished his rushed movie stint in "Pride and Prejudice" (the worked

Sundays and nights, and Vivien did ditto with "Waterloo Bridge") the couple have been working from early dawn until midnight on this long-cherished dream of appearing together as "Romeo and Juliet."

The production opens April 8 in San Francisco, stays there six days, goes on to Chicago for two and a half weeks (opening date April 17), then on to New York for 10 weeks.

"Why don't you stay on the road longer?" ask Olivier, thinking of the myriads of fans in America who would pay to see the most romantic couple of the movies.

"Can't," replies Olivier. "Vivien has to be back in August for a picture. Which is why the couple will be lucky—even with full houses—if they break even on their brief tour.

"The production," I am told,

"costs $75,000"—of which Warners have underwritten a little more than one-third. The rest comes from Olivier's own pocket.

He is paying himself and Vivien a weekly salary of only $40. This is a big financial sacrifice in any language. Olivier's picture price is $75,000, which is also what studios have to pay for the loan of Miss Leigh.

The idea behind the project is not to cash in on Miss Leigh's success as Scarlett—although that will help the tour—but to establish the couple as an acting team of the theater a la Lunt and Fontaine. Olivier has already appeared on the stage in England as Romeo.

Vivien has made the acting acquaintance of Shakespeare as Ophelia in "Hamlet." She will be the youngest stage Juliet—with the exception of Duse, who played the role at the age of 14!

Both Olivier and his future bride prefer stage acting to making movies. Above all, Olivier has wanted for a long time to be an actor-manager of the stage. Here's wishing them both luck.

And on the sets.

By a coincidence, nearly all the major players in "I Want a Divorce" have personal knowledge of the divorce court. Both the leading players, Dick Powell and Joan

Blondell, have a divorce behind them. Ditto Conrad Nagel, Frank

Fay (from Barbara Stanwyck), and Sidney Blackmer (divorced from Stage Actress Lenore Ulric), and Gloria Dickson, who plays the second feminine lead, is contemplating a divorce from Make-

Up Artist Perci Western.

Gloria is on the stand, when I come on the set, demanding a divorce from her "I Want a Divorce" mate (the title, by the way, remains unchanged in spite of the Blondell-Powell request. They are afraid it might bring bad luck to their happy marriage). And Gloria is weeping real tears as she tells it to the judge. In fact, she is so overcome that shooting has to be suspended. "I can't help it," sobs

Gloria, "every time I speak reminds me of my own troubles with Percy. I don't like it!"

Dick and Joan will also speak real-life lines in the movie. They are repeating some of their bigger real-life quarrels in the movie. "I hope," says Dick, "that we do them as well on the screen as we did them at home!"

The Powells are once again in the throes of servant troubles.

"They take one look at my face," says Joan, "and double their price.

We pay couples $175 a month. I wouldn't care if they were any good, but they're all terrible!"

JOAN LA LURE

"Oh, give him any fantastic excuse . . . tell him . . ."

Oh, tell him I'm reading a book!"

MY DAY: Airline Officials Are Congratulated

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

SALLY FORTH Says:

Christian Science Monitor Features Article on Tallulah

• • • THE SECOND of a series of splendid articles on women's club projects, now appearing in the Christian Science Monitor, deals with that noble inspiration to all clubwomen—the Tallulah Falls School for Mountain Children, owned and maintained by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. The story, written by R. H. Markham and bearing a Tallulah Falls date line, is aptly illustrated with a group of interesting pictures depicting the activities and scenes at the school.

With a seeing eye and a rare understanding of human nature, Mr. Markham visited the school and observed its workings. He found the mountain children "intensely interested and boundlessly interesting." He followed their routine throughout the day and evening. He spent the night. He saw everything they did, and wrote of the efficiency, the thoroughness, the happiness with which 150 children live there and as many more spend each work day there.

He sums up his observations thus: "For them all it is a home. That is the outstanding characteristic of Tallulah Falls—it is an institution turned into a home." He describes these mountain children as "the most perfect exemplification of America. They are all-American."

The writer ends his interesting story with a fitting tribute to the one person whom all Georgia recognizes as the power that motivates Tallulah, the inspiration behind the inspiration, so to speak. His words:

"Any appraisal of Tallulah would be very incomplete without a reference to Mrs. John K. Ottley. She is president of the board of trustees and is largely responsible for finding each year the $30,000 necessary to keep the school going. In a sense, she has adopted 150 boys and girls into her home and assumed the responsibility of caring for them. She is a distinguished clubwoman and much more; a philanthropist and much more; an educator and much more. She is a master builder of America, showing with each day of her life how rich and poor, wise and simple, may all work together to create our American family."

• • • CAMELIAS, those flowers so typical of the old south, were chosen by Mrs. James D. Robinson as the fragrant favors for the guests attending the dinner party she and Mr. Robinson gave last evening for their niece, Kate Butler, of Buffalo, N. Y. The delicate white flowers were arranged in cluster effect and were placed at the covers marking the feminine places at the dinner table.

The affair was held in the Mirador room of the Capital City Club and gathered a group of the younger social contingent. The camellias were becoming worn by the lovely honor guest, who is petite in stature and possesses unusual brunet beauty.

• • • SPRING FASHIONS and much to the beautifully planned luncheon which Mrs. Howell Ross Hanson and her sister, Mrs. Oda T. Sperl, gave at the Whitman hotel in Miami Beach Wednesday. The party was in honor of their guest, Mrs. Morris Ewing, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Ewing wore a sapphire blue printed crepe dress with a sapphire jacket and accessories to match. Mrs. Hanson was a smart figure in an imported costume of banana-colored crepe with a short, brown-braided jacket. She wore a small banana straw hat with veil, and her accessories were in caramel color—a veritable "good enough to eat" ensemble. A white and red costume was chosen by Mrs. Sperl, who carried an unusual white hand-knit bag with red fringe to match her white and red hat and white fox-trimmed crepe dress.

The 20 guests invited were Mesdames DeWitt King, Ryburn Clay, C. K. Merrill, Harper Beagle, George Wight, William F. Whitman, Donna Hartner, Frederick J. Urban, Oscar S. Thompson, Walter Leonard, W. N. Massengale, George Storer, William Milner, Charles Crique, Dorothy Sommers Barrett, John Welwood Jr., L. O. Bricker, Joel Hurt, Lino

Mrs. Benjamin Wyche, of Charlotte, N. C., national vice president Southern Section, Daughters of the American Colonists, who will attend the meeting and luncheon of the Georgia Society to be held today at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Sertel, James Allen Smith and A. B. Bushart.

• • • WHEN Dr. H. E. Friesell rose to speak at the luncheon assembling delegates to the recent dental centenary celebration held in Baltimore, Md., the honor guest, Mrs. Delos L. Hill, of this city, never suspected that his flattering introduction of her would be climaxed when he presented her with a testimonial in tribute to her splendid and loyal efforts on behalf of the dentistry profession.

Framed in gold, the testimonial is hand-worked in the colors of the Psi Omega dental fraternity, of which Mrs. Hill's late husband was supreme counselor, and features the club's insignia and symbol.

Topping the page in bold black letters are the words: "Psi Omega fraternity to Mrs. Delos Lemuel Hill, who has brought to the service of dentistry and to this fraternity the inspiration of a compassionate heart manifested through many years as the beloved helpmate of our revered supreme counselor, Delos L. Hill." Closing the beautiful tribute are the words, "This testimonial is presented in token of our enduring gratitude." The signatures of supreme council members of the fraternity, as well as those of several members of the national alumni chapter, are scrawled at the bottom of the page.

Incidentally, Mrs. Hill was clad all in blue upon the occasion of the luncheon, the color of her gown being suggested by the fraternity color, blue. A photograph of the prominent Atlanta appears in the publication, Progressive Georgian, along with a story of the clinic which she erected at the Atlanta Southern Dental College here in memorial to her late son, Delos L. Hill Jr.

• • • GLIMPSED HERE and there: Jack Osburn placing posters at Buckhead for the All Saints church bazaar this evening. . . . Rev. James L. Duncan buying colored balloons for the same affair. . . . Mrs. Bobby Jones looking very chic in a wool coat of life red. . . . Mrs. Dudley Golding, of Dallas, Texas, looking very pretty in a lavender-flowered hat. . . . Mrs. L. P. Allen Jr., wearing a large cartwheel hat of red straw. . . . Nancy Schwab driving her new sport car. . . . Margaret Palmer driving to town hatless. . . . Mrs. William B. Wellborn working in her garden on Juniper street. . . . Mrs. Fred Storey and her daughters watching the construction of their new home on Peachtree road. . . . Evelyn Harrison looking smart in gray silk trimmed in white while receiving guests at her tea for visiting school belles. . . . Mrs. Beverly DuBoise Jr. looking very elegant in dark green and red print, and wearing sables and orchids. . . . Mrs. Frank Carter and Mrs. Glenn Ryman pouring tea for Carolyn Yundt and her visitors at Virginia Ramsdell, of Philadelphia, and Marilyn Kirby, of Columbus, Ohio. . . . Winifred Cooleidge in a navy blue outfit and white hat.

For Miss Middlebrooks
Miss Margaret Crockett entertains at Lakewood Club Sunday at a breakfast for Miss Frances Middlebrooks, whose marriage to Marion Raymonds Clarke will take place April 6.

Invited are Misses Martha Doughman, Mary Luetje, Marion Barber, Anne Kendrick, Roma June McCollum, Janis Richards, Susie Thomas, Mrs. T. E. Middlebrooks.

Miss Crockett will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. F. E. Crockett.

Avondale News.
Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Robbins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Stockel on Fairfield drive, in Avondale Estates.

Mrs. A. A. Baumstark will be hostess at a luncheon on April 4 complementing the Avonon Contract Club at her home on Fairfield drive. The guests include Mesdames Lewis Meng, Ford H. Pratt, Lee Potter, W. H. Goulder, Claude Pyburn, J. A. Harris and Carl Sloan.

MISS JUNE MIGNON SWAGERTY.

Miss Swagerty Will Wed J. Howard Miller in April

Of interest today is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Swagerty of the engagement of their daughter, Miss June Mignon Swagerty, to J. Howard Miller, of Atlanta and Grand Rapids, Mich., the marriage to take place at a quiet ceremony to be solemnized in April at the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Swagerty attended the public schools in Atlanta and completed her education as an A. B. and B. D. graduate of Emory University. While at Emory she was active in the Emory Christian Association and the Co-eds' Club. She has been prominently connected with religious work in the Atlanta Methodist Young People's Union as well as in her local church, attending numerous conferences for young people, and last summer traveling over south Alabama as a member of the Youth Crusade Caravan to the Alabama conference of the Methodist church. Last fall she was connected with Decatur Presbyterian church as young people's worker, and is at present employed by the Christian Council of Atlanta.

The bride-elect is the eldest daughter of her parents, her sisters being Mrs. William Owen Hope, of Belgreen, Ala., and Miss Shirley Gay Swagerty, of Atlanta. Mr. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, of Atlanta and Grand Rapids, was educated in the schools of both Atlanta and Muskegon. His brothers are J. Courtland Miller, of Grand Rapids, and Leon Miller, of Atlanta. His only sister is Miss Regina Miller. He is in business in Atlanta with his father and brother.

West-Horton Wedding Plans

The marriage of the couple will be solemnized on the afternoon of April 6 at 4 o'clock at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Dr. John L. Yost will officiate before an assemblage of friends and relatives of the couple.

The ushers will be A. E. Blair, Larry Lawrence, John H. Jentzen, A. H. Jentzen and W. H. Jentzen, of Nashville, Tenn. The groomsmen will be David Barrow and Walker Newton.

The lovely bride-elect will be given in marriage by her uncle, Charles P. Edmundson Jr. Miss Marion West will be maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids will be Miss Jane Blair and Miss Christine Jentzen, a cousin of the bride-elect.

After the ceremony the bridal couple will leave for a wedding trip, after which they will reside here.

Mrs. R. S. Kerr Honors Daughter.

Mrs. R. S. Kerr was hostess at a dinner party recently at her home on Yorkshire road for her daughter, Miss Charlotte Louise Kerr, in celebration of her twelfth birthday anniversary.

Present were Misses Kerr, Mary Garner, Pamela Hays, Barbara Carpenter, Judy Howe, Joyce Windham, Gloria Lazer, Ann Brooks, Jerry Bush, Betty Bessville, Marian Wolf, Aria Symmers, Thelma Joe Kerr and Mary Ann Kerr.

Miss McCann Feted.

Miss Marion Walker was hostess yesterday at a tea at her home on Fairview road honoring Miss Patsy McCann, popular bride-elect.

Assisting the hostess in entertaining were her mother, Mrs. Ralph Walker, and Mrs. Arthur McCann, mother of the honor guest.

The lace-covered tea table was centered with a crystal and silver bowl containing lavender stocks, daffodils and white snapdragons.

Miss Caroline Candler Weds Lowry W. Hunt In Madison

MADISON, Ga., March 28.—Miss Caroline Candler, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Charles Candler, of this city, became the bride of Lowry Weyman Hunt, of Cedartown, at a ceremony solemnized at 8 o'clock this evening in the First Methodist church here.

The bride, who spent the past winter in Atlanta with her grandmother, Mrs. Peter Godfrey, made her formal bow to society in November at a luncheon and reception at which Mrs. Godfrey was hostess at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Myriads of white flowers, including Easter lilies, tulips, snapdragons and stocks, beautified the church, clusters of Easter lilies tied with white tulle having marked family pews.

Rev. Comer Woodward, of Emory University, performed the marriage service, and Mrs. M. E. Goode presented music.

The groom's only brother, Van Garlington Hunt, was best man, and groomsmen were William Gibbons, Ben Lindley Hunt, Pat Colquitt and the Rev. Randolph Claiborne.

Ushers were Robert Jones Jr., Ervine Godfrey Trammell, of Covington; George S. Roach, of Oxford, and Robert Turnell, of Madison.

Bridesmaids included Misses Mary Palmer, of Jasper, Ala.; Miss Anice Wismer, of Madison; Miss Anne Suttles, of Atlanta, and Miss Hattie Mina Reid, of Madison. They were gowned alike in bouffant models of Romance blue marquisette fashioned with V necklines, puffed sleeves and saucy peplums. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of lavender lilacs, pink roses, blue delphiniums and yellow daisies encased in lace paper frills.

Miss Frances Godfrey Candler was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink marquisette gown fashioned like those worn by the bridesmaids, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white lilies, gardenias and valley lilies.

Caroline Hardee Teague, of Paducah, Ky., namesake of the bride, was junior maid of honor, and little Sarah Burney Turner and Louise Griffith, Anne Kirby, Mrs. Waide Durham, Mrs. B. H. McFarland, of California; Newell Burnett, LeRoy Polk, Eugene Lewis, Victor Maddox.

A white and green motif will feature the table arrangement in the dining room and spring flowers in the pastel shades will be used throughout the living room and reception hall.

Guests will include Rev. and Mrs. J. W. O. McKibben, Mr. and Mrs. John E. McKinley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McAfee Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cozart Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maddox, Misses Pauline Henkel, Juanita McAfee, Martha Griffith, Anne Kirby, Mrs. Waide Durham, Mrs. B. H. McFarland, of California; Newell Burnett, LeRoy Polk, Eugene Lewis, Victor Maddox.

Benefit Party Committees Announced by Rabun Club

Plans are being completed for the annual benefit bridge party to be given by the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Club at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of April 12 at the Piedmont Driving Club, and announcement is made today of the chairmen of this affair and their committees.

Mrs. Charles F. Whitner Jr. is general chairman of the bridge party, and her co-chairmen are Mrs. Richard Denny, president of the club, and Mrs. Russell Michael, first vice president.

Mrs. Russell Michael is chairman of the prize committee, with Miss Sue Brown Sterne, Mrs. Paul Bouziques and Mrs. Albert Alexander as co-chairmen. Others working on this committee are Mesdames John Candler II, William Fulghum, Hunter Bell, Fritz Orr, Joseph Hamilton and W. D. Taulman.

Mrs. Edgar Dunlap Jr. is chairman of wrapping of the prizes, and the marking and pricing of the prizes will be directed by Mrs. Edwin McCarty. Mrs. Robert Sams is in charge of tickets, and the distribution of tickets is directed by Mrs. Ralph Paris and Mrs. John S. Whitner.

Mrs. Ralph Williams is table chairman, with Mrs. Morris Brandon Jr. as co-chairman. In charge of candy will be Mrs. Frank Kelly, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Griffith and Mrs. George Adair Jr. Mrs. Joseph W. Westbrook is chairman of the prize books, and her committee includes Mesdames Barron Glenn, George Sherrill, John Morris, Edgar Dunlap Jr., Henry Miller, Fritz Orr, Charles Meriwether, Fred Bewick, Cleveland Willcox, Ralph Erwin and Paul Bouziques.

Mrs. Cecil Walkley, chairman of the store event, has on her committee Mesdames E. J. Archbold, James Milhous, Harry Boon, Roy Petty, W. O. Martin and R. C. Hunt. In charge of decorations is Mrs. John McClure, and her committee includes Mesdames Elliott Heath, Joseph Russell, W. B. Farnsworth and John O. Root. Mrs. John Morris is chairman of the boxes.

Mrs. Wright Bryan will be the announcer. Mrs. Cleveland Willcox will arrange for the microphone. Mrs. Stephen Barnett, Jr., is chairman of the letters of thanks committee, and Mrs. R. C. Hunt is in charge of publicity.

There will be 30 or more door prizes, as well as table prizes, and at the store will be sold many valuable and useful gifts.

Many prizes have been obtained by the committee in charge, and the entire membership of the club is working hard to make this its largest and most profitable party. The entire proceeds to benefit the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee School, one of the most north-while and deserving institutions in the south.

The public is invited to attend the bridge party, and those desiring tickets may secure them by phoning Mrs. Ralph Paris, CH. 6836, or Mrs. John Whitner, VE. 9866.

Half Pound Meat Serves 6

in this Macaroni Loaf!

A few minutes, and presto! This grand one-dish meal is ready to pop into the oven. Tempting flavors blend deliciously with tender, easily digested Mueller's Macaroni.

MUeller's FAMILY STYLE
1 pkg. Mueller's Macaroni
1 cup bread-crumbs
2 cups hot milk
4 tablespoons butter, melted
1 lb. chopped beef, cut small
8 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 cans concentrated tomato soup
Salt and pepper to taste
Dash of Cayenne (if desired)

Cook Mueller's Macaroni as directed. Combine bread-crumbs, milk, butter, beef and green pepper in mixing bowl. Line buttered baking dish with macaroni and pour in beef mixture. Bake in moderate oven 25 minutes—then place on hot platter. Heat tomato soup separately, season to taste, and serve as sauce. Serves 6.

Serve delicious meals and spare the budget—with Mueller's Macaroni. Mueller's uniformly thin walls insure quick, even cooking. An exclusive process removes excess moisture, so that it bakes up more and goes farther! ## Drill Team Cuts Birthday Cake.

The 60 members of the Georgia State Rainbow Girls' drill team made wishes before blowing out the two burning candles that topped a beautifully decorated cake, a birthday gift to the drill team from one of its members, Elizabeth Canady, at drill practice on March 27.

This drill team is composed of members of the various Rainbow assemblies throughout the city. In its two years of existence it has made history. After winning the competitive drill from the other Rainbow drill teams of the state last June, it received a commission declaring it the Rainbow drill team for the state of Georgia. Still another commission made it the official drill team for the city of Atlanta.

The American Legions presented each member of the team a life membership card to the Sunshiners' Club.

The officers of the team are: Miss Dorothy Daniel, secretary; Miss Nell Ruth Hilderbrand, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Canady, financial chairman; Miss Jeanne Theobaut, social chairman; Miss Anne Beaumont, publicity chairman, and Miss Madelyn Solomon, quartermaster. The sponsor of the team is Miss Gertrude Hanford; chaplain is Mrs. Mable Matthews.

Log Cabin Club Elects Officers.

The Log Cabin Garden Club met recently with Mrs. J. A. Camp and Mrs. P. M. Spear, at the home of the former. New officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. J. M. Marbut; vice president, Mrs. W. M. Neri; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Caldwell; recording secretary, Mrs. Furlow Smith, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. R. Sammons.

Several amendments to the by-laws were proposed, to be passed at the next meeting, and Miss Pearl Baker talked on wild flowers and presented pressed specimens from this vicinity.

Flower tournament points were won by Mesdames J. M. Marbut, L. L. Barnett and Miss Pearl Baker. Mrs. J. M. Marbut was awarded the silver loving cup presented annually by the club to the member winning most points in the flower tournament conducted each month. Mrs. Fincannon was welcomed as a guest.

GEORGIA REPORTS 19 PER CENT DROP IN TRAFFIC DEATHS

Records for February Show 48 Killed; Fulton Fatalities Total 11 Since First of Year.

Georgia's 48 traffic fatalities in February represented a 19 per cent reduction from February, 1939, when 59 persons were killed on the highways, Safety Commissioner Lon Sullivan reported yesterday. Fifty-one persons were killed during the same month of 1938.

The 17-pedestrian fatality total was the largest classification in the report. Other types of accidents were: Collision with railroad trains, 3; collision of two vehicles, 8; street car, 1; bicycle, 1; collision with fixed object, 2; ran off highway, 5; other non-collision, 11. Fulton county is responsible for 11 deaths since the beginning of the year, Sullivan said, stating speed too fast for conditions caused more than half of the deaths.

There have been waiting anxiously for this report, the commissioner said, "because only in January and July of last year did we fail to achieve a reduced monthly rate as compared to the previous year."

The National Safety Council at Chicago reported the national total of 2,170 highway deaths last month showed a 10 per cent increase over February, 1939.

CENSUS ELIGIBILITY BIRTH DEADLINE SET

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP) Babies born after midnight Sunday don't count—in the 1940 census, that is.

The Census Bureau fixed that deadline in an 11th-hour pronouncement today. Babies who fail to qualify will have to wait until 1950 to be counted in the population. The bureau estimates that 450 babies are born in the United States every hour.

KILLED BY CROSSIES. DELAND, Fla., March 28.—(UP)—

Ted Jones, about 23, Astor Park crossie worker, was killed instantly when the truck in which he was riding overturned and he was buried beneath a load of ties. State Patrolman Homer Klay reported.

'You Don't Need Culture, Chic,' Coroner-Aspirant Tells Voters

Special to THE CONSTITUTION. THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 28.—If Dick English is nominated for Thomas county coronor April 10, it'll not be because of cultural background, unusual intelligence or chic, he confesses.

"Since no one in the race has any of these qualifications," he declares in his campaign leaflet, "you may as well vote for Dick English. What can you lose?"

"You have had worse men for congressmen," he adds. English isn't taking his campaigning the hard way. He's taking it in his easy-going South Georgia stride, lazy-like and all in fun.

His philosophy: "With a smile in my glance, 'And a shine on my pants, 'With hope in my chest, 'And with egg on my vest— 'Elect a man that can take it." He hands you his platform straight from the shoulder, right down to the planks, moulding and nails:

FOUNDATION—Clean ax handles. PLANK 1—Union Labor: For union men, against labor. PLANK 2—New Deal: Any deal okay except from bottom. PLANK 3—State Politics: Am no beaver. Can't dam Rivers. Am no bull. Red suspenders don't excite me.

MOULDING—Will hold your mule, back your letters, nuss your babies (boy babies, under 2, if dry); girls babies up to 40 (wet or dry); help churn and gut chickens if am dinner guest. NAILS—All inquests will be admission free—and I promise I'll never call out the National Guard to help enforce my decisions when I say a stiff is dead.

RUTH DRAPER GIVES 'SKETCHES' TONIGHT

World-Famed Dramatic Star Will Appear at Erlanger.

Ruth Draper, world-famous dramatic star, will present her "Character Sketches" at 8 o'clock tonight and tomorrow night, and at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Erlanger theater.

Each performance by Miss Draper will be different. The artist returned recently from a world tour, where she gathered more material for her intimate personal sketches and presented her favorites to audiences around the globe. The trip included performances in Ceylon, Siam, Penang, Rome, London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Madrid and Rome.

Currently she is on an American tour, and included Atlanta because of the tremendous reception given her several years ago.

MARRIAGE IS HELD MATTER OF EFFORT

Girls Told Steady Co-Operation Is Needed.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 28.—(AP)—Georgia State College for Women students today heard that their success in marriage would depend upon their effort "after the wedding . . . after the honeymoon . . . after the honeymoon."

Mrs. Gladys Hoagland Groves, of the University of North Carolina, author of books on marriage and parent-child relationships, declared that "successful marriages do not just happen; they are made by the active efforts of both marriage partners."

She was principal speaker assigned to a new type of study for G. S. C. W., an experiment in an institute of personal relations launched today in response to requests from the girls for a regular college course in marriage.

Mrs. Groves recommended that the girls "make many friends, so that you will learn what other people are like, but especially so that you will develop your gift for liking people."

Burglar Has Yen For Indian Heads-- Ones on Pennies

There is a burglar in DeKalb county who has a propensity for Indian head pennies, according to two reports filed yesterday with county police.

J. W. Long, of the Stone Mountain road, told officers somebody had broken into his home and made off with a small bank containing 75 Indian head pennies, two Stone Mountain commemorative half dollars and another 50-cent piece dated 1817.

J. L. Westbrook, of Chamblee road, made an almost identical report. His home was ransacked, he said, but the only items missing were 100 Indian head pennies, a Stone Mountain half dollar and two old five-cent pieces.

Chief J. T. Dailey said he did not think there was any connection between the two thefts.

TRAIL'S END

Jim Disapproves of the Editorial Anne Writes Concerning the Sneve Killing

By William MacLeod Raine.

SYNOPSIS. When Carl Rogers, editor of the "Powder Horn Sentinel," is killed by an ambush in the land-grant feud by Russell Mosely's Hat T riders, Anne Eliot, of Milledgeville, Ohio, his niece, inherits the paper. As she steps from the stagecoach at Blanco, there is a pistol shot. Jim Silcott's hat is whisked from his red head, but the editor who succeeded Rogers, recovers it before running to a doorway. Buck Sneve, a Hat T rider, levels his gun again, but he drops dead as a door closes behind Silcott. The fatal gun play had followed Sneve's appearance in the Trail's End with Jud Prentiss, his foreman, and other Hat riders, Jud dragging Jesse Lamprey after him. Jud acquired Jesse of double-crossing Mosely in the feud. Jesse's younger brother, Phil, refused to leave without Jesse, and when Jud started to hit Phil, Silcott, waiting for a game of poker, asked if Mosely's orders included beating up the boy. Angriest, Jud warned Jim he was on dangerous ground, piled the quilt on Jesse until he fell writhing to the floor, and left with the Hat T men. It was then that they lay in wait for Jim. As Russell, Anne's boarding-house keeper, has Rufe Jelks take Anne to the "Sentinel" office, and his men shot up the place, but leave when Jim tells them Anne is his niece. She tells him he must go away, but he says he can't let Mosely drive him out and insists on going to the office. Sheriff Lawson threatens to arrest Jim, but Anne says she will defend herself and she will print posters telling the truth and cover up the lies with them. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XII. "Not till I've fixed that damn bully." After Phil had washed the dishes he tied a silk bandana round his neck. As he was knotting it, Jesse flung a sneer at him. "So you're going to make a play for Anne, don't fool yourself, kid. She won't go in for cradle snatching."

Phil flushed. He had always admired Anne tremendously, as a youngster does, older than himself, with no expectation of a reciprocal emotion. "I reckon you are right," the boy cut back. "She will have had enough of this family."

"Is that so?" The vanity of Jesse drove him to boast. "A lot of you something that would make your eyes pop out."

"You couldn't tell me anything about her that would show her anything but the finest girl I know," Phil retorted loyally. "She was always far too good for you, and she got a lucky break when you took up with that girl in the honky-tonk." Phil started for the door.

"Give her my love and tell her I'll be around one of these days," the older brother called after him. "I'd be ashamed to mention your name to her," Phil flung back.

The boy was not very sure how Anne would receive him. She might be done with the whole family. If she were cool to him he would not blame her.

He found her in the garden among Ma Russell's hollyhocks and as soon as she saw him she flung up a hand in greeting. Her warm and friendly voice relieved him immensely. It swept away the embarrassment he felt.

"I didn't know until an hour ago that you were here," he said. "Are you all settled? Is there anything I can do for you?"

"I can't think of anything, but if I do I'll call on you."

He thought that the years had made her more lovely. There had always been magic in her for him, but she had lost the lankness of her undeveloped teens and now carried her slender fullness with a poised resilience of muscles perfectly synchronized.

"I hear you are going to edit the 'Sentinel,'" he mentioned.

"I am going to try. It won't be easy on account of this land-grant feud. Everybody seems to be on one side or the other. I heard about some trouble you had with one of Mr. Mosely's foremen. You and Jess, too?"

Phil was glad she had mentioned his brother in a tone so matter of fact. They could hardly talk and leave his name out of the conversation without awkwardness.

"It was Jesse's trouble, not mine," Phil said.

"Is he on the Hat T side?" "Well, he was, at first. Russ Mosely employed him to do odd jobs for him. But Jess has been kinda swinging round lately. That's why the Hat T men beat him up."

"Have you made up your mind which side is right?" Anne asked.

"I don't know which side is right, legally," he hedged.

"But you know which side your sympathies are on."

"Yes, but I can't talk about it. I'd soon tell you. I'm for the small settlers who are fighting for their ranches against the Hat T."

She nodded. "So am I." She changed the subject. "Tell me about yourself. Phil, you and Jess have a ranch still, haven't you?"

How are you doing at it?" After the boy had gone Anne's mind reverted to her problem. Jim Silcott had made it very clear that if she opposed Russell Mosely she would have a very difficult time. He owned the bank and could cut off loans. The largest fight out of the feud was between the Hat T and the small settlers. The Hat T had been faced with a paper shortage. In a dozen different ways he had it in his power to inconvenience her and make life unpleasant.

Anne soon discovered that she liked working on a paper. Silcott had stayed on the job as her mentor. He taught her how to give a friendly, gossip tone to the Sentinel news and impressed on her that even trivial events were worth recording to build up interest and good will. She found herself setting down that Hilary Benson, champion horseshoe pitcher of the Powder Horn country, had been challenged by Pete Yeager and had successfully defended his title by winning three games out of five.

Bar Overstreet, she wrote, had brought in to the editor a basket of the largest potatoes ever grown in the county. Everybody was pleased to know that little Bobby Simpson had recovered from the measles and was back at school. Her advisor drilled into the young woman the importance of getting as many names into the columns of the "Sentinel" as possible.

She decided she should write the story of the Sneve killing and the subsequent attack on the "Sentinel" building, and took it to Silcott for criticism. After reading it, he slanted a warm friendly grin at her, white teeth flashing in the tanned face.

"My, my, lady, this won't do at all," he told her. "You've turned a news story into an editorial. Just tell what took place. Don't scold the Hat T boys. Be very brief and impartial. The only names you need to mention are Sneve's and mine. I think your story is much too indignant and much too long."

"But why?" Anne demanded hotly. "You had me write nearly half a column about the school entertainment. There isn't much more than that here. Or isn't murder big news here?"

Jim's eyebrows lifted whimsically. "Murder," he said. Then, "If this story had nothing to do with the 'Sentinel' I would say give it a big play. But it has everything to do with us. Folks will be expecting you to lambast the Hat T riders, and if you do they will discount all you say, figuring that you will be telling your side of the story. My idea would be to write a short impersonal account, giving nothing but facts. This would be a complete surprise. You would gain a lot of ground. Fair-minded people would see you are an editor not biased by your personal viewpoint."

"They would think I was afraid to tell what I thought."

"Not if your policy about local issues is firm. It doesn't matter what you think about this killing. All that matters in a news story is just what happened."

He glanced through what she had written. "You say here, 'Jud Prentiss and his ruffians rode into Blanco with lawlessness and murder in their hearts.' We don't know that. Anyhow, it's only an opinion."

"I suppose it's only an opinion that they flogged Jess Lamprey and tried to kill you and came down here and shot into this building with me in it."

"Let me write the story," he suggested. "You don't have to use it. But it will give you a line on what I mean. It's important folks should not think you are just an impulsive girl." Again he gave her his cheerful smile. "We're going to show them a real editor."

Anne surrendered reluctantly. She liked what she had written, as most young writers do. But her judgment told her Jim was right.

She ran the story exactly as Silcott wrote it, though she found a good deal of fault with what it left out. "You don't even say they lay in wait to try to kill you," she complained. "You speak about an 'unfortunate shooting affray.' That's a nice way to talk about a bunch of murderers."

"Everybody in the county knows just what took place," Jim said. "We're not giving anybody information; we're just going on record as not leaning over backward to be more than fair."

"It's funny about you," Anne said, almost vindictively. "From all I can learn, you are as wild as young men come."

"Used to be," he corrected. "I'm a reformed character."

Later in the week Rufe Jelks drifted into the office, a copy of the "Sentinel" in his hand.

"I dropped in with a news item, Miss Eliot," he said. "That fine young character, Rufe Jelks, has bought the Longhorn corral from old man Monk. He has done paid a dollar down and will settle the balance at some future date unknown after the mazuma begins to roll in."

"Good for you, Rufe," Silcott said. "I didn't know you were a capitalist."

"I wasn't till this morning. I had a run of luck at the Jumbo playing roulette. Couldn't pick 'em wrong. When I walked out in the gray dawn there was $1,342 in my pocket."

Mr. Russ Mosely's dough packed away in my jeans. He won't like that when he finds it out. Since I'm figuring on settling down soon—I decided to be a responsible business man who would be a catch for some nice girl."

"So you bought the Longhorn." "I bought the Longhorn. And I want a nice little ad put in your paper, Miss Eliot, about how all the friends of Rufe Jelks will be greeted heartily when they come to my wagon yard."

"Newspaper advertising is the life of trade, Mr. Jelks," Anne said gravely.

"Sure enough? Well, trade is what I want. My crazy kid days are over."

"Mr. Silcott has reformed, too. I expect you'll both be pillars of the church soon."

"Jim, he needs a lot more reformation than I do," Rufe said. "Why, I just been reading in the 'Sentinel' how he got into an unfortunate shooting affair only this week. He's sure a wild coot."

PLOT TO MURDER WITNESS RING BARE BY O'DWYER

Syndicate Posts Bond So It Can Assassinate Man Who Saw 1937 Slaying; Plan Fails.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—A daring plan by which Brooklyn's notorious murder syndicate obtained freedom in bail a week ago for a witness to one of its 1937 slayings so that it might assassinate him was disclosed tonight by District Attorney William O'Dwyer.

The murderous plan of lip-sealing was frustrated, O'Dwyer said, only because the witness was gratefully picked up by police before an assassin assigned by the ring could try to kill him.

O'Dwyer disclosed the name of the eyewitness, but said the man had seen the killing of George Rudnick, an informer found in an automobile in Brooklyn three years ago with 57 stab wounds in his body.

The witness was termed by O'Dwyer as "the connecting link in a murder that makes possible the indictment of three men," whom he named as Harry (Harry) Malone, Harry (Pittsburgh Phil) Strauss and Frank (The Dasher) Abbadando.

O'Dwyer also disclosed that gunmen seeking to silence two important informers had planned to slay them in the hotel, away where they have been under intermittent questioning.

Late in the day, Abbadando, swaggingly defiant, and Max (The Jerk) Golob pleaded innocent to charges of first degree murder. They were accused of slaying John (Spider) Murtha, as he strolled down a Brooklyn street with his sweetheart, Florence Nesfield, in 1935.

Arraigned before County Judge John J. Fitzgerald, the two men shouted their pleas, with Abbadando declaring to the court, "Don't worry about me; I'll get my own counsel."

Dense Fog Forces Passenger Planes To Cancel Flights

One of the heaviest fogs in recent months blanketed Candler Field yesterday afternoon and last night and the resulting "black-out" forced the cancellation of virtually all scheduled plane flights.

Three Eastern Air Line ships used Chattanooga as a temporary transfer point, passengers for Atlanta completing their trips by train, and three west-bound Delta Air Lines planes were unable to take off. Several Delta flights into Atlanta also were cancelled, the planes being held in Birmingham.

SHELL IS PLANNING ADVERTISING DRIVE

Intensive Campaign Outlined at Banquet.

More than 200 wholesale and retail dealers of the Atlanta division of the Shell Oil Company gathered at a banquet last night to hear of an intensified advertising drive planned by T. E. Irvine, national advertising and sales promotion manager.

Mr. Irvine outlined a campaign which would emphasize more than ever before the part played by service stations in the gasoline sales and service, and which will make use of newspaper, billboard, magazine and radio advertising.

Other speakers at the banquet included J. M. Parks, division sales manager; D. E. Layvin, division manager, and Sid Gordon, retail merchandising manager.

Their Roaming Ends

HOMECOMING Welcome home. Sumner Welles, the President's wandering envoy to the capitals of Europe, is back on good old American soil again. On reaching Washington, he drove straight to the State Department. With him are Mrs. Welles and faithful Toby, who also went along. (Story on Page 1)

PICKETRESS Kathryn Lewis, daughter and secretary of CIO's John L., grabbed a sign and joined the picket line in front of a Washington restaurant during the noon rush hour yesterday.

M-M-M-M! Yes, sir, they mean that. Who're they? Why, "Rip" Russell, of the Chicago Cubs, and his comely bride, the former Lois Gladys Chamberlain. They wedded in California.

SMACK! Or how to mend a marital mistake. Funny-man Billy House bestows nuptial kiss on his new wife and his old one (they're the same). Divorce refusing to jell, the two remarried in Vermont.

ROYALTY Yesterday's king and today's queen. Art Nehf, who once towered in the baseball world, is sire of a modern monarch, and does he relish it! Daughter Betsy rules Phoenix's Fiesta del Sol.

PENSIVE To run, or not to run? Yes, that's the question confronting Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson—uh, huh, that's "Ma"—who's governed Texas twice already. She's reading postcards and letters from Texans who want her to seek a third term.

WELCOME! Distinguished Hjalmar Procope, Finland's minister to Uncle Sam, greeted his fiancée, Margaret Shaw, a Britisher, thusly as she disembarked in the Land of the Free. This international romance began in London two years ago.

NOT NAPPING At a tender age—he was born February 16—this mite learned you've got to keep your eyes open if you're one of Europe's ruling classes. He's son of Denmark's Prince Knud. Princess Elisabeth, his sister, looks on speculatively.

"It's a puzzle to me!" the expression of Miss Elise Dowis seems to be saying about this April fool dish which she ran across just in advance of April 1. Is it fish or fowl, first course or last, the question mark questions. Have fun with it and other such products of your imagination, when the day of foolishness dawns. Directions for making it are in accompanying story.

Pork steaks may be prepared in a number of ways.

Flavor of Pork Steaks Enhances Many Dishes

While there still is time for dishes that are at their delicious best in cool weather, let us enjoy once again a main dish of fresh pork. This time suppose we choose tender pork steaks? Pork prices have been very low all winter and an abundance of fine-flavored pork at small cost is yet available. Pork steaks are cut from pork shoulder, and contain a good proportion of lean meat. They may be cooked with vegetables, rolled with dressing inside, or braised as you would cook pork chops. Here are some suggestions for preparing pork steaks for week-end meals.

Braised Pork Steaks.

Have pork steaks cut one-inch thick. Dredge with flour and brown on both sides in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add one-fourth cup water, cover tightly and cook slowly until done, approximately one hour.

Pork Steaks With Sweet Potatoes.

Pare and slice sweet potatoes and arrange them in a greased

Pork Steaks With Jelly, Apple Sauce.

2 pounds pork shoulder steaks
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons shortening
Salt and pepper.
3 large apples
1-2 glass grape jelly

Dredge pork steaks in flour and brown in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add one-fourth cup water, cover tightly and cook very slowly until done, about 45 minutes to an hour. Peel and core apples and cut into quarters. Dissolve grape jelly in three-fourths cup boiling water, add the apples and cook until tender. Serve apple quarters around the steaks.

Pork Steaks With Dressing.

Have pork steaks cut one-half

Ancient Bread.

In the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York city, you will find a basket containing the oldest bread in the world. This basket of bread was discovered in the tomb of an Egyptian woman by the name of Ra-Mose and her husband, Hat-Nufer, who lived about 3,500 years ago. This ancient bread is well preserved today. One loaf has a hard, glossy crust. Another seems to be a kind of fruitcake which may have been in the wedding cake of this married pair. According to the religious beliefs of ancient Egypt, the soul after death required nourishment, just as in life. Thus, bread was often placed in the tombs.

Good Food and Good Humor Add Up to Good Digestion

For April Fool foolishness serve your dinner backwards! Begin with this dish that looks like a pudding or deep pan pie, and the family or guests can't quite tell what it is. Actually it is a main dish made of cheese, eggs, milk and bread. But it's a puzzler, which will be delightfully puzzling if you cut one slice of bread for the center, in the form of a question mark. Finish the meal with a gelatine dessert set in soup plates or served in bouillon cups with cookies on the side instead of crackers. Add any other foolish ideas that pop into your head and make All Fools' Day a riot of fun. There's nothing like good fun and laughter, whether it makes sense or not, for smoothing out difficulties and soothing modern nerves. Fun and the consequent relaxation increases the flow of gastric juices and improves digestion. So let's don't forget that important ingredient, FUN.

We'll call the April Fool dish mystery pie and here's how to make it:

Mystery Pie

7 slices bread; 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; 1-2 pound soft American cheese; 2 eggs; 1 3-4 cups milk; 1 chopped pimiento; 1-2 teaspoon salt; 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Leave the crusts on the bread, and spread each slice with butter. Cut a pie-shaped piece from the middle of 6 slices, using the rounded top crust as the widest section. Reserve these pieces for the crust. Fit remaining pieces into the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish. Cover with cheese cut in small cubes. Beat eggs slightly and combine with remaining ingredients. Pour over bread and cheese. Top with the pie-shaped pieces of bread, fitted into place. With small scissors cut a question mark from the seventh slice of bread and place on top in the center. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 40 minutes. Should be golden brown on top. Serves six.

To make a salad like the picture, arrange crisp leaves of lettuce or romaine, together with watercress, at back of salad or chop plate. Arrange slices of orange and mounds of pecan meats toward front. Sweet French dressing is served with it, made with: 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup salad oil, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1-2 cup red jelly or honey. Shake well before serving.

You're Asking Me

Question: Will you please tell me how to make a buttermilk custard?

Answer: I am pleased to print a recipe for buttermilk custard:

Buttermilk Custard

1 cup sugar
1-2 cup flour
Few grains of salt
1-2 cup water
2 cups buttermilk
4 eggs
2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix sugar, flour, salt and water in double boiler. Add buttermilk gradually and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Beat eggs slightly, add a little of the hot mixture, mix well and return to double boiler. Cook for about a minute longer, stirring constantly. Add butter and lemon juice and cool. Serves 6.

Question: Will you please give me a recipe for making mayonnaise?

Answer: Put the yolk of 1 egg in a shallow bowl or soup plate and beat into it with a fork, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard, a few grains of cayenne pepper, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Then a few drops at a time 2 tablespoons of salad oil, beating constantly. After this amount of oil has been added, pour in a thin stream, still beating constantly, 2-3 cup more of oil. As it thickens, thin it with a teaspoon of lemon juice or vinegar. Constant beating is necessary to bring about a smooth blending of oil and vinegar and adding lemon juice in the beginning usually prevents separation. If the oil is added too rapidly, however, the mayonnaise is likely to separate. If this happens, add a few drops of hot water and beat until smooth.

Question: How do you make Melba toast; should fresh bread be used?

Answer: To make Melba toast cut stale bread into the thinnest possible slices, almost wafer-like. Lay on a pan or rack in moderately slow oven and dry out until the bread is a golden brown. To keep crisp it should be kept in an air-tight container.

Question: Please give recipe for filling for butterscotch pie.

Butterscotch Pie Filling
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 cup boiling water
1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Prize Winning Recipes For This Week

Grandma's Pound Cake.

Submitted by Mrs. H. B. Carruth, R. F. D. 4, Marietta, Ga.

1 pound sugar (2 cups)
1 pound butter (2 cups)
1 pound flour (4 cups)
1 pound eggs (10)

Beat eggs separately. Cream butter and add sugar gradually, creaming well together. Add egg yolks and mix well. Add egg whites alternately with flour. Long beating of air into this mixture is the success of this cake. Bake in loaf pans, placed in cool oven and gradually bring heat to moderate, 350.

Lima Beans in Tomato Sauce.

Submitted by Mrs. Jimmie Shaw, Pendergrass, Ga.

2 cups dried lima beans
2 quarts water
2 cups canned tomatoes
1-2 pound sliced bacon
1 large onion, chopped
2 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper

Wash beans and soak overnight. Cook in 2 quarts water, salted, until tender and drain. Fry bacon crisp, drain and keep warm. Brown onion in bacon fat, stir in

1-8 teaspoon salt
1-2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Place dry granulated sugar in a heavy skillet and caramelize by stirring over a gentle heat until it melts and becomes golden brown. Pour in the boiling water and simmer until the caramelized sugar melts, then add the brown sugar and thicken with the cornstarch which has been moistened with a little cold water. Add salt and butter and while still hot pour over the yolks of eggs which have been beaten well. Cool slightly, add vanilla and turn into a baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue and bake 10 or 15 minutes in a moderately slow oven.

A Cook's Notebook

To keep bread and cake boxes sweet and clean, wipe the inside with a cloth wrung out in vinegar and water, then dry thoroughly with a clean towel. Do this once a week and each day check over the contents of the bread box and remove stale pieces. Dry these and grind them for bread crumbs.

To make an unusually well flavored chicken or veal shortcake, mix 1-2 teaspoon powdered sage with the flour for the shortcake and bake as usual. Pour the hot chicken or veal mixture over the hot, split shortcakes.

Pitted dates may be quickly and easily sliced by using a knife dipped in cold water, or by rinsing the dates quickly in cold water before slicing them. Sliced dates are a fine addition to hot breakfast cereal as well as to many fruit salads.

When making lemonade, ice tea or any other beverage requiring sugar for sweetening, dissolve the sugar in a little hot water instead of stirring it into the cold beverage. It will dissolve much more readily and produce a better flavor. An ice cube or two will quickly cool the sugar syrup.

Serve jellied apple sauce occasionally with roast duck—dissolve a package of lemon-flavored gelatin in one cup of hot water and then stir it into three cups thick canned or freshly made apple sauce. Or use hot cider instead of water with the gelatin. Pour into small molds or into a fairly shallow pan and cut in squares or into small rounds for serving. Garnish each portion with a slice of apple cooked in red cinnamon syrup.

Oriental Peppered Steak

This is a very delicious dish and is easy to prepare. Take a good steak, cut it into small pieces about one-half inch square.

Mix this seasoning separately: Two tablespoons of Chinese sauce, one teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, one-half small onion well chopped. If you wish, add a little garlic, crushed. After this is mixed together thoroughly, put over the meat and stir together. Heat frying pan with two tablespoons of peanut oil. When hot, put in the meat and cook about three minutes, stirring constantly. If desired you can add a green pepper cut fine and cook another minute or two.

Serve while hot with rice and tea.

If you are using a recipe that calls for sour milk and none is at hand, put 1 1-2 teaspoons lemon juice in a measuring cup, fill up the cup with milk and let it stand for 15 to 30 minutes. Use as you would naturally sour milk—results exactly the same.

Brush the lower crust for custard pie with slightly beaten egg white before pouring in the filling. The egg white forms a coating over the crust that prevents the filling from soaking in and producing a soggy texture.

To prevent fat, link sausage from bursting when frying them, put them in a cold frying pan and pour two tablespoons water in the pan. As the sausages cook, the water will evaporate, and the sausages will brown as usual.

Wash parsley, cut off excess stems, shake the leaves to remove excess moisture, then place in a glass jar and cover closely. Prepared in this way, parsley will keep fresh and green for several days.

When making escalloped potatoes much time will be saved if the potatoes are sliced and boiled for 3 to 5 minutes first. The flavor is also better, many people think. If the potatoes are cut very thin the 3-minute boiling is enough; allow the longer period for slightly thicker slices. Drain and arrange in layers in a buttered baking dish, sprinkling each layer with a little flour, salt and pepper and thin slices of onion, and dotting with small bits of butter. Add milk to just show through the potatoes, and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for 45 minutes to 1 hour. Without the parboiling about 1 1-2 hours' cooking is necessary for a dish using three layers of potatoes.

Cabbage Stuffed With Sausage and Apple.

Trim a medium sized firm head of cabbage, cut off the stem, and scoop out the cabbage to form a bowl with an inch thick rim. Mix 1 pound sausage meat with 3 cups coarsely chopped raw apples, 1 cup soft bread crumbs and 1 well-beaten egg. Mix thoroughly and fill the cabbage in a deep casserole surrounded with the cabbage taken from the center and chopped fine. Pour 1-2 cup water over this chopped cabbage and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover the casserole and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—until very tender or for about 2 1-2 hours. Lift the cabbage carefully to a hot platter, surround with the chopped cabbage and serve with a sauce made from the juice in the baking dish flavored with a little tomato catsup, and thickened slightly with flour. If there is an excess of fat in the juice, skim it off before thickening.

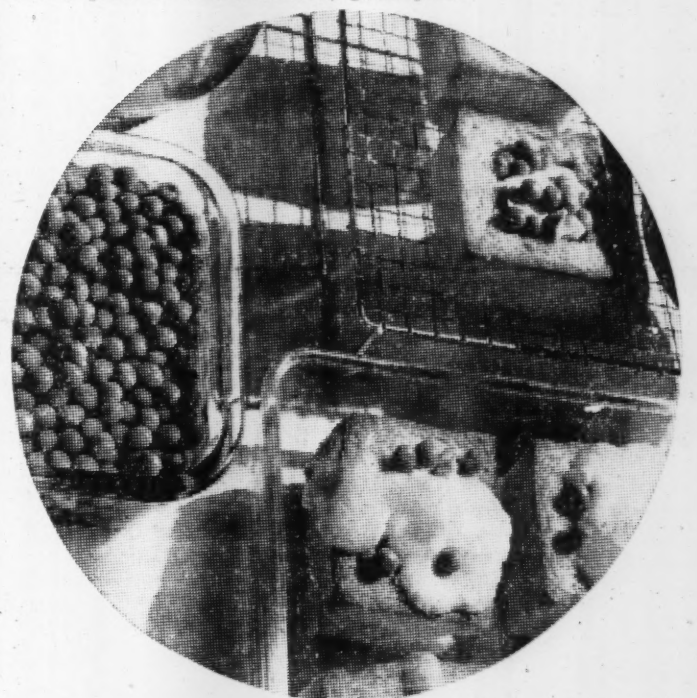

For birthday party favors dip marshmallows in hot water, then quickly roll sides and top in crushed coconut or finely chopped nuts, or crushed nut brittle. Stick a birthday candle in the center of each marshmallow and place the marshmallow on a tiny lace paper doily. The coconut may be tinted a pastel color with food coloring to carry out a favorite color scheme.

Eggs in Croustades

Prepare desired number of croustade cases (pronounced croustod) by cutting bread in 1 1-2 inch slices, removing crusts and cutting in rectangles or squares.

With sharp point of knife remove part of center to make a shell-like case. Brush with melted butter and place in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 15 to 20 minutes until crisp and brown.

Fill each with slices of hard-cooked egg, cover with white sauce or cheese sauce and return to oven long enough to heat to serving temperature. Serve garnished with mounds of buttered green peas.

Devil's Food Cake---

Here is a good recipe for a favorite cake:

1-3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2-3 cup milk
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
11-2 cups flour
11-2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
11-2 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening, sugar and eggs together. Cook the milk and chocolate over a low fire, stirring until thick. Cool. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the milk and chocolate mixture to first mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly.

Melt marshmallows over hot water. Cook sugar and water together to 240 F. or to firm ball stage. Pour syrup over the stiffly beaten egg white. Add marshmallows and beat until smooth and thick enough to spread. Add vanilla and salt.

Orange Cream.

Submitted by Mrs. L. A. Stevens, 1206 Boulevard, N. E., Atlanta.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
1-4 cup cold water
1-2 cup boiling water
1-2 cup granulated sugar
3-4 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Few grains salt

2-3 cup heavy cream, whipped
Sprinkle gelatin on the cold water, let stand five minutes. Dissolve in the boiling water, stirring well. Add sugar, orange juice, lemon juice and salt. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in whipped cream and pour into one large mold or individual molds. Chill. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Serves 4.

Sunday Night Salad.

Submitted by Mrs. F. H. Webb, Leary, Ga.

Have all ingredients well chilled:
1 can green peas
1 cup sweet mixed pickles, chopped fine
1 cup cheese, cubed small
1-2 can pimientos

Drain peas, add pickles, cheese and pimientos. Blend together with mayonnaise and season with salt and pepper. Serve in lettuce cups.

Yellow Jonquil Cake

Submitted by Ann G. Turner, 30 Terrace drive, N. E., Atlanta.

Sift and measure 3 cups flour. Sift in 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Cream 1 cup butter and 1 cup sugar. Add 5 egg yolks, and beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with 3-4 cup of milk. Beat until smooth. Bake in 350 degree oven about 30 minutes. Frost with any icing desired.

EX-RED DOZENBERG DRAWS YEAR, DAY

Makes Plea to 'Take My Place as Loyal and Patriotic Citizen.'

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—Nicholas Dozenberg, one-time Soviet army intelligence agent, was sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison today on his guilty plea some weeks ago to an indictment charging use of two passports obtained by fraudulent statements.

Federal Judge Samuel Mandelbaum rejected the recommendation of United States Attorney John T. Cahill that Dozenberg be sentenced to two and one-half years, after Dozenberg personally made a plea for the opportunity to "take my place in American society as a loyal and patriotic American citizen."

Dozenberg's lawyer expressed amazement at Cahill's recommendation, since the federal prosecutor had pointed out that Dozenberg co-operated with the government, especially as a key witness against Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party and secretary of the United States.

Browder was convicted of passport fraud charges and sentenced to serve four years in prison.

16 COLUMNS DEVOTED TO LAUDING SOLO
 WASHINGTON, March 28.—(P)—Sixteen columns of the Congressional Record were used by Representative Johnson, Democrat, Oklahoma, today to applaud the "services" of Representative Green, Democrat, Florida.

The Oklahoma man inserted the statement in the record by unanimous consent of the house. Green is a candidate for re-nomination.

POPE GREETS 600 COUPLES

JAPANESE 'EXPLAIN' ACTIONS ON ISLANDS

TOKYO, March 28.—(P)—Rear Admiral Shozaburo Kanazawa, naval spokesman, said today that Japanese steps taken in the Pacific mandate islands were for "purely commercial purposes."

His comment was provoked by Washington speculation over Japanese activity in the islands, a total of 623 in three groups, taken from Germany during the World War.

Japan was disclosed in Washington last week to have omitted all reference to whether she was fortifying the islands from her 1938 report to the League of Nations on administration of the mandates.

In the preceding year's report she said categorically they were not being fortified. She is pledged by treaties with the United States and other western powers not to fortify them.

EXTRA SESSION SET FOR DEKALB COURT

Judge Davis Orders Civil Term April 29.

Judge James C. Davis, of the Stone Mountain circuit, yesterday morning ordered a special session of the DeKalb county superior court civil branch to convene April 29.

Slow progress of the regular March term made the special session necessary, Judge Davis said in issuing the order. With a calendar of 65 cases at that time, but three were tried, one of which was declared a mistrial.

"Progress, he said, was hindered when the few cases were drawn out over the entire week of the March term. After the special session, the next regular session will be June 3.

MAN OBEYS IMPULSE; ORDERED TO PAY $35
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 28.—(P)—John McKay obeyed "that impulse" and it cost him $35.

McKay awaited his turn at a phone booth while a conversation went on and on. Finally he stepped up and let the glass door have it with his fist. The caller left a long-distance conversation dangling and departed. The court said $25 for disorderly conduct; $10 for property damage.

AUGUSTA OFFICER IS HELD IN SLAYING

Jefferson Man's Death Investigated by Coroner's Jury.

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
LOUISVILLE, Ga., March 28.—A Jefferson county coroner's jury, investigating the early morning fatal shooting of W. L. Beckum, 38-year-old automobile company employee, recommended this afternoon that Wade Holley, Augusta policeman, be held for murder.

Coroner Craig Carswell said the jury found Beckum "came to his death by shotgun wounds." Holley, already held in jail here, made no comment on the verdict. The case will come before superior court in May.

Sheriff James Hubbard said Beckum was shot to death after "an argument arose over fixing a tire." Holley, he said, "apparently just started shooting. He was drinking. He shot three times at Beckum and killed him with one of the shots."

Holley was not on duty at the time, Sheriff Hubbard said after notifying Police Chief C. J. Wilson, of Augusta, of the shooting.

Rites for Beckum, who is survived by his wife, two small children, his mother, two sisters and five brothers, will be held Friday, with burial in Oak Grove church cemetery, near here.

Same Girls Sing On Same Night In Different Cities

VALDOSTA, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Two performances in one evening is a schedule to daunt any trouper, but when a group of college girls can perform not only twice in the same evening, but in different cities the most experienced of barnstormers might well wince with shame.

At almost the last minute, recently, the G. S. W. C. serenaders, members of the Glee Club of the Georgia State Woman's College here, discovered they had been booked to sing at a district meeting of Kiwanis clubs in Moultrie and at a formal dinner of the Wymodausis Club in Valdosta at the same time.

Refusing to break either appointment, the college girls sang in Valdosta for the clubwomen, then were rushed by waiting Kiwanians to the 50-mile-distant city of Moultrie for their second performance.

There was nothing to mar either engagement.

GANNETT FEARS U. S. APPROACHING WAR

'Public Lulled to Sleep on Issue,' Candidate Declares.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(P)—Frank Gannett, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, declared today that he feared "in spite of all that is said to the contrary, the United States is driving steadily toward eventual participation in the war."

"Unfortunately," he told the Women's National Republican Club in a prepared address, "the public has been lulled to sleep on this issue."

"We must wake up America and keep alive our opposition to any idea of going to war," he said. "Clever propaganda is being spread over the country that the Allies are losing the fight."

Gannett added that as a matter of fact he doubted that that is the case.

"But when the war becomes more intense in the spring," Gannett said, "it is conceivable that a situation will develop where victory by one of the dictators may seem likely."

"Then, up and down this land, they will beat the tom-toms to arouse our emotions and make the people believe that we must go to war to avert domination by some foreign government. Some are already urging that alarming course."

TWO ARMY CHIEFS END BENNING VISITS

Kingman and Lynch Complete Work at Post.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION, COLUMBUS, Ga., March 28.—Brigadier General John J. Kingman, assistant chief of engineers, left Fort Benning yesterday for Washington after a five-day visit to the infantry school. He inspected engineer facilities at Fort Benning and conferred with officers during his stay.

Major General George A. Lynch, chief of infantry, also left after spending 25 days at the post. A great part of General Lynch's stay was spent in testing and revising the infantry field manual. He worked with members of the infantry board and practical tests were conducted by the board with units of the 29th Infantry.

General Lynch also observed the activities of the infantry rifle team, which will soon begin preparatory training for the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

FOREST PARK FUNDS GO TO 667 COUNTIES

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(P)—The Forest Service announced today it had started distributing $1,192,369.57, representing 25 per cent of the gross receipts for operation of the 196 national forests and purchase units in fiscal 1939, among 667 counties in 39 states, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

In Georgia, the payments amounted to $7,587.01, representing 25 per cent of the receipts from one national forest.

CHARLES A. MILLS VISITS HERE TODAY

Military Order Commander To Review Cadets.

Charles A. Mills, national commander-in-chief of the Military Order of the World War, will review the battalion of Georgia Military Academy at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Mills is a former lieutenant commander of the navy.

Mills' program, in addition to the review, includes an informal luncheon, a visit to the veterans' hospital, and a dinner in his honor at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Athletic Club. He is due to arrive in Atlanta at noon today.

4,000,000 BIBLES GIVEN TO CHINESE

SHANGHAI, March 28.—(P)—Despite the war, almost 4,000,000 copies of the Bible were distributed throughout China last year by American and British Bible societies, their local offices reported today.

GEORGIA BURIAL SET FOR ARMY OFFICER

MADISON, Wis., March 28.—(P)—Services were held in St. Andrew's Episcopal church here today for Lieutenant Colonel Louis A. Falligant, 52, a native of Savannah, Ga., who died Tuesday. The body was to be taken to Savannah, where it was due to arrive Saturday morning.

Colonel Falligant, once stationed at Fort Benning (Ga.) infantry school, and formerly assigned to the eighth infantry brigade at Fort McPherson, Ga., and the organized reserve at Albany, was a member of the University of Wisconsin reserve officers' training corps at his death. He was ill only a short time.

Survivors include his wife, three sons and two daughters.

HUNDREDS ATTEND LAST GARDEN CLASS

Constitution School Audience Told How to Win Ribbons.

More than 500 gardeners, despite rainy weather, attended the final session of The Constitution's annual Spring Garden school at the Atlanta Woman's Club yesterday.

Climaxing the three-day lecture series, attended by thousands of flower fanciers, Mrs. Fletcher Pearson Crown gave the garden lovers a graphic outline of how to win ribbons in a flower show. Discussing the four phases of a show, Mrs. Crown described the work of persons planning the exhibit, the points of display value considered by the jury, the way to prepare entries, and the points of view of the visitor to the show.

Besides the added features of the school the merchants' displays, the prizes donated by merchants, and the question-and-answer session conducted by Mrs. Crown, there was a technicolor movie depicting beautiful flower arrangements, illustrating Mrs. Crown's descriptions.

Monotony in exhibits is avoided by the use of contrasting colors, Mrs. Crown said. Contrast in colors makes for more brilliance than an arrangement of all bright colors, she added, saying original displays must not show a tendency toward queerness or oddness, for these traits automatically eliminate displays in shows.

Distinction in a flower show may be obtained through good horticulture as well as through artistic arrangement, and a natural talent for arranging symmetrical and artistic displays must be supplemented by a study of the principles of design, background, and colors, the speaker continued.

The grand prize of $25 for the largest proportional attendance at the garden school was won by the garden division of the East Point Woman's Club. The daily prize of $15 yesterday was won by the garden division of the Grant Park Woman's Club.

COUNTING NAVAJOS IS TOUGH CENSUS JOB

HOLBROOK, Ariz., March 28.—(P)—Trappers, trappers and missionaries will carry census equipment along with census supplies to count some 45,000 noses on the 50,000 square miles of the Navajo Indian reservation.

The region, extending into New Mexico and Utah, is the largest and most primitive to be covered by Uncle Sam's enumerators, says Byron F. Hunter, district census supervisor. "Most enumerators are assigned an area of a few city blocks," Hunter added, "but in southern Utah we have one district 135 miles long."

Students To Give Best Numbers At Fifth District Festival Today

Rehearsals for Greater Atlanta Event Will Open This Afternoon.

By FRANK DRAKE.
High school bands, orchestras and choruses will play and sing their best numbers today at Russell High school in East Point as they strive to win top ratings in the Fifth District Musical Festival.

Forty instrumental soloists, 15 small instrumental ensembles, 25 vocal soloists, and 12 vocal ensembles performed yesterday as the festival began its three-day program.

Elementary school children will perform tomorrow as the festival ends.

Today will mark the first rehearsal of the big chorus of 3,000 voices which will sing in the Greater Atlanta Musical Festival to be given early in May at Grant Field under the sponsorship of The Constitution.

Rehearsal Important.
Singers, bandmen and members of the orchestras will assemble in the Russell High auditorium at 1 o'clock this afternoon for the first practice session with Miss Anne Grace O'Callaghan, high school music supervisor, who is chairman of a committee in charge of the assembling and training of the giant chorus.

Haskell Boyer, chairman of the Fifth District Music Festival, yesterday requested members of glee clubs and choruses to make a special point of attending the first chorus rehearsal, as plans for the next month will be made then.

The sounds of trumpets, bass horns, drums, trombones, saxophones, alto, tenors, baritone and basses mingled on the campus of Russell High all day yesterday.

In the auditorium, E. J. Gattwood, of Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., was judging vocalists, while in the gymnasium, James C. Harper, of Lenoir, N. C., was rating soloists and ensembles of instruments. Wendell Keeney, of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., judged pianists.

Schools Entered.
Ratings awarded performers by these judges will be published in The Constitution Sunday morning.

Among the schools entering bands or orchestras in the program today are: Druid Hills High, Russell High, J. C. Murphy Junior High, O'Keefe Junior High, Tech High, Atlanta and Decatur Boys' and Girls' Highs, Bass Junior High, Joe Brown Junior High, Commercial High, Chamblee and G. M. A. The following schools will be represented by glee clubs and choruses: Druid Hills, Atlanta and Decatur Boys' and Girls' Highs, Bass Junior High, Tucker High, North Fulton High, Murphy Junior High, Hoke Smith Junior High, Joe Brown Junior High, Commercial High and Chamblee.

PALMER DESCRIBES WORK OF SWEEPERS

British Fishing Trawler Crews Become Familiar With Mine Hunting.

By COL. FREDERICK PALMER.
For North American Newspaper Alliance.
AT A BRITISH EAST COAST PORT, March 28.—(By Cable)—"Out sweep!" With this command from the bridge of the flagship of the flotilla of fishing trawlers, which have been converted into minesweepers, began two days' work of clearing the lanes for convoys in the North sea. Winches rattled, spinning out coils of wire to which torpedo-shaped floats were attached.

The floats spread farther and farther out in an angle from the line of the ship's sterns. All this was done in the routine with which fishermen have become as familiar in seven months of war practice as housewives are with using a vacuum cleaner.

Presence Unusual.
An unusual—a very unusual—feature aboard was her correspondent, who had nothing to do except look on and take care of his landlubber's footing and get a firm hold in climbing the steps to the bridge, which became perpendicular whenever the responsive small craft slanted abruptly introductory to a continuing cork-screw motion.

We set out searching for moored mines, which require a different method of procedure than the magnetic mine. A simple apparatus holds the wire deep enough under the trawler engines to pull and intercept the line which anchors the mine to the sea bottom. The trawlers maintain an even pace and distances apart until they are assigned to a strip swept, or somebody shouts, "We got one."

Process Described.
But such an announcement is unnecessary when a contacted mine explodes. If it rises to the surface it is detonated by a rifle shot, or if it doesn't rise it is cut from its moorings and then detonated. All ships astern the trawler is swept clear, for a sweep forward might explode the mine dangerously near the spot over which a trawler might otherwise pass. In either case there is a great risk and in taking such a risk many trawlers have been victims of exploding mines.

The bridge is an excellent observation station for the present picture of the North sea. To starboard the English coast is appearing, disappearing and reappearing out of the mist and beyond that to the eastward stretches green water to the coast of Germany. We heard a burst of firing in the mist-hidden distance, but it was of brief duration. One could only suppose that some stray ship had been attacked and had responded with its anti-aircraft guns.

The skipper pointed out and explained the sights during our progress. "Here a German bomber sunk a lightship with a defenseless crew," he said. In its place was a much smaller target, with an automatic light and no crew. If that is sunk another is ready to take its place.

ARNALL TO SPUR DRIVE IN PAPERS
"Lion's Share" of Funds Will Buy Advertising.

The "lion's share" of his campaign funds this summer will go to Georgia newspapers for paid political advertising, Attorney General Ellis Arnall said yesterday.

Arnall, who announced on May 6, 1939, he would seek election as attorney general this year, wrote all Georgia newspaper editors saying he was "in hearty accord with the recent resolution adopted by the Georgia Press Association at Athens declaring free political campaign advertising."

One hundred and forty-five Georgia publishers have signed the resolution referred to by Arnall.

EXPERTS BELIEVE WAR WILL SPREAD

100-1 Chances Against Mediation, Veteran Diplomat Believes.

By COL. FREDERICK PALMER.
Released by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.

LONDON, March 28.—News of the Russo-Finnish peace concentrates expert military attention on the North sea, the English coast and the western front as the likely scene of future terrific action, which may include the Balkans, the Near East and Scandinavia.

Further diplomatic surprises, such as Moscow parleys and the visit to Rome of Germany's Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop may influence the final alignment of potential military forces in such an all-European struggle as the World War.

Speculation may also indulge in the possibility of a supreme surprise from the White House with President Roosevelt as mediator, as every day brings nearer the hour when the ears of any listener will be deafened by the crash of shells and bomb blasts.

F. D. R. Knows.
President Roosevelt need not wait until the return of Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles to ascertain the facts that his fact-finder found. These have been reported to the President at every stage of his tour from capital to capital. The time used in preparing memoranda for his chief prevented Welles from seeing more of representatives of the press and persons of importance, who wanted a few words with him.

Lloyd George, who has been associated with the advocacy of compromise terms has now had his say with Welles. In the present rivet-tight world diplomacy when the nations are fighting for their lives we not only do not know authentically what the leaders said to Welles or what he said to them.

An American of long diplomatic experience said to me today, "Mediation is psychologically impossible if for no other reason" and added should President Roosevelt consider a 1-to-100 chance of bringing the Germans and Allies around a conference table, and succeeded, he would be held responsible by all those dissatisfied with the terms resulting from the compromise.

Britain Determined.
All talks I have had with representative Britons revealed a further stiffening of a determination for war.

The German high command, if it practices the old precept that no position is impregnable, may attack on the western front at the same time making a flanking attempt through Holland.

The Allies this time will not be forced, as in the first three years of the World War, to resort to an offensive in order to divert pressure from a flagging Russia. They can wait for an advantage, counter-attack when blasts of defensive fire will halt the enemy.

GOLD MINE CITY BURNS.
MANILA, March 28.—(P)—Fire destroyed half the gold mining city of Paracale today, leaving 5,000 homeless and causing damage estimated at $500,000. There were no casualties.

GLENWOOD GROUP CAN USE CLUBHOUSE

Injunction Against Community Organization Is Ordered Dismissed.

Dismissal of an injunction against the Glenwood Community Club, restraining it from use of a clubhouse at Glenwood avenue and Candler road, was ordered yesterday morning by Judge James C. Davis, of the Stone Mountain circuit superior court.

The restraining order against the recently built clubhouse was entered December 13 by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson, residents of the Alexander Estates subdivision, who charged that deed restrictions prohibited use of the property as a clubhouse.

C. M. McMillan, Atlanta businessman and president of the Glenwood group, maintained the seller of the property released the lot from all restrictions and so noted in the deed.

Hearing on the injunction was held before Judge Davis March 9, but he withheld decision under advisement until yesterday.

MAKE THE CRUST THE SPRY WAY TO GET IT EXTRA TENDER AND FLAKY—SAYS AUNT JENNY

CARAMEL CUSTARD PIE

3 eggs and 2 egg yolks, or 4 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

2 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons caramelized sugar syrup
1 unbaked Spry Pie Shell

Combine eggs, sugar and salt. Add milk, vanilla and caramelized sugar syrup. Strain custard mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 35 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean. To make caramelized sugar syrup, place 1/2 cup granulated sugar in skillet and stir constantly over medium heat until sugar is melted and dark. Remove from heat, add 1/2 cup hot water gradually and stir until dissolved. Syrup can be kept on hand for future use.

SPRY PIE SHELL

1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift flour and salt together. Add 1/4 of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as meal. (So quickly done with triple-creamed Spry.) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of navy bean. Sprinkle water gradually over top of mixture. With a fork, work lightly into a dough. Roll dough 1/4-inch thick. Place dough in pan and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough. Trim pastry 1-inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. See note tender, flaky, delicate-tasting crust you get with pure Spry. Gives marvelous cakes and fried foods, too.

6,000,000 Persons Are Ill Every Day of Winter in U. S.

Survey Finds Average American Is Sick 10 Days Annually.

By THOMAS R. HENRY
For North American Newspaper Alliance.
WASHINGTON, March 29.—Approximately six million persons are too sick to work, go to school or attend household duties every winter day in the United States.

Such is the finding of the United States Public Health Service from a sample survey of 2,500,391 persons, constituting almost 4 per cent of the urban population of the nation.

The illnesses ranged from bad colds to permanently disabling chronic diseases. Altogether, it was found, nearly 18 per cent of the persons included in the survey—a total for the whole country of more than 23,000,000—had some sort of sickness or disability each day. In most cases they were able to keep up their customary activities. In the sample population were included groups from all parts of the United States.

The average person, it was found, loses 10 days a year from work or school because of sickness. Of the total 1 per cent were found to be unemployed in any way because of permanent illness or mutilation.

The respiratory diseases—colds, pneumonia, and influenza—were the chief maladies which kept persons from work for a week or more. Second in rank were the common communicable diseases of childhood. Out of each 1,000 children under 15 years of age, 214 were found to have had during the year sicknesses which kept them from school an average of about six days. From 15 to 24 were the healthiest years of life with only 131 persons per thousand sick enough to keep them confined for an average of five days.

From the 25th to the 64th year the frequency of illnesses increased only slightly to 153 cases per thousand, but the average length of disability increased to 10 days. After 65 the rate took a big jump to 179 per thousand and the average duration to 36 days. This included elderly persons who were disabled all the time.

Even more strikingly than in previous surveys, this one shows that the burden of illness falls far heavier on the poor than on any other class in society. The average frequency of illness, disabling for a week or more, was much higher in the relief and low-income groups than among those with incomes above $1,500. In terms of volume of disability the contrast was even greater. The excess over the highest income group—those receiving $5,000 or more a year—was 132 per cent.

"The change with income was most marked in the productive period of life," the report of the survey says. "Chronic illnesses showed the most striking differences between the low and high income groups, particularly hernia, tuberculosis, varicose veins, blindness and deafness. The unemployed workers had much higher illness rates than the employed. Between the ages of 15 and 64, 1.7 per cent of the employed were disabled on the day of the visit, as against 3.6 for the unemployed."

DONKEY BANK COUNT SET FOR TOMORROW

Women Democrats Plan
Financial Round-up for Party Chests.

Annual donkey-bank round-up of the women's division of Fulton county Democrats will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Dixie ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel, Mrs. William E. England, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, announced yesterday.

The emblematic donkey-banks are distributed among Democratic women as a catch-all for loose change during the year. A prize will be given for the bank containing the most money.

Half of the funds raised at the party will be forwarded to the national women's division of the Democratic party and the remainder kept here for the benefit of the county division. All Fulton county Democrats are invited to attend. Mrs. Max E. Land is chairman of the group.

TIFTON LIONS TO BACK JUNIOR POLICE UNIT

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
TIFTON, Ga., March 28.—The Tifton Lions' club has unanimously agreed, "both morally and financially," to sponsor organization of a junior police unit here.

The junior police group will be composed of high school boys, elected by the student body and approved by their superintendent. The boys will handle traffic near schools, maintain a safety patrol in the junior high and grammar school, form a junior safety council, and serve in any capacity requested by the city police department.

The boys will have all the authority granted a traffic policeman except the power of arrest.

CALIFORNIA AMAZED BY GEORGIA SCENES

Albany Setting for 'Biscuit Eater' Film Stirs Hollywood Interest.

ALBANY, Ga., March 28.—(P)—Blase California, which through motion pictures makes a business out of merchandising scenery to the American public, is waking up to the possibility of competition on the part of Georgia, it was revealed here today.

In a telegram from Hollywood, Jack Moss, producer of the Paramount production, "The Biscuit Eater," photographed here last fall, stated that since holding "sneak" previews to get audience reaction, he had been deluged with telephone calls, telegrams and letters asking where the beautiful scenery had been found.

To stop this, he is giving the following credit on each print of the picture: "Filmed at Albany, Georgia."

"Producers," his telegram to Albany stated, "have been calling me demanding to know where they could go to get such wonderful backgrounds. They thought I had found a new, undiscovered section of California. They were shocked and surprised when I told them the scenery was in Georgia, 2,500 miles away."

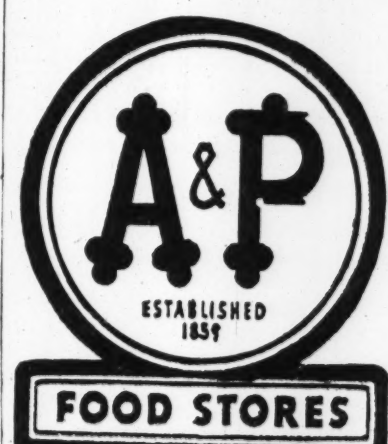

The picture will be given its world premiere in Albany April 11, being the chief attraction of the "Civic Pride and Progress" celebration of that day. Parades, a barbecue, a baseball game and a charity ball will mark Albany's recovery from the February tornado.

AUTOIST BREAKS POLE AND CARRIES IT AWAY

KANSAS CITY, March 28.—(P) Somebody phoned the power and light company that an auto had broken off a light standard at Sixth and Bank streets.

When repairmen arrived the standard was gone. Witnesses said the motorist loaded the pole, valued at $75, and a transformer valued at $50 into his car and drove off with them.

THREE STOCK SALES SLATED NEXT WEEK

Purebred Aberdeen-Angus and Herefords To Go on Auction Block.

Special to THE CONSTITUTION. ATHENS, Ga., March 28.—At least three sales of purebred cattle will be held in Georgia next week, two of them in Athens, Georgia Agricultural Extension Service officials have announced. The first consignment sale of the Georgia Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association will be held Monday in Hardman Hall on the University of Georgia campus here, with top animals from a number of Georgia herds assembled for auction.

More than 25 Aberdeen-Angus cattle will be sold at auction Tuesday in Statesboro, R. E. Davis, beef cattle specialist of the Extension Service, has announced. The sale will start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with 18 young bulls and eight females, consigned by members of the Virginia Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association, on the block.

Texas breeders will send polled Hereford bulls and heifers to the northeast Georgia Livestock Association sales barn here for an auction scheduled Thursday. D. I. Brannan, Clarke county agricultural agent, will be in charge.

CONVENTION HEADS WILL MEET TODAY

The board of directors of the Atlanta Convention and Visitors' Bureau will hold its quarterly meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Robert Fulton hotel. This is the first meeting under the new officers of the association who include Mike Benton, president; A. L. Zachry, vice president; J. C. Haynes, secretary; W. V. Crowley, treasurer, and Faber A. Bollinger, executive vice president. The directors are A. L. Belle Isle, Wiley L. Moore, John Candler, John A. White, Lambdin Kay, L. O. Moseley, Robert A. Clark, H. C. Carithers, J. D. Wilton, E. W. Gottenstrater, Troy Chastain, J. J. Doran, Richard H. Rich, Jackson P. Dick and Freeman Strickland.

NATION STILL BESET BY SNOW AND RAIN

Wear Road Crews Kept Busy Clearing Highways in North.

By The Associated Press. Snow and rain beset most of the nation east of the Rocky mountains yesterday. Snow fell extensively in North Dakota and Minnesota, where temperatures ranged upward from the low 20s, and soaking rains were general except in the lower plains states and in the middle Atlantic area.

Heaviest rainfall was in the southeast. Thunderstorm rumbled in the upper Mississippi valley. In Pennsylvania, New York and New England, road crews kept at the wearisome task of opening snow- and ice-clogged highways. Pennsylvania suffered latest in the winterlike assault of early spring, one of the heaviest snowfalls of the year piling up 13 inches in northern counties. In the Susquehanna river watershed the snow measured up to six inches. The storm was heaviest late Wednesday, and was followed by rain.

Temperatures from 12 to 18 were common in upper New England. In the southeast, a rising mercury was expected to accompany continued rains.

APPEARANCE IN COURT DELAYED BY CLEANER

BATON ROUGE, La., March 28. (P)—Wearing his freshly-pressed federal prison suit, 300-pound George Caldwell pleaded innocent today at his arraignment on state embezzlement charges. A federal prisoner, Caldwell's appearance scheduled yesterday in district court had to be postponed because his dark serge prison suit assigned the former Louisiana State University construction superintendent had been sent out to the cleaners. The warden at Atlanta, where Caldwell is serving a four-year term for mail fraud, has ordered his prisoners must wear the specially made prison garb when making court appearances.

NO SMOKING...
WHEN YOU FRY WITH SESSIONS PEANUT OIL
SESSIONS PEANUT OIL is refined by a special process that makes it possible to heat it to a much higher temperature than other fats and oils without smoking or scorching. You can even fry chicken and fish without smoking up your kitchen. Because of this higher temperature acceptance it fries quicker, browns evenly and helps you bring all your fried foods to that crisp and tender deliciousness that marks the good cook.
SESSIONS PEANUT OIL is odorless and tasteless and does not absorb food odors. For this reason it can be used over and over again for frying, cutting your grocery budget to a new low for cooking oil. Try this all-purpose oil for baking and salad-dressings, too. You'll find it can't be surpassed.
